PRESIDENT GETS HIS TAX PROBE FROM CONGRESS

W. Virginian Nearly Upsets Cart.

Won't Cut Relief

Senate subcommittee turns down plan to cut work relief appropriation below 1 billion, 500 million. But it does decide to make local sponsors of WPA projects put up 40 per cent of the cost or "take a pauper's oath." (Details on page 13.)

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—A resolution authorizing a spectacular investigation of the tax evasion problem was sent by congress to the White House today for President Roosevelt's signature.

But as Mr. Roosevelt's pen hovered over the document a well meaning West Virginia Democrat, Robert L. Ramsay by name, unwittingly threw the house leadership into consternation by proposing a simple solution which would obviate the necessity of an expensive inquiry.

Congressman Ramsay, a man of direct and straightforward nature, had studied the President's message concerning the schemes used by certain wealthy men to avoid part of their income tax payments. He apparently was unaware that the expressed desire of the administration was not for legislation at this session but for a widely publicized inquisition or "witch burning," as congressional wits have dubbed it.

Bill Short and to Point.

A veteran attorney and a member of the judiciary committee, Ramsay drew up a short and clearly worded bill which provided that jail sentences and a heavy fine should be assessed against any person using "any falsehood, willful neglect, fraud, covin, subterfuge, art, contrivance, or device whatsoever in order to avoid the payment of any tax." He dropped it into the hopper.

This caused acute embarrassment among the Democratic leaders. Especially annoyed was Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] of the ways and means committee, who told the house two days ago that his committee would by no means consider any legislation concerning the tax evasion problem until after the investigation.

Tackled by his reproachful colleagues for trying to throw a monkey wrench into the cogs of one of the juiciest probes of a decade, Ramsay, in some bewilderment, explained that he merely sought to fulfill the wishes of President Roosevelt and "answer the challenge of J. P. Morgan."

Answer to Morgan.

"Mr. Morgan said congress should pass laws to compel him and other wealthy men to pay to our government the amount of taxes assessed against them," he said. "This bill has been the answer of congress to that challenge. It will prevent in the future the avoidance of every species of tax by any scheme or subterfuge.

"There is no general statute for the punishment of such crimes. This bill should be passed. I cannot see how congress can longer avoid the challenge of Mr. Morgan."

His friends tried to convey to Congressman Ramsay delicately that what the administration needed at present was not a law but a big investigation to divert the nation's mind from the dismal state of government finances. The forthright Mr. Ramsay just couldn't see the point. His bill stayed in the hopper.

Morgan May Be Called.

Regardless of the annoying situation caused by Ramsay's bill, the leaders went ahead with plans for the inquiry. As soon as it receives the President's approval the speaker and the Vice President will appoint six members of the house and six members of the senate to conduct the investigation. Morgan, the du Ponts, and other popular subjects for congressional surgery probably will be among the first witnesses to be subpenaed.

The resolution providing for the quiz was given final congressional approval today when the senate concurred in house amendments which stripped the treasury of authority to hold public hearings.

Strike Army Marches in Michigan

AUTO FACTORIES CLOSED AS MEN INVADE MONROE

C. I. O. Line Routed; Plead for Troops.

Steel's Side of It

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Monroe, Mich., June 11 [Friday].—Opposing forces in the Newton Steel company strike, marked by serious violence yesterday, moved swiftly and dramatically this morning toward what seemed likely to be a historic showdown. These were rapid fire developments:

1. One thousand men in some 200 automobiles left Pontiac for this city as the vanguard of an army of 15,000 to 20,000 outside unionists expected to assemble here today to demonstrate in behalf of the Newton strikers and against the nonstrikers now working in the plant.

2. City officials strengthened the small regiment of citizens deputized as police who have thus far protected the nonstrikers and repulsed strike pickets.

Pleads Again for Troops.

3. Mayor Daniel A. Knaggs dispatched another emergency call for troops to Gov. Frank Murphy urging him to preserve law and order. The governor last night had issued orders to commanders to be ready to mobilize National Guard units at a moment's notice.

4. The executive committee of local 169, United Automobile Workers of America, announced a city-wide holiday in Pontiac, the purpose to release the men now marching and others who will march during the morning on Monroe. The Pontiac Fisher Body, Yellow Truck and Coach, and Pontiac Motor Car plants all were closed shortly after midnight by the walkouts.

Police Chase Pickets.

The situation here reached the danger point late yesterday when special police, armed with tear gas guns and billies, charged 200 pickets, armed with gas bombs, clubs, and bricks, and created a cleavage that permitted 800 loyal workers to enter the Newton plant. Eight persons were hurt. The mill, a subsidiary of the Republic Steel corporation, was closed on May 26 by the strike of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee, a C. I. O. affiliate. Of the company's 1,300 employés 782 had voted to return to work and only 32 had opposed.

The danger increased hourly last night and Police Chief Jesse Fisher and Fred Mayberry, spokesman for the pickets, kept in close touch by phone with Gov. Murphy. The mayor, during the day, urged that troops be sent.

Strike Army Starts March.

There followed a short lull last night, then followed the announcement of the industrial holiday in Pontiac, and the start this morning of the march by the strikers' army. The Pontiac U. A. W. C. was reported furnishing gasoline for motorists showing their membership cards.

Word from the vanguard of the sympathizers showed careful preparation and organization. Dan Mitchell, president of the Pontiac local, said, "Our men will be in disciplined groups in charge of shop stewards. The stewards will answer in turn to chief shop stewards. These leaders will tolerate no disorder or drinking."

Officials here, on learning of the surprise move, were unwilling, however, to gamble with chance. The presence of so large an invading army as indicated could easily create unpredictable disturbances.

200 Await Thousands.

Thus the first action of Mayor Knaggs was another request for troops and the strengthening of the present law force. At 4 a. m. more than 200 special police—including Legionnaires—were on duty at the Newton plant. Bright lights illuminated the principal approaches as the

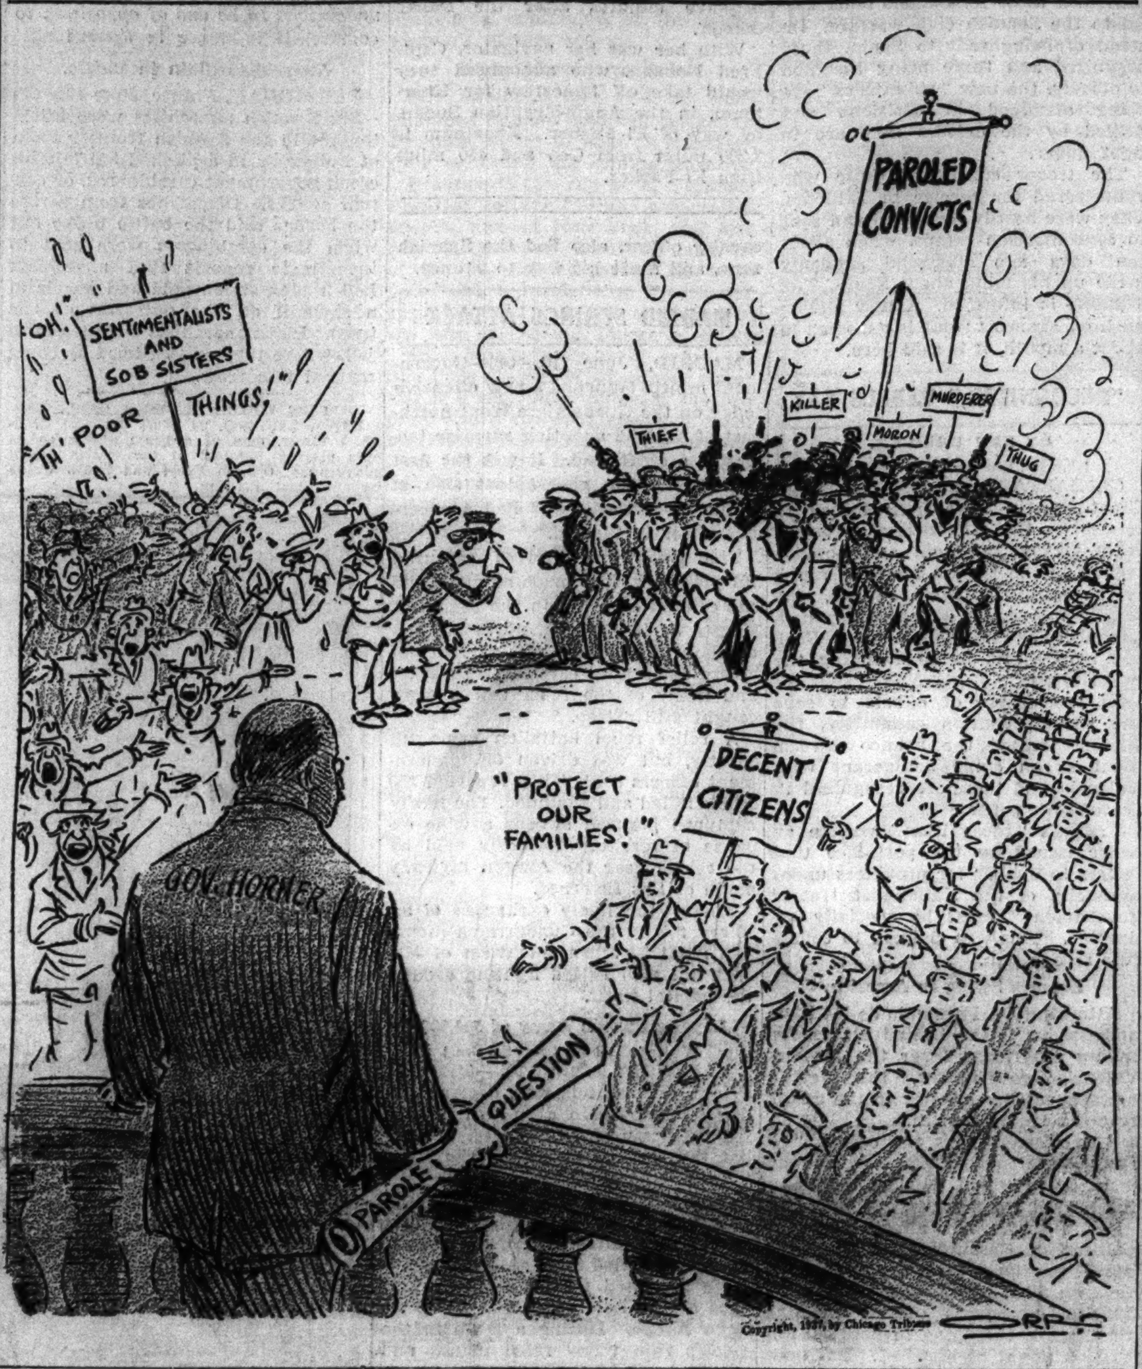
APPEALING TO THE GOVERNOR



'REBUILD HANSA CITY HAMBURG, SHOW OUR MIGHT,' HITLER SAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 10.—By order of Reichsfuehrer Hitler Hansa City Hamburg will be reconstructed to "symbolize new Germany's might and power." The reconstruction program will be completed in fifteen years, according to the plan, and will include Germany's first real skyscraper, "Europe's largest river bridge" [over the Elbe] and the shifting of the city's main railway station to a new site.

A 60 story skyscraper rising 820 feet will be the center of the new "shore drive" planned alongside the harbor. The bridge, of the suspension type, will be supported by pillars more than 400 feet tall and will span the Elbe 230 feet above the water level.

New harbor construction is planned, including a landing stage "which will enable four huge liners to draw alongside simultaneously."

MORGAN JITTERY OVER KIDNAPING; CANCELS CRUISE

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—The reported kidnaping of Mrs. William H. Parsons gave J. P. Morgan the jitters today.

He drove by the estate of his neighbor, Mrs. Richardson Pratt, a sister of the missing woman. A crowd swarmed outside. Morgan asked the reason.

When he was told, he canceled a cruise on his yacht Corsair and returned hastily to his estate.

"Hope You Are Satisfied," Sneers Chinese at Chair

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ossining, N. Y., June 10.—Chew Wing, the first Chinese to be electrocuted in New York state in more than 20 years, died tonight with a sneer at his executioners.

"Well," he said, "I hope you are satisfied."

He was convicted of the holdup gun-killing of another Chinese.

Now Here's a Fish Story with a Really New Point

Worcester, Mass., June 10.—A sharp pain shot through the palm of Torvel Vik's hand as he dived into Indian lake. He looked to see what he had struck and found, he said, an eight inch pickerel. Vik said he believed his hand struck the pickerel's fin. The fish, he asserted, was killed.

There was no warm sand on the courtroom floor of Judge William J. Lindsay yesterday. No lake breezes stirred the close air, and there was very little water.

But before the intent gaze of twelve jurors, Attorney Timothy D. Hurley stretched out full length on his bath robe, clad in a damp one-piece bathing suit. Then he relaxed, hands clasped behind his head, to demonstrate his posture on a bright Sabbath morning, Aug. 7, 1932.

This exhibition of what the well dressed Evanston bather might have worn was exhibit A for Mr. Hurley in his suit for $25,000 damages against Lynn A. Williams, wealthy patent lawyer and yachtsman, and three Evanston policemen.

Hurley, who is the son of the late Judge Timothy D. Hurley, asked the damages for humiliation suffered when Mr. Williams caused his arrest on a charge of indecent exposure. Hurley subsequently was freed by an Evanston police magistrate.

What the Jury Thought.

After witnessing the bathing beach scene [without beauties] the jury retired, and soon returned a verdict finding Mr. Hurley was not entitled to damages from Mr. Williams. On instructions of the court, however, total damages of $100 were assessed against the three policemen, because they failed to answer the suit.

Mr. Williams lives at 568 Ingleside place, Evanston, a private court on the lake front. He heads an association of several families dwelling there who try to keep their beach private.

"That Sunday I was passing out cards which invited the people on the beach to use the public beach," testified Mr. Williams, a tall, bald, portly gentleman. "I gave the cards to two young girls.

He Just Looked at the Sky.

"Then I walked up to Hurley and gave him a card. As I started to pass I noticed he was, well, not completely covered. I told him in a low voice to correct this. But he kept lying with his head on the sand looking at the sky. So I called the police."

At this point in the testimony Mr. Hurley unfurled his bathing suit, of somewhat ancient design, cut high in the back and front. It was black, one piece, but with a modest attached skirt. An odor of mothballs was noted by the courtroom spectators, since the evidence had been preserved for five years.

Mr. Hurley retired to the judge's chambers. At the request of Mr. Williams' attorney, he splashed water from a wash bowl on the suit, then skipped back to the courtroom. The beach illusion was not quite complete, however, since Mr. Hurley wore his shoes.

At the time of the beach episode Mr. Hurley, who now lives in Chicago, had an Evanston home. His law office is at 10 South La Salle street.

The three policemen who were assessed $100 are Lieut. John G. [Pete] Geishecker and Patrolmen Bert Schlenger and J. D. McKulski.

BILL TO AUTHORIZE READING OF BIBLE IN SCHOOLS IS KILLED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—Reading of the Bible in public schools of Illinois should not be authorized by statute, the house of representatives decided today in killing the bill introduced by Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill [D., Downers Grove].

There is no law prohibiting such reading, but John A. Wieland, state superintendent of public instruction, said that court decisions permit no interpretation of the scriptures. Since Mrs. O'Neill's bill stipulated that the reading be done without comment or interpretation, it was only permissive legislation.

The gist of the opposition was expressed by Representative F. W. Lewis [D., Robinson].

"I have no antagonism toward the reading of the Bible," Lewis said. "Even the Koran could be read as a matter of education but not a religious doctrine. The question is whose Bible would be read—yours or mine?"

"Read all of them. It won't hurt anybody," Mrs. O'Neill retorted.

Cincinnati Revokes Permit for Women to Wrestle

Cincinnati, O., June 10.—(AP)—Acting City Manager John D. Ellis, heeding protests from women's organizations, today revoked a permit granted by the Cincinnati boxing and wrestling commission for a match between two women wrestlers Friday night. The women's groups protested that the proposed bout would be vulgar and might interfere with the participants' futures as wives and mothers.

Has $25,000 for Kidnaper to Free Wife

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Stony Brook, N. Y., June 10.—[Special.]—An eight state police alarm flashed over the wires tonight for the arrest of "unidentified man and woman in a large black sedan" in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice McDonell Parsons, heiress and clubwoman, from her home near Long Island sound yesterday.

The search along the eastern seaboard was based on the story of Mrs. Anna Kupryanova, a Russian émigré house servant. The woman said Mrs. Parsons left at 11:45 a. m. yesterday with an elderly couple, explaining that she was going to show them some property in which she had been bequeathed a part interest and that was for sale. A note demanding $25,000 ransom and containing a death threat was found later in Mrs. Parsons' car.

Seen Two Hours Later.

Conflicting with this story was that of Mrs. Leona Newton, a former postmistress, who declared she saw Mrs. Parsons driving down the streets of the village alone two hours after the Russian woman reported she had departed from home.

Meanwhile William H. Parsons, husband of the missing woman, waited alone in their rambling farm house tonight in an effort to establish contact with the kidnapers. He asked agents of the federal bureau of investigation, state police, and the press to evacuate the premises so that "the coast will be entirely clear" for the safe return of Mrs. Parsons.

"Will Parsons:

"I have your wife for $25,000 ransom. I calculate you could get that money in 24 hours. I have no place to keep her longer. Meet bus terminal in Jamaica 9 p. m. My man will meet you and call by name and you go with him. He will take you to your wife, but if any cops are aboard you'll pay and she will never speak again."

Can't Make Contact.

Unable to make the contact because the contents of the note had leaked out, Parsons said, he issued an appeal to the kidnapers containing the declaration that he would follow "implicitly" any further instructions.

"I want to assure the party or parties holding my wife that I am willing and anxious to follow implicitly and without question any further instructions given and that they will be treated in strictest confidence," Parsons said.

"In order that the persons holding my wife for ransom may reach me freely and at any time and without any danger of being observed or overheard, I request that all law enforcement officials and press representatives withdraw from my residence,

8 GENERALS GO ON TRIAL TODAY FOR THEIR LIVES

Accused as Traitors; Face Execution.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 11.—(Friday.)—The Daily Express said today all Russia is trembling under the new purge, which is to be continued "until not a single enemy is left." Picked troops, it is said, are now marching toward Moscow to reinforce the Kremlin garrison. Regular troops at the disposal of the government, the Express said, number 100,000, excluding the armed police regiments of the GPU (secret police).

MOSCOW, June 11 [Friday].—(AP)—Eight of the highest officers of the soviet army will be tried for their lives today before a secret military tribunal on charges of treason.

An official communique issued at 3 a. m. said all the accused had pleaded "fully guilty." Under laws governing the trial this means certain and immediate execution upon conviction before a firing squad without the right of appeal.

The statement said the prisoners were leagued with a foreign government, which was understood to point to Germany or Japan.

List of Prisoners.

The officers who will go on trial are:

Marshal Michael Nikolaevitch Tukhachevsky, one of the five marshals of the Red army and until May 11 vice commissar of war.

Gen. Kazimirovitch V. Putna, former military attaché in London, arrested in August, 1936.

Gen. A. I. Kork, former commandant of the Frunze military academy, the "West Point" of the soviet union.

Gen. I. E. Yakir, displaced June 9 as commander of the Leningrad district garrison.

Gen. I. P. Uborevitch, removed June 9 as commander in White Russia.

Gen. Robert P. Eideman, former head of the important Osoaviakhim, organization for training reserves and civilian training in aviation and gas defense.

Gen. B. M. Feldman, chief of the personnel section of the general staf.

Gen. V. M. Primakov.

The communique announced the charges against the eight officers were:

Violation of military oath, treason to the fatherland, treason to the people of the U. S. S. R., and treason to the workers, peasants, and the Red army.

Accused of Giving Away Secrets.

"Investigation established the participation of the defendants, as well as Gen. Jan Gamarnik, in anti-state connections with leading military circles of one of the foreign countries which is carrying on an unfriendly policy toward the U. S. S. R.," the statement added.

"The accused were in the service of the military intelligence service of this country.

"The defendants systematically supplied secret information about the position of the Red army to military circles of this country. They carried on wrecking activity for weakening the Red army, tried to prepare for the defeat of the Red army in case of an attack on the soviet union, and aimed to contribute to the restoration of landowners and capitalists in the U. S. S. R."

Claims General Killed Self.

Gen. Gamarnik, who was mentioned in the communique, died June 1. The government announced he killed himself after having been exposed as a traitor.

Today's trial will be the soviet union's third great treason trial within less than a year. The others were in August, 1936, and January, 1937. This differs from the preceding trials, however, in that it will be held behind closed doors and that most of the accused fell from grace only a few days before being haled before the judges.

In the August and January trials the defendants had been out of favor with the Kremlin for a long time. Sixteen men were shot after the August trial, thirteen after that of January.

Marshal Mentioned by Radek.

Marshal Tukhachevsky's downfall dated from the January trial, when Karl Radek, one of the defendants, mentioned his name in testimony. He retained the post of vice-commissar of war, however, until last month when he was demoted to command of the Volga military garrison. He was removed from that post two days ago.

Ulrich to Preside Again.

The eight prisoners will go on trial before a special court headed by the military jurist, Vasily V. Ulrich, who also presided at the August and January treason trials. On the court will sit other army leaders, including some who were named to posts from which the defendants had been ejected.

Among these will be the new vice commissar of war, Gen. J. I. Aleksnis new chief of the Moscow garrison; Marshal Vasily K. Bluecher, commander of the Red army in the far east; Gen. B. M. Chapochnikov, chief of the general staf, and four other generals, including Gen. I. P. Belov and Gen. P. E. Dybenko, who only two days ago replaced the defendants Uborevitch and Yakir, respectively, in their former commands.

NEW REIGN OF TERROR

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, June 10.—The entire Moscow diplomatic corps, assisted by their military attachés, have joined forces in seeking a breach in the wall of secrecy surrounding vital events now transpiring within the Kremlin, where Dictator Stalin is directing a new wave of terror to protect his tottering authority over the destinies of soviet Russia.

The efforts of diplomats to obtain information are hampered by their isolated position in the Red capital, where officials and other persons fear to associate with them.

Army Leaders Vanish.

The diplomats report they are unable to discover the whereabouts of Marshal Michael Tukhachevsky, former vice commissar of war; Gen. I. E. Yakir, and Gen. Jeremy Ubelevitch. These men have disappeared as completely as did Gen. Genrikh Yagoda, who was ousted as commander of the GPU [secret police], Gen. Schmidt, head of the tank corps in the Ukraine, and Gen. Victor Kazimirovitch Putna, who was recalled from his post as military attaché in London.

No satisfactory explanation concerning their disappearance has been given by either the soviet press or the narrow official circles with which the diplomats are allowed to associate.

The reason for the appointment of such second rate military men as Marshal Semion M. Budenny, Gen. P. E. Dybenko, and Gen. N. V. Kiubyshev as commanders of the Moscow, Leningrad, and trans-Caucasian military districts also is kept a secret. These appointments were announced yesterday.

Army Purge Continues.

Since May 1 seven of the fourteen commanders of various military districts into which Russia is divided have been shifted. The purge within the Red army is continuing. Diplomats believe Stalin now is taking final steps to prepare for a military dictatorship by ousting all army leaders whose loyalty to himself is considered doubtful.

Since last year's trial and executions of Gregory Zinoviev and Leo Kamenev, who at one time were trusted lieutenants of Stalin, the communist party has been demoralized as a whole by arrests and demotions of its leaders.

Stalin's wave of terror began with the railroads. A number of directors of important lines, including Deputy Commissar of Communications I. A. Lifshitz, were arrested and executed. Now the dictator has spread the purge to all branches of state industry and trade. Trade unions are included in elections which are being held with the purpose of ousting old leaders and installing new ones.

Red Card No Guaranty.

The Red card of membership in the communist party, according to diplomats, no longer guarantees the holder against being denounced, imprisoned, and executed.

When Stalin declared that the communist party itself was filled with followers of Leon Trotzky, exiled bolshevist leader and Stalin's arch enemy, the iron discipline of the party was shattered. For weeks soviet officials have been filling columns of the soviet press with denunciations either of their chiefs or assistants whom they blame for the farcical results of the second five year plan which ends this year.

Russia's new born industries, which American engineers and specialists helped organize and equip with American machinery costing millions of dollars, must be reëquipped with machinery.

Machinery Is Wrecked.

The machinery was completely wrecked during the last twelve months when, under Stalin's direction, a general speeding up of industry was ordered. According to information obtained by diplomats, the recent soviet gold exports to the United States are going to help pay for large orders of machinery.

Baltic statesmen, watching the progressive demoralization of the communist party, the Red army, and soviet government, declare they are anxious about the outcome. One diplomat who has just returned from Moscow said the revolution now is passing through a crisis more serious than the one in 1927, when Stalin seized power and expelled Trotzky.

The diplomat explained that the Baltic states want a strong government in Russia to offset the strong Nazi government in Germany since this is the best guarantee of peace. He said the anxiety of his government is increasing because Russia internally is weaker than it has been for many years.

Russia's tremendous government apparatus is functioning poorly and many branches are even threatening to collapse, he continued. Stalin, the diplomat added, is attempting to retain the dictatorship by ordering wholesale changes of officials and purging the Red army upon which he is depending to retain power.

Accused as Traitors

Marshal Nikolaevitch Tukhachevsky, former soviet Russian vice commissar of war, who is one of eight scheduled to go on trial today in Moscow on charges of treason.

Gen. Kazimirovitch Putna also faces trial for life. He also is accused of traitorous relations with a foreign nation, generally believed to be Germany or Japan.

Genrikh G. Yagoda, former chief of the GPU, Russian secret police, who disappeared under mysterious circumstances. It is believed that he has fallen a victim to the Russian government's terroristic activities.

ORDER GERMANS TO RUSH QUIZ ON ZEP DISASTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 10.—Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, reich minister of air, today ordered the committee which is investigating the loss of the airship Hindenburg to continue its inquiry. He gave the order after the committee submitted a report that it could not find any evidence by which to determine the cause of the disaster. The huge craft was destroyed by fire May 6 while preparing to land at Lakehurst, N. J.

Experiments will be carried out by German laboratories at the Air Research institute and the results will be exchanged with American groups working along similar lines.

The committee expressed itself as "satisfied" that the Hindenburg was in perfect order, that the landing maneuvers were being carried out properly, and that no safety regulations were broken.

DUCE MOBILIZES GREAT ARMY TO RESCUE FRANCO

Drill Units in Italy for Spanish War.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 10.—Premier Mussolini, after weeks of wavering over what to do about the Spanish situation, has suddenly decided to make another and bigger push in the aid of Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of the rebels, according to a source close to the French foreign office.

Troops, said to number several tens of thousands, are being mobilized all over Italy, particularly in Lombardy [the north], and are being drilled in those formations most useful to the Spanish civil warfare. Instead of being sent to Spain, there organized and there being assigned to officers, the new "volunteers" are being arranged in divisions and drilled by the officers they are to fight under.

The troops consist of those who volunteered for service in Ethiopia. They were hastily mobilized and sent to concentration camps, when about ten days ago Mussolini suddenly made up his mind about Spain, THE TRIBUNE is informed. A new Italian push on Franco's front is expected in about a month, it is said here.

"RECOGNIZED," REBELS SAY

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, June 10.—France and Great Britain have been forced to recognize Gen. Francisco Franco's rebel régime in Spain and popular feeling in the United States is rapidly swinging to back Franco, the Seville newspaper Falange Espanola [Spanish Fascist], claims today. Feeling here seems to be swinging the opposite way.

In the course of efforts to save the nonintervention committee, the British treated the Franco government as an equal belligerant with Valencia and therefore recognized it, reasons the paper.

France's "recognition" was in an order issued by the postoffice that letters to Spain "for provinces under authority of the Nationalist [rebel] government" must be specially addressed. This was claimed to constitute recognition.

Reports Swing in America.

Attacking Dr. Fernando de los Rios, ambassador to the United States, for saying Americans favor the Madrid-Valencia government, the Seville newspaper cites a letter to the editor received from America.

"Americans," says the editor, "already are awakening from the lethargy to which they were submitted by red propaganda."

Gibraltar is not affected by the political undercurrents ruling the rebel territory that surrounds the rock on all sides. One reason is the British governor's official warning that people indulging in political discussion might be expelled. But however they act publicly every one argues privately. Except a few dyed-in-the-wool Fascists, most persons seem in favor of Valencia. This is a change from the general attitude a few months ago.

A British resident blamed the violent and unreasonable attitude of the neighboring rebels for the change.

Shoot Recklessly.

"A few months ago," he said, "I still went over there [to rebel territory] often for business or just pleasure. Now they have gotten too jumpy and liable to shoot any one without questions. They have lost their balance."

The situation behind the lines of adjacent rebel territory is a matter of fear and discipline, not conviction, it is understood. Almost nightly fugitives—many in uniform—slip across the frontier one way or another. The usual way is to swim to Gibraltar territory. Whenever found they are held until a ship is available, then sent off to Valencia so British authorities will not be embarrassed by having them on their hands.

In Spanish Morocco, too, desertions are growing, according to the best reports. Julio Tienda, head of the rebel bureau handling the natives, went to the French zone, Morocco, "on business" a week ago and has refused to return. Maj. Ramon Cabrera, well known rebel cavalry officer, also fled the Spanish zone, and made his way to France.

GAO, French West Africa, June 10. — (AP) — Blonde Amelia Earhart dropped her monoplane down to a perfect landing at this African outpost along the Niger river today to complete another span on her leisurely flight around the world.

She had flown 1,140 miles from Dakar, French Senegal, skirting Timbuctu.

Miss Earhart's plane swept onto the landing field at 9:50 a. m. Chicago daylight saving time [2:50 p. m. Greenwich time], seven hours and fifty-five minutes after the Dakar takeoff.

With her was her navigator, Capt. Fred Noonan, who announced they would take off tomorrow for Khartoum, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, by way of El Fasher. Khartoum is 2,200 miles from Gao and 450 miles from El Fasher.

MADRID SPRINGS ATTACK

MADRID, June 10.—(AP)—Government militia launched a new offensive today on the Guadalajara front northeast of Madrid, adopting surprise tactics in a swift raid. It was the first activity on the government side in about three weeks and had a cheering effect in Madrid.

The government forces captured 107 prisoners, four machine guns, and one cannon on a hill in the region of Maesta de la Alcaraia, north of Guadalajara. The action was carried out before dawn after careful preparation and many of the rebel troops were caught still asleep.

A relief rebel battalion came up shortly, but was driven off, government officers said. They reported 150 rebels killed and wounded. The newly captured position sweeps a wide expanse of territory formerly held by the rebels near the Aragon highway north of Las Invernes.

There were lively exchanges of artillery fire in the Guadarrama mountain front 52 miles northwest of Madrid, but rain halted fighting around the capital itself.

Loyalists Train Army of 500,000.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VALENCIA, June 10.—Indalecio Prieto, defense minister, declared today loyalist Spain soon will have a trained army of 500,000 men to combat the rebels. He stated the army was built up and trained during lulls in the campaign around Madrid and Bilbao and at the same time sufficient cannon and other war materials are being assembled for a grand smash.

He indicated that one of the first jobs of the new army will be to relieve Bilbao. During a letup in the week's rain today rebel planes and artillery rained tons of explosives on Bilbao's outer ring of defenses.

Four Powers Exclude Russia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 10.—Russia was excluded today from discussions which are designed to bring Italy and Germany back to participation in the 27 nation committee for nonintervention in Spain.

British Foreign Secretary Capt. Anthony Eden conferred with the ambassadors of Italy, Germany, and France. It was indicated that Eden expects promises from both sides in the Spanish war that there will be no more plane attacks on foreign ships participating in the war "quarantine" patrol of Spain.

It appears that the "guarantees" of safety that Italy and Germany were seeking are considered sufficient and that the two dictator countries will return to the committee late this week or early next.

Basques Protests to Vatican.

BILBAO, Spain, June 10. — (AP) — Catholic authorities said tonight the Basque Catholic clergy had dispatched a document to the Vatican charging that Spanish rebels bombed both Durango [March 31] and Guernica [April 26], killing priests and nuns at worship. A statement said the document was signed voluntarily. Rebels had charged that anarchists fleeing the towns had set fire to them.

[Dispatches from Vatican City reported semi-official sources there said they had no knowledge of the Bilbao communication. These sources said similar communications had been received at the Vatican previously. They added that it was not the practice of the holy see to comment on documents relating to the Spanish civil war emanating from the Spanish government side, inasmuch as the holy see's attitude generally was understood to be one of opposition to communist influence in Spain.]

Anarchists Slain in Battle.

PERPIGNAN, France, June 10.—(AP)—Six Spanish anarchists were killed tonight in the Spanish frontier town of Puigcerda in a pitched battle with crack government carabineros, or custom guards. Dispatches from across the border said the battle broke out when the carabineros were sent to investigate reports that anarchists had hidden stolen gold and jewels in a sawmill on the outskirts of the town. Eight anarchists were taken to jail, where they will be tried by court martial tomorrow.

GOEBBELS TAKES DIG AT POPE FOR VOICING HIS GRIEF

BERLIN, June 10.—(AP)—Minister of Propaganda Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' newspaper Der Angriff took sarcastic notice today of Pope Pius' talk to German pilgrims in which the pontiff lamented the treatment of Catholics in the Third Reich.

"It has become gradually a regular custom for the holy father when visited by pilgrims from Germany to tell them with great emotion what a terrible predicament they are in," Der Angriff said.

"The holy father again has said the predicament of the Catholic church in Germany is deplorable—most deplorable. This time we can only agree with him. What the monastic trials have brought to light is certainly deplorable."

Trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges, to which Der Angriff apparently referred, were resumed in Coblenz, where two brothers were sentenced, one of them to two years and the other to two and one-half.

TRAFIC IN SNARL; STRIKING POLICE JUST FOLD ARMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 10.—Police went on strike today in two French cities, Boulogne-sur-Mer and Angers. Joining the police were other municipal employés, including funeral personnel.

Boulogne police failed to show up at their posts this morning and trafic became badly snarled in the main streets. The police remained within reach to get busy if anything grave of a criminal nature happened. The municipal funeral personnel refused to bury corpses and deposited them temporarily in vaults. With city slaughterhouse employés striking, private butchers got busy. Four hundred city employés are involved in the Boulogne strike.

At Angers the police appeared at their posts, but folded their arms and refused to direct trafic or intervene in anything but the gravest sort of violence. Garbage was untouched.

WORK ON SUBWAY PLAN SPEEDED BY TRANSIT EXPERTS

Prepare Draft to Be Filed with Plea for U. S. Aid.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

Mayor Kelly announced yesterday that city transit experts are rapidly preparing a skeleton plan for a downtown subway to be incorporated in an appeal by the city for federal aid to carry through the project.

The city council on Wednesday authorized the mayor to make formal application for a federal loan or grant or combination of the two to finance construction of a subway. Mayor Kelly several months ago made a personal appeal to President Roosevelt for 40 million dollars to assist in building a subway and an elevated highway to the west side.

The cost of a downtown subway, which probably would extend north and south between Chicago avenue and 16th street, is estimated at not more than 50 million dollars.

Provisions of Plan.

The plan being worked out, it was learned, would provide for a tube which could be used either for elevated trains or surface vehicles. If a rehabilitation of the elevated system can be worked out, the plan envisions operation of the elevated trains in a subway through the downtown business district and ultimate removal of the elevated loop.

Provision is made, however, for conversion of the plan to permit operation of either street cars or trolley buses in the tunnel if a modernization program for the elevated does not materialize. The plan will suggest various routes from which aldermen will be asked to select one for submission to Washington. Most previous plans have contemplated a tube under State street.

City experts working on the plan are Philip Harrington and Maj. R. F. Kelker, engineers for the council's local transportation committee, and William H. Sexton, special counsel on transit matters for the city. Mayor Kelly said he expects the plan to be completed in about a week, when it will be placed before the transportation committee for approval.

Speedy Action Required.

The mayor explained that the application for federal aid must be filed before passage of a bill now before congress granting authority to President Roosevelt to allocate public works funds. The bill would give consideration only to applications on file at the time of passage.

The type of subway which may be built will be determined largely by the nature of the settlement of the transit problem. Negotiations seeking to determine a possible basis for unification of the elevated and surface lines will begin Monday. Representatives of the two systems are meeting in accordance with a request of Mayor Kelly.

The city will renew its fight before the Illinois commerce commission today on its petition for a 5 cent fare on the surface lines for school children. The surface lines oppose the move. City representatives plan to have witnesses testify as to the desirability of the reduced fare.

REPORT TAYLOR'S MISSING VALET IN SAN DIEGO

Los Angeles, Cal., June 10.—(AP)—District attorney's investigators went to San Diego today on information that Edward F. Sands, valet to William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director slain mysteriously 15 years ago, resides near that city.

They carried warrants charging Sands with robbery of his former employer and having forged his name to checks. The valet disappeared immediately after the shooting, Feb. 1, 1922.

Harry Baugh, chief investigator for the San Diego district attorney's office, informed District Attorney Buron Fitts here he had been told Sands was residing near San Diego.

Fitts said several persons are being kept under surveillance in connection with the renewed investigation into Taylor's killing.

GIRL CONFESSES LOVE HOAX AIMED AT JOHN D. HEIR

Jealousy Is Motive for Kidnap Story.

Because she feared she was losing the affection of John Rockefeller Prentice, grandson of the late John D. Rockefeller, a young hospital nurse confessed yesterday she arranged a fantastic kidnap hoax, hoping thereby to quicken his ardor.

When the demure young woman, Miss Margaret Montgomery of the Presbyterian hospital, first told her story police suspected she was being used to lure the Rockefeller scion into the hands of a gang.

Subsequent questioning by Capt. Daniel Gilbert and Lieut. Thomas Kelly of the state's attorney's police brought a confession of the young woman's bizarre scheme.

Seeks Martyrdom Rôle.

She admitted she told of being kidnaped by men who had designs on Prentice, solely to pose as a martyr, thus regaining his cooling affection.

Prentice is the son of E. Parmalee Prentice, former Chicago corporation lawyer, now of New York, and Mrs. Alta Rockefeller Prentice, daughter of the late oil magnate. He is 34 years old, a resident of the University club, and a lawyer employed by the firm of Cutting, Moore & Sidley.

Miss Montgomery is 27 years old. She lives at 1640 West Adams street, and is a registered nurse at the hospital where she completed her training after coming here five years ago from her home in Hoxie, Kas. She had known Prentice since last fall when they met while he was a patient at the hospital.

Her Story of Kidnaping.

Her abductors, Miss Montgomery first related, seized her near the hospital, encased her head in a cloth bag, then drove her about in an automobile for several hours. Finally she was released near a restaurant at 46th street and Ashland avenue, she said.

The kidnapers instructed her, she continued, to have Prentice join her and drive past a certain point several times so the kidnapers could see them together.

From a restaurant at 4654 South Ashland avenue, Miss Montgomery telephoned Prentice and asked him to meet her. Suspecting that something might be wrong, he telephoned her roommate, Miss Kathryn Harris, who notified the police.

Find Pistols in Car.

When he later called the police, Prentice learned they had found Miss Montgomery, and he hurried to the Warren avenue station. At first police expressed interest in two pistols found in his car, until they learned he was a National Guard officer.

Miss Montgomery adhered to her original story during four hours of police interrogation, until Lieut. Kelly asked if she was jealous of Prentice. At that the young woman broke down.

"O, yes, very jealous," she replied.

Breaks Down; Tells Motive.

"Isn't this whole story untrue?" he inquired again.

"Yes," she sobbed. "O, yes, it is. I wanted to be a martyr. When I thought he was losing interest in me I became furious. Some woman called me and told me he was going with another girl. I thought of various schemes. I wanted to do something drastic. Then I thought of this plan."

Prentice was brought in from an anteroom, where he had been questioned about his friendship with the nurse. With quivering lips she repeated her confession.

"Well, this certainly stops me," the serious minded young attorney remarked. "Peg, I'm surprised."

Prentice told Lieut. Kelly that he had no desire to prosecute the young woman and she was released. Neither would talk with reporters, but Lieut. Kelly quoted Prentice as declaring that he still liked her.

Meet in Hospital.

They met last September, Prentice said, when he was a patient at the Presbyterian hospital. He asked her for a date and Miss Montgomery said she would like to go out with him, he said. Since then Prentice declared they had been meeting about once a week.

Miss Montgomery is the home-girl type. She has dark brown hair and soft brown eyes in a serious face. Her expression is wistful.

She has been too busy to have beaux, the young nurse told Lieut. Kelly, although before she met Prentice she occasionally went out with an interne. But for the most part, Miss Montgomery declared her work occupied her time. Her mother is dead, and her father, who remarried, lives in Hutchinson, Kas., with a married daughter.

The Mystery Phone Calls.

One point of the investigation perplexed the police when Prentice told of having received several mysterious telephone calls recently. The caller would always hang up when he answered, Prentice said. Lieut. Kelly declared it was obvious that Miss Montgomery was the mysterious caller, attempting to check up on her friend.

Although Prentice is a member of a famous and wealthy family, friends say he has made his way independently of the Rockefeller name and influence. He is not an heir of the estate recently left by Mr. Rockefeller, but was provided for as an heir through his mother in a trust created by Rockefeller for his children many years before his death.

Prentice entered Yale with a brilliant prep school record, but was expelled in 1920 over cutting classes. Then he went to work for a Boston firm as an office boy and rose to be star salesman.

On the plea of his mother he returned to Yale in 1925, but refused financial help, working his way through by various jobs, one of them a night telephone operator. He won a scholarship awarded needy students, graduated with honors, completed law school, and entered the law firm here in 1931. Since his reentry into Yale, it is reported, Prentice had never had any financial assistance from his wealthy parents.

the grounds, and vicinity, so that the coast will be entirely clear to reach me without any risk or danger of observation."

Every one withdrew. Chief Edward Bridge of the Brookhaven town constabulary set up headquarters in Stony Brook. It was reported that Rhea Whitley, in charge of federal bureau of investigation officers in New York City and who had taken personal charge of the case, also had made arrangements to stay in a private house, the location of which was not learned.

Although many facts surrounding the case were kept secret and many questions left unanswered, it was known that Parsons, a chicken fancier and pigeon raiser, had told the police he went to New York City yesterday morning. Mrs. Parsons had driven him to the train and was to meet him last night when he returned, he said.

After waiting at the station he took a cab home, Parsons said, he called various neighbors where she might have gone and finally called police. The possibility of kidnaping was not considered until the note was found at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

Leaves with Couple.

Mrs. Kupryanova said she heard a car drive into the yard of the Parsons' eleven acre estate yesterday morning. Mrs. Parsons called out that she was "Going to the Sammis place in Huntington," walked out to the car with the elderly couple and drove away. So far as it is known she never reached Huntington.

The Russian woman said she attached no significance to the statement since the "Sammis place," a third share in which Mrs. Parsons inherited last November on the death of her aunt, Mrs. Timothy Shaler Williams, widow of the former president of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit company, had been advertised for sale.

The police activities to date have centered about the three principals in the case, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons and their house servant who had been with them for six years. The belief that someone connected or closely acquainted with the family was responsible for the crime was intensified by the familiar "Will Parsons" address on the crudely written kidnap notes.

Son of Manufacturer.

The husband is the son of the late William H. Parsons, a paper manufacturer, prominent Presbyterian churchman, and at one time president of the Society for the Suppression of Vice. He was a naval lieutenant in the world war. One of his sisters is Mrs. Richardson Pratt, wife of the assistant treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

He married Alice McDonell in the home of her uncle, Timothy Williams, on Nov. 1, 1925. Williams and his wife had introduced the girl into society. Mrs. Parsons is the daughter of Frank McDonell, formerly of Rye, N. Y., and now said to be living in California.

When Williams died in 1930 he left Mrs. Parsons $30,000 in trust, the principal to be paid over to her when she reached the age of 35, which was on May 3, 1934. The third share of the Williams country estate at Shoreland, which was appraised at $220,000 in 1930, was left to Mrs. Parsons by her aunt when she died last year.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Parsons are listed in the "Social Register," but do not participate in the social whirl along the Long Island shore. They lived a quiet life, Parsons tending to his pigeons and Mrs. Parsons to her club work. She occasionally sold squab pies to the Stony Brook teahouse, it was said.

The third figure in the mystery, Mrs. Kupryanova, told police she and her son, Roy, 11, had been living with the Parsons for six years. The Russian woman was known generally by her Anglicized name, "Mrs. Cooper." Her son was registered in school as "Roy Cooper Parsons."

THOMAS TAMRAZ.

Thomas Tamraz, 17 years old, 3110 South Troy street, a junior at Lindblom High school, was held in $1,000 bond by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday on a charge of sending a threatening letter to Agoba Jacobs, 6143 South Sacramento avenue, his former employer. Tamraz, who was arrested Wednesday night, admitted sending the letter, according to federal agents, saying that he was trying to collect between $400 and $500 which Jacobs owed his father.

BELGIAN SENATE VOTES TO FREE WAR PRISONERS

BRUSSELS, June 11 [Friday].—(AP)—While the gallery cheered, the Belgian senate early today passed, 90 to 64, a bill to pardon all Belgians convicted of treason during the world war.

The amnesty measure, which brought a controversy that threatened a cabinet crisis when 400 angry world war veterans hurled their war decorations at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier on Wednesday in protest against the bill, came to vote after night long debate.

Already passed in the lower house, the amnesty bill would affect principally Flemings in the north of Belgium who sided with Germany in the world war in the hope of establishing an independent Flemish state in event of German victory. Many were convicted of treason and some still are in prison.

Vote on Irish Constitution to Be Held Early in July

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 10.—(AP)—The Irish Free State will vote early in July on President Eamon De Valera's proposed constitution, which declares it a "sovereign, independent state," the dail [parliament] was told today. De Valera said elections under which the people will express opinions on the document will be held July 1 or 5. The constitution bill, he said, will be submitted for final reading next Monday before the dail is dissolved that night.

2 OPERA HOUSE SLAYERS GIVEN 7½ TO 10 YEARS

Sentenced for Stabbing at N. Y. Banquet.

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—Joseph Berger and Gabriel Klar, who stabbed Frank Cicero to death at a banquet in the Manhattan Opera house last Jan. 17, were sentenced today to seven and a half to ten years in Sing Sing prison.

They were convicted of second degree manslaughter before General Sessions Judge John J. Freschi, May 28. The defense told Judge Freschi today that eleven of the jurors had signed a petition for mercy.

Stabbing at Dinner.

The stabbing occurred at a well attended dinner given in honor of Barney Shapiro, an executive of the Affiliated Ladies' Apparel Carriers' association.

Former Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen was about to start an address when the fatal fighting started.

Fight Precedes Slaying.

According to testimony at the trial, Berger and Klar became annoyed when Cicero started singing at a nearby table. They went over to Cicero's table. A quarrel and a fight ensued, and in the excitement following the stabbing the two men escaped. Still wearing dinner jackets, they surrendered to police two days later.

Berger is 29 years old and lives in Brooklyn. Klar, 31, also comes from Brooklyn. Both were union investigators.

CRASHING AUTO LANDS ON HIS FRONT PORCH; HE CHAINS IT TO TREE

Muncie, Ind., June 10.—The automobile that landed on Clyde Gray's front porch after a collision remained there today chained to a nearby tree and will continue to remain, Gray said, until he is paid for the damage done to the house.

The car knocked the supports from the porch roof and the roof rests on top of the car.

Gray said Brooks Morris, the driver, has no money to pay damages. The finance company through which Morris bought the car says it isn't interested in the automobile and the collision insurance protects them.

Meanwhile curious persons who have come to see the car fastened to the tree by a chain looped through a wheel have done the Gray's front lawn no good.

Gray put up a "please stay off" sign and stretched a wire along the walk.

STORY OF CITY'S SCHOOL SYSTEM; CHARGES STUDIED

Normal College Training Ground for Teachers.

Chicago's Schools

(Charges have been made recently that the Chicago public schools are being operated as a political spoils system, depriving pupils of full educational opportunities. These charges were published in a magazine and later repeated before the City club of Chicago.

(The club announced that it had invited James B. McCahey, president of the school board, and Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, to answer the charges. McCahey replied to his critics with a summary of the board's achievements since 1933. Dr. Johnson said he would answer the charges if they were put in writing.

(The issues involved are important since they concern the welfare of 500,000 school children. The Tribune has investigated all records of the school board and the sources of the specific charges against the board. In this and in succeeding articles, all phases of educational activity will be presented and both sides will have their say. Readers are urged to follow this series by Mr. Korman.)

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

A public school system is only as strong as the persons who form its instructional staf. The subjects for study may look attractive and all inclusive in outline, but they do not guarantee the personal element—the men and women whose job it is to teach school.

Is the teaching profession in the Chicago schools operating as a closed shop, with bars drawn against newcomers, with new blood prevented from entering the system? Critics of the school board say this is so. The board, in the words of its president, James B. McCahey, says, "That charge is far fetched and unfounded."

Source of City Teachers.

The schools draw their teaching personnel from the graduates of the Chicago Normal college, which is maintained as a unit of the educational system. A study of the background and facilities of the college will help in estimating the capabilities of its graduates. This study will be followed in a later article with the comment of leading educators on whether the college justifies its existence, and summaries of the cases for and against the continued maintenance of the school.

The predecessor of the Normal college was the Cook County Normal school, established in Blue Island in 1867 and moved to Chicago two years later.

In 1896 the county deeded building and grounds to the city, in trust for the school, with the proviso that the board of education should maintain the school and keep it available to students from the city and county. The county Normal school merged with a city teacher training class into the Chicago Normal school. The school was classified as a teachers' college in 1910 and in 1913 assumed its present title.

Equipment of the College.

The college is located at 6800 Stewart avenue on a twenty acre campus which also is the site of the South Side Junior college, the Parker Senior High school, and the Parker Practice school. The central building of the Normal college, containing 37 classrooms, was erected in 1905. The college has a library of 45,000 volumes, and laboratories, studios, shops, kitchens, and an assembly hall with a capacity of 1,000 persons. An Arts and Gymnasium building, constructed in 1912, has a spacious gymnasium and a full sized swimming pool.

Many noted educators have headed the college, including Col. Francis W. Parker, Dr. Arnold Tompkins, Dr. William Bishop Owen, and Butler Laughlin. Dr. Verne O. Graham became president last July. Dr. Graham, who is 45 years old, hold degrees as a master of science and doctor of philosophy from the University of Chicago, and has been in the Chicago school system since 1918.

Emma Fleer Muller has been dean of girls at the college since 1929. She has a bachelor of music degree. There are 36 teachers on the faculty of the college, all of whom have master's degrees.

Four Main Courses Offered.

The college offers four main courses. Two of these courses—the general elementary school training and the kindergarten primary—are three years each, and are open to high school graduates. A one year course is given for former teachers, and there is a two year course for graduates of other colleges, who may, however, complete their work in one year. All admissions to the Normal college are by examinations, given by the board of examiners of the public school system.

Subjects of study include theory and problems of education, problems of student adjustment, government and politics, health practices, appreciation of literature, the teaching of reading and composition, mathematics, mental hygiene, games, manual arts, color and pattern design, geography, chemistry, and the social sciences.

The Normal college is a member of the National Association of Teachers' Colleges. It is not, however, accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—that is, a student wishing to transfer from Normal to another college or university accredited by the association would not receive credits fully equivalent to the work he had already done.

Dr. George A. Works, dean of students at the University of Chicago and secretary of the commission on higher institutions of the North Central association, said the Chicago Normal college never has made application to become an accredited member.

Officials of the board of education declared such application was not made because Normal offers a three year course, not a four year course, as do state normal colleges. The Chicago Normal college trains its graduates for teaching in the city's elementary schools, while the Illinois state normal schools—located at Macomb, Charleston, De Kalb, and Carbondale—train most of their students for high school teaching.

[Another article by Mr. Korman, tracing the condition of the Chicago schools, will follow.]

WINS DIPLOMA

Miss Thecla Doniat, principal of the Spalding School for Crippled Children, awarding diploma to Edmund Oplawski at graduation exercises.

Commencement exercises were held yesterday and last night for most of Chicago's 34,844 public school graduates. The number of high school graduates was the largest in the history of the city. Diplomas were handed out to 12,274 pupils. In the city's 329 elementary schools exercises were held for 21,139 children.

Commencement exercises were also held during the day and evening at the city's three junior colleges and several special schools. At the Spalding School for Crippled Children 50 boys and girls received their diplomas.

Yesterday also marked the retirement of James E. McDade, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary schools, who entered the school system in 1891 after graduation from the Cook County Normal college. On his 65th birthday today Mr. McDade will leave for his summer home near Eagle River, Wis. He will be succeeded by Miss Minnie Fallon, former assistant superintendent in charge of night and vacation schools.

Knox College and Galesburg Begin Centenary Fetes Today

Galesburg, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—With pageant, parade, and special academic ceremony, Knox college and Galesburg will begin a six day joint centenary celebration tomorrow. The college and city were founded a hundred years ago by a band of pioneers from Whitesboro, N. Y.

Advance reservations indicate that at least 5,000 alumni and former residents of the city from all over the nation will attend the celebration.

Highlights on the program will be a pageant, in which 360 Knox students and Galesburg citizens will take part; a historical parade Saturday, in which merchants and college groups will enter floats; rededication Tuesday of Old Main, scene of one of the Lincoln-Douglas debates in 1858, and the inauguration Wednesday of Knox's eleventh president, Carter Davidson.

Schooner to Lead Parade.

The pageant will be presented Friday, Monday, and Tuesday nights at Lake Storey. Outstanding episodes in the history of the city and college will be portrayed, beginning with the covered wagon trek from the east and including the Lincoln-Douglas debate.

A prairie schooner from Henry Ford's collection will lead the Galesburg parade of floats Saturday. Twenty bronze tablets will be dedicated in the afternoon, marking sites of original college buildings, homes of the founders, and other historic sites.

Gov. Henry Horner, Carl Sandburg, and former Gov. John G. Winant of New Hampshire will be principal speakers at rededication of Old Main Tuesday. The building, erected in 1857, underwent exterior restoration two years ago and this year its interior has been restored. Dr. John H. Finley of New York, a former Knox president; Mrs. Philip S. Post of Chicago, chairman of the restoration committee, and President Davidson will conduct the rededication exercises.

105 to Receive Degrees.

Another event Tuesday will be a centenary educational conference, to be attended by educators representing many colleges and universities, and a number of distinguished guests. George F. Zook, president of the American council on education; Frederick A. Middlebush, president of the University of Missouri, and James L. McConnoughy, president of Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., will speak.

Degrees will be given 105 Knox seniors at the centenary commencement exercises Wednesday, following inauguration of Dr. Davidson. The inauguration speaker will be President Donald J. Cowling of Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.

SEEK TO STYMIE QUIZ ON C. I. O. MAIL CENSORING

Guffey Lays Chicago Riot to Republic Steel.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Persisting in its policy of aiding and abetting John L. Lewis' C. I. O. steel strike in the Chicago and Ohio areas, the administration tomorrow will seek to frustrate an investigation of collusion between the postoffice department and the strike leaders by making counter charges that the Republic Steel corporation is engaged in sundry forms of lawlessness.

The strategy of the administration was disclosed today when Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], whose friendship for John L. Lewis is evidenced by the Guffey coal act, made a senate speech blaming the Republic Steel corporation for that recent Chicago massacre in which C. I. O. [Committee for Industrial organization] members and sympathizers rioted, causing the loss of eight lives.

Alleged Catalog of Crimes.

Guffey also accused the Republic Steel corporation of miscellaneous crimes in a formal amendment which he offered to the resolution of Senator H. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.] demanding an investigation of charges that the postoffice department has permitted strike leaders to inspect and censor mail intended for loyal steel workers in Ohio and has refused to deliver parcel post packages of food to the marooned workers.

The committee on postoffices and post roads, to which the Bridges resolution was referred, will meet tomorrow to determine whether an investigation of the charges is waranted. Chairman Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], another ardent administration supporter, said that officials of the postoffice department, including Postmaster General James A. Farley, if he is in town, would be there to answer such evidence as Senator Bridges might offer.

Adopts Murray's Suggestion.

Senator Guffey's amendment not only adopted the suggestion of Philip Murray, regional director of the C. I. O. steel workers' organization committee, that the moral conduct of both parties to the conflict be investigated, but demanded that the committee inquire into:

"The illegal holding and use of machine guns, repeating rifles and other war paraphernalia which is now in possession of these aforesaid corporations and being used without permits in violation of the state and federal fire arms statutes.

"The dropping of material upon pedestrians upon the public highways by airplanes chartered and used by the Republic Steel corporation, the swooping down of planes over meetings of citizens to disturb lawful and peaceful assemblages, and the importation of gunmen across state lines by the Republic Steel corporation for strike breaking purposes, in violation of the Byrnes act.

"Whether the refusal of the steel companies to sign agreements constitutes a violation of the Wagner labor relations act."

VETERAN OF 40 YEARS AS A WHITE HOUSE AID RECEIVES LAW DEGREE

Rudolph Forster.

Portland, Ore., June 10.—(AP)—Rudolph Forster, a White House secretary in whose safe keeping secrets of state have reposed more than a quarter century, received a degree of doctor of laws from Reed college today.

Prevented by impaired health from accepting personally, Forster, a member of the White House secretariat 40 years, received the degree with the plaudits of two Presidents.

Said President Roosevelt in a "suggested citation":

"Rudolph Forster—trusted confidant and assistant to eight Presidents of the United States—he has sought in vain permanently to hide his light under a bushel. His important contribution of loyal and able service to the nation, like that of thousands of men and women whose names have been unsung, is appreciated and honored by his fellow citizens."

Said former President Hoover:

POLICE GUARDING FANSTEEL STRIKE JUDGE'S HOME

Fear Violence After Jailing of 32 for Contempt.

Judge Theodore Forby.

The home of Judge Theodore Forby of Zion was under a 24 hours police guard yesterday after police said they had received evidence of a threatened attack on him because he sentenced thirty-nine sitdown strikers to jail Tuesday for illegally holding possession of the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation of North Chicago last February.

Police Chief Alven Ruesch of Zion said he had received anonymous information that subversive interests planned violence on the judge. At the same time Judge Forby turned over to postal authorities a mailed note threatening him with boycott of his family and with political oblivion.

Written on Radical Paper.

The note, written on the back of an editorial in the Daily Worker, radical organ, read: "It will not be long until your two phones will be unnecessary. No—this is not a threat. It is a prophecy. And you undoubtedly know that the workers of Waukegan can do nothing better than send you on your way to political oblivion.

"A boycott of you and your family by all decent citizens of Waukegan should be the answer. And I shall do all I can to help put you in your pure light as an enemy of real Americans who are working to make America a country to be proud of and worth fighting for." The note was unsigned.

"Nobody can scare me," said Judge Forby. "Such threats are the work of a coward. I've two good fists. Because I'm 71 they may think I can't fight, but they better keep out of my way. I've got great sympathy for labor but people other than labor also suffer in times of depression."

Labor Board Quizzes Prisoners.

During the day Tilford E. Dudley, an examiner for the National Labor Relations board, began hearings on the Fansteel situation by calling as witnesses two of the 39 men sentenced by Judge Forby. Thirty-two of the 39 are in jail; the seven others are being sought. Examiner Dudley's investigation is to determine whether the company is guilty of unfair labor practices as charged by union men. The company denies the charge.

Those examined yesterday were John Kondrath, president of lodge 66, Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers of North America, a C. I. O. affiliate, and Carl Swanson, secretary of the lodge. Kondrath was sentenced to 120 days in jail and fined $150 by Judge Forby, and Swanson was given 180 days and a $300 fine.

Kondrath said that the Fansteel C. I. O. unit was formed in July after the company had brought in efficiency experts who reduced wages and increased production. The new union's only purpose, he said, was to attain collective bargaining and better working conditions. Swanson's testimony was similar, but with the addition that the union had 154 members, a majority of the Fansteel employés. Max Swiren, attorney for the company, asked Examiner Dudley to subpena the membership records, but no decision on this request was given. More witnesses will be examined today.

73 OF 105 BELVIDERE WORKERS FAVOR OWN UNION AGAINST C. I. O.

Belvidere, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—Of 105 employés of the Parsons' Casket Hardware company and its subsidiary, the Parsons-Caldwell Lamp company, who were eligible to vote, 73 cast ballots tonight favoring an independent employés' union as a collective bargaining agency. No votes were cast for affiliation with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Lawrence Kelly of Sterling, C. I. O. organizer, urged members of that union not to vote and posted signs about the polling place promising a government election June 16.

The 130 employés of the two plants found them boarded up on the morning of May 6, the day after a C. I. O. union was formed. Officials indicated they would reopen if a majority of the employés indorsed an independent union.

Two Pittsburgh Steel Corp. Plant Units Vote for C. I. O.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 10.—(AP)—The Steel Workers' Organizing committee won a collective bargaining election tonight, with a 90 per cent margin of all votes cast in the two plants of the Pittsburgh Steel corporation at Monessen and Allenport.

U. S. BEGINS QUIZ IN STRIKE CLAIM AGAINST INLAND

Way Open for Legal Test Under Wagner Act.

The national labor relations board started an investigation yesterday of a charge that the Inland Steel company is violating the Wagner labor act by refusing to sign a contract with the Steel Workers' Organizing committee. Thus the way was opened for the first legal test of the question which has tied up the plants of three independent steel producers and has thrown 70,000 men out of work.

L. C. Bajork, Chicago regional director of the labor board, said he had assigned two investigators to gather information on the charges filed by Van A. Bittner, regional chief of the S. W. O. C., on Wednesday.

Within a week, Bajork said, he expects to determine whether the evidence is sufficient to justify the filing of a formal complaint against the Inland company. If such a complaint is filed the board would send an examiner here from Washington, or appoint a Chicago attorney to serve as examiner, to hold a hearing at which both sides may present arguments.

What the Act Provides.

The chief issue at such a hearing, Bajork said, probably would be the question: "Does the Inland's refusal to sign a contract constitute proof that the company is not acting in good faith under the terms of the Wagner act?"

Section 8 of the Wagner act provides:

"It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer to interfere with, restrain or coerce employés in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in Section 7." [Section 7 gives employés the right to organize themselves into a union for collective bargaining].

Another section of the act provides: "It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer to refuse to bargain collectively with representatives of employés subject to the provisions of Section 9A." [Section 9A gives workers the right to choose their own representatives for collective bargaining].

There is no specific reference in the act to the necessity for a written agreement. Nevertheless, Bittner declared yesterday, the Inland's refusal to sign such an agreement proves its lack of good faith.

Companies Deny Charge.

Representatives of the Inland, Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube companies—the three independents affected by the strike—have denied that charge, pointing out that they all have accepted the wage demands of the S. W. O. C., and have agreed verbally to recognize the S. W. O. C. as bargaining agent for its members.

The companies have replied on the good faith charge of the union leaders by declaring that the union is irresponsible, capable at any time of embarrassing the companies, and endangering their investments of many millions of dollars.

Only one case similar to the S. W. O. C. charges against Inland could be recalled yesterday by Bajork. That case involved a strike called against the Emerson Electric company of St. Louis. The company professed its willingness to bargain with the union, Bajork said, but kept postponing action on its pledge for 62 days, and finally was held to have shown a lack of good faith.

Hope for Compromise.

Observers believed yesterday that a final settlement of the legal point on a signed contract might not be reached without long drawn out litigation. Hope was expressed that the proceedings before the labor board would bring some sort of compromise which would permit both sides to save face.

Picket lines at the strike bound plants in the Chicago district were quiet yesterday. Three hundred women pickets were on duty at the Indiana Harbor plants of the Inland and Youngstown companies. Every Tuesday and Thursday are women's days on the picket line.

OSTEOPATH IS FOUND GUILTY OF VIOLATING STATE MEDICAL LAW

A sealed jury verdict opened yesterday in the County court found Dr. Erich Frankowsky, 53 years old, 4010 Madison street, an osteopath, guilty of violating the state medical practice act. Judge Win G. Knoch of Wheaton, who presided, continued a motion for a new trial to June 18, when he will impose sentence. Dr. Frankowsky was charged with performing a surgical operation last March 4 on Philip Smith, 52 years old, 5309 Bernice avenue, contrary to provisions of an osteopathic license. Smith subsequently died from an infection.

General Strike Called in Mexico Textile Center

ORIZABA, Mexico, June 10.—(AP)—The regional confederation of labor [C. R. O. M.] today ordered a strike in all textile mills of the Orizaba area, Mexico's most important textile center, in protest against the department of labor's failure to enforce a presidential decision giving C. R. O. M. the right to bargain collectively in the Cololapam mills. The right had been disputed by its rival, the Mexican confederation of labor [C. T. M.].

4,000 IN BENDIX PLANT VOTE ON CALL TO STRIKE

South Bend, Ind., June 10.—[Special.]—Approximately 4,000 members of Bendix Local No. 9, United Automobile Workers, balloted today on whether or not to suspend work at the huge Bendix factory. If today's vote decides in favor of a strike to enforce the union's views of its bargaining rights under Bendix contract with the Committee for Industrial Organization, the executive board of the union is directed to make a reasonable effort at conciliation before suspension of work, it was said. A strike would affect approximately 6,500 laborers. In a signed statement today, Harland D. Burcham, member of the union's executive board, declared the union will invoke the Wagner act in demanding the right of all employés to join, and to have this organization bargain for them.

PRINTING SHOW OPENS TOMORROW.

Exhibits were being moved in yesterday for the National Printing and Allied industries exposition opening tomorrow at the Coliseum. The exposition will be the first of its kind held in Chicago since 1922.

Waukegan Concern Gives 2,100 a Week Off with Pay

Twenty-one hundred employés who work on an hourly wage basis are to be granted one week's vacation with pay over the July 4th holiday, the Johns-Manville company in Waukegan announced yesterday. The vacation will be from June 27 to July 5 inclusive. The entire plant is to be closed. The vacation arrangement is the result of an agreement between the company and the independent union of employés.

PICKETS CALLED OFF IN WALGREEN CLERKS' STRIKE

The last pickets were withdrawn yesterday from stores of the Walgreen company in a strike that was called by the retail clerks' union last Friday demanding recognition of the union as sole bargaining agency.

Only 27 of the company's 3,000 employés here remained away from work yesterday according to company officials who invited these 27 to return to their jobs.

C. I. O. Strikers Continue Felt Works Picketing

Picketing continued for the second day yesterday at the Western Felt works, 4115 Ogden avenue, where 500 employés affiliated with the textile workers' organizing committee of the C. I. O. struck Wednesday for higher wages, shorter hours, and union recognition. Approximately 25 strikers and sympathizers are on picket duty near the plant. Henry Faurot Jr., vice president of the company, said the company was willing to arbitrate the employés' demands.

INIQUITOUS OBSOLESCENCE

By CALEB

ELBERT HUBBARD did a great service to the world with his stirring "Message to Garcia." But he wrote something else which the world has not taken so to heart.

"Another fearful form of waste is manifested just now in the fashion in automobiles. The difference between the 1910 and 1911 models consists practically in just one thing—and that is the fore doors. . . . Recently I visited the great and splendid factories of the Willys-Overland Automobile Company at Toledo. There I was shown an actual acre of automobile bodies, made with open doors, in anticipation of the trade of 1911. . . . When the fact became fixed in the popular mind that only the fore door automobile would go, Mr. Willys . . . carried these automobile bodies out into the open, and there they were piled high and a bonfire made of them. . . . I am glad to see that he is now agitating a plan whereby the big automobile manufacturers shall get together and stand out against this iniquitous dictating of an arbitrary fashion of every year bringing out a new model."

When Mr. Hubbard wrote the above, there was an extensive body of economic thought in the United States which could support the theory that prosperity for the nation was in thrift and in product conservation.

There is a growing body of economic thought in the United States today that recognizes prosperity as a matter not of the conservation of product, but of the movement and turnover of money. Pay more wages, produce far more product, let volume reduce costs and selling prices, increase popular consumption, and let prosperity come through keeping every one busy making goods for every one else.

The Ford Motor Company through the period 1929-1936 scrapped forty-six per cent of its entire plant—or $175,000,000. In the Ford Motor Company a thing is obsolete, no matter how good it is, the moment something better appears.

Mr. Hubbard's idea was no doubt supported by the righteous indignation of many people in 1910. We know today that the path chosen by the automobile industry was the better path for progress and for society generally.

Citizen Police Overturn Strikers' Auto

Special policemen, sworn in to aid uniformed forces in battle against C. I. O. pickets at Newton Steel company plant in Monroe, Mich., are smashing and overturning the cars left behind by strikers as they fled. Police escorted 800 workmen into the plant after battle.

STRIKERS' ARMY MARCHES TO AID STEEL RIOTERS

Auto Union Throws Men Into Monroe, Mich.

beleaguered men awaited a possible attack.

The tempers here are hostile. This was demonstrated just before yesterday's disturbance after Gov. Murphy had urged Picket Leader Mayberry to let the nonstrikers enter the Newton plant unmolested. Mayberry acceded. But the pickets did not.

"They can get into the plant only over our dead bodies," they cried. This started the riot, for Chief Fisher ordered the charge that scattered the pickets and made way for the nonstrikers. Hundreds of spectators saw the fight.

Police Start Envelopment.

Special policemen armed with gas guns laid down a barrage as their line moved forward. A dozen vigilantes hurled bombs releasing nauseating gas.

At the same time came a surprise attack upon the pickets. Seventy-five police who had lain in hiding around a highway curve moved in, also hurling gas bombs.

Squeezed between the two forces, the pickets remained to fight only a few moments before retreating. In that brief time, however, they also threw gas bombs, laid down a barrage of rocks, and wielded clubs.

The pickets even had their own surprise strategy. As the special police approached the diminishing picket line, 40 strike sympathizers who had stood undetected in the crowd of spectators opened fire with gas bombs in an unexpected flank attack.

Halt to Return Fire.

The police advance was halted until the law defenders returned the fire in kind. Scores of spectators as well as strikers were routed by the police gas. The pickets rapidly retreated then, hurling bricks at their pursuers as they fled.

A few were trapped in the swampy land through which the paved highway ran. Some of them bled from cuts on their faces as they were marched back past the picket post.

After the pickets had been dispersed, police set fire to the canvas and wood lean-to which the strikers had used as a shelter and commissary during nearly two weeks they guarded the plant. Police also removed the barrier of ropes, benches, an overturned scow, and automobiles the pickets had erected.

Put Strikers' Car in River.

Seven automobiles left behind by the fleeing pickets were dumped into the Raisin river that runs near the scene. Five other cars were overturned. Uniformed police stopped men wearing the white arm bands of the special police from pushing the eighth motor car into the river.

The police detachment was made up of 20 regular policemen, 50 deputy sherifs, and deputized American Legionnaires and idle Newton Steel workers. During the trouble Legionnaires took over the policing of the downtown district of Monroe, a city of 20,000.

Mayor Daniel A. Knaggs had deputized 100 citizens after Gov. Murphy refused state aid following reports that from 8,000 to 10,000 C. I. O. members from Detroit planned to help keep the mill closed. Apparently, however, the pickets received no outside help.

Eleven Chevrolet Plants Close.

Flint, Mich., June 10.—[Special.]—Officials of the Chevrolet Motor company announced tonight that the big motor factory here and plants in ten other cities will be closed tomorrow because of a lack of parts from the strike-affected foundry at Saginaw, Mich.

A notice posted here said all departments in the big motor building plant in Flint except the final assembly line would cease operations at 1 a. m. The shutdown will throw 14,000 men out of work here.

The Chevrolet foundry at Saginaw, where about 9,000 men are employed, was shut down by a dispute said to have ensued when the management disciplined a man who slowed the line of operations.

Instigators of the Consumers Power company strike which paralyzed the great Saginaw valley yesterday will be disciplined for their unwaranted act, Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, said today.

Martin opened an investigation of the strike to determine where the blame should be placed. Power plant workers pulled main line switches despite advice against it by their leaders, including John L. Lewis, after an agreement had been reached in Washington.

For nearly 24 hours the thickly populated valley, the center of automobile manufacturing, was without electric current. The work and play of more than 450,000 persons was disrupted by a comparative handful of strikers.

A LETTER TO LEWIS

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Representatives of the Republic Steel corporation late today released the text of a telegram sent to John L. Lewis by Monroe, Mich., workmen who want the plant reopened. The wire, which Lewis won't discuss, read:

"The undersigned represent the employés of the Monroe plant of the Newton Steel company, which belongs to Republic Steel corporation. This plant has been closed because you, or one of your generals, pushed a button and ordered it closed. Neither the men working in the plant nor the company had anything to say about it.

"We have been out of work for two weeks and we don't like it. We have heard that you are a friend of the working man, but all you have done for us is to cost us two weeks' pay already and still you're trying to keep us from going back to work.

"Mr. Lewis, we want to ask you some questions.

"Do you believe in the right of free American citizens to work if they choose to work?

"If you do, prove it by taking your pickets out of Monroe.

"In a ballot taken here Monday among 876 employés only 20 said they wanted to strike. The rest voted they wanted to work.

"When, after this vote, you still keep us from working by bringing in an army of pickets from other cities, you are telling the world that you don't believe in the right of free citizens to work if they choose.

"You are saying that American workmen have the right to work only if you give them permission.

"It's up to you to show your hand. Either let us go back to work or come out like an honest man and admit that your real purpose is to rule the workers by force.

"Why are you doing this? Is it because you want to set up a dictatorship in America?

[Signed] "CHARLES STROEHM,
"WILLIAM ANDREWS,
"W. L. McCARTY,

ECONOMIC BASIS OF STEEL WAR ON C. I. O. EXPLAINED

Figures Show Lewis-ism Fosters Inefficiency.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Youngstown, O., June 10.—[Special.]—A spokesman for the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company today gave the first detailed explanation of why the independent steel producers whose plants now are closed or operating with skeleton crews in the fifteenth day of the strike have refused to sign contracts with the Steel Workers' Organizing committee, an affiliate of John L. Lewis' radical Committee for Industrial Organization.

These reasons are fundamentally economic and affect the continued existence of the steel mills themselves, according to the spokesman, who refused to allow his name to be used but who assured reporters that his views exactly reflected those of Frank Purnell, president of the Sheet and Tube company.

Face High Transportation Costs.

"The steel business is a highly competitive one," said the spokesman. "We independent companies are inland producers and our transportation costs are higher than those of the big corporations. Consequently, the only way we are able to continue to operate profitably is by constant modernization of our plants so that our production costs run lower than those of our business rivals.

"One of the largest factors in production is the skill of the individual laborer. Our people here in the Mahoning valley are just about the best steel men in the world. Why? Because most of them have grown up in it. Father to son they have been steel workers and they know their stuff.

Comparison of Cold Figures.

"We looked on while the big corporations signed and we got production figures from them for the first month of operation after they had signed up with the S. W. O. C. What did we find?

"One company, for example, took a drop of 22 per cent in plant efficiency. Practically every one suffered in reduced production. When the men had their contract they let down, there was an attempt to level off the productive level. The good men didn't work as hard so that the poor laborer wouldn't look so bad.

"Now the independent producers simply cannot absorb any such loss in plant efficiency. Their margins are too narrow.

The Department Strike Evil.

"Another thing. We've watched what happened in the automobile industry. We find that there are constant small strikes in one part of the auto plants or in another. The producers are forced to shut down their plants when one department strikes, although perhaps 90 per cent of their workers are glad to be working.

"Now look at this picture from the production side. In the auto industry when such things happen the plant managers simply push a switch and everything closes down. Their people go home, the grievance of the striking department is adjusted and the next day the work is taken up right where it was left off.

A Complex Business.

"The steel industry, however, cannot be run that way. We don't have the mechanical setup of the auto industry, and our processing is not the simple single operation of mining—for another example.

"When we start on a Monday morning we have to keep going. We can't have strikes when we start a batch of steel through our plants. We have to keep going 24 hours a day. We cannot have some men in the rolling mills suddenly quitting and holding up the rest of the mills.

"We deal in molten metal. We can't just walk off and leave a pot of it boiling.

Invite Frank Adjustments.

"And yet—speaking for the Youngstown company—we are not opposed to unions. We are opposed to closed shops, but we have told the union men and all our people that if they have grievances they can come in and adjust them with us over the table.

"We intend to live up to the Wagner labor act 100 per cent, but not any more than that."

There were indications here tonight that the conference between representatives of the steel companies and the labor leaders called by Gov. Davey for tomorrow afternoon at Columbus may not materialize.

The feeling in Youngstown today was somewhat tenser than at any previous time during the strike with pickets around the 25 miles of plants here highly excited about the pitched battle which occurred just after midnight this morning at a gate to the Republic Steel corporation.

Pickets Shoot Union Member.

City police who had escorted the food trucks attempted to move the blockade but were unsuccessful. The pickets shot and wounded Ralph A. Ross, a union man but not a striker, who appeared at the entrance.

Police who arrived to investigate the shooting were beaten with clubs. They called upon Sherif Ralph Elser for help and the latter brought to the scene one hundred deputy sherifs armed with tear gas guns.

For twenty minutes the deputies fired gas shells and the pickets replied with revolver shots. Then the pickets broke and seventeen of them surrendered. The remainder escaped in the darkness and rain. About twenty persons in all, including four policemen, were injured in addition to Ross.

STRIKING CLEANERS' UNION ORDERED NOT TO MOLEST RIVALS

Judge Walter T. Stanton yesterday issued a temporary injunction restraining local 17742 of the striking Cleaners, Dyers, and Pressers union from preventing members of a rival unit, the International Association of Cleaning and Dye House Workers, local 3, from getting work. Local 17742 was also ordered to notify its members that the strike is a violation of its contract with plant owners.

"Open those plants if the people want to work," declared Judge Stanton. "This is just a jurisdictional fight between unions to see who is going to collect the dues. I will have law and order in Chicago."

Local 17742 called a strike last week. It was recently ousted by the American Federation of Labor for refusing to let the international organization examine its books. Gun play and violence have accompanied the strike.

LEWIS' BROTHER GIVEN BIG WPA JOB, SAYS HOLT

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Senator Rush D. Holt [D., West Va.] charged on the senate floor today that Raymond Lewis, "brother of the labor racketeer, John L. Lewis," was brought in from the outside and placed on the administrative pay roll of the Works Progress administration in West Virginia.

Senator Holt made his allegation when he introduced for the record a letter from Aubrey Williams, assistant WPA administrator, refusing to give him information on the number and salary of WPA administrative employés in the state.

Senator Holt demanded to know whether Lewis was placed on the WPA administrative pay roll because of his relationship to the CIO dictator and whether he had received "any more raises."

Find Robbery Suspect Has Mark of 19 Convictions

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—The impeachment of F. Lynden Smith, Gov. Horner's campaign manager and director of public works, was recommended by Senator R. Wallace Karraker [D., Jonesboro] in a senate session this afternoon, in which both the governor and his department head were dragged over the coals for their pursuit of patronage that would be created by a drivers' license law.

Senators George M. Maypole and Harold G. Ward, Chicago Democrats, directed their verbal bombardment at the governor, dropping only occasional shells upon Smith. From now until the end of the session, July 1, the outlook is for a factional war in the majority party, with trench knives threatening much important legislation in addition to the drivers' license bill.

Replies to Statement.

Maypole started today's gunning by asking for the privilege of the floor to reply to a statement issued last night by the governor's press agent. It quoted Smith in an attack on P. A. Nash, national Democratic committeeman and chairman of the Cook county central committee. It accused Nash of blocking passage of the drivers' license bill unless the administration is placed with his protégé, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, rather than in the governor's highway department.

"The statement would not have been issued by the governor's press agent without the governor's approval," said Maypole, who is a close friend as well as political associate of Nash. "Following his usual procedure in such matters, Mr. Horner has chosen to speak his mind while hiding behind Lyn Smith.

Charges Falsehoods.

"The press release is full of misrepresentations and falsehoods, and it doesn't come in good grace for Mr. Horner to attack the Democratic leader of Illinois who made him governor.

Senator Ward then opened fire.

"We are told that we can't pass a driver bill unless it is as the governor wants it," he said. "We know what happened in the house with Smith, Artie O'Brien [the governor's secretary], and Ernst Lieberman [chief of highway department], heading a lobby.

"I'm told representatives were offered jobs and roads in return for their votes to send the administration of the law to the highway department.

"They have tried to put pressure on the senate without much luck."

Discharge to Be Sought.

Senator Charles W. Baker [R., Davis Junction], who has been in the legislature since 1917, said Smith, as an appointive officer, cannot be impeached. He said he will introduce a resolution Monday night asking the governor to discharge Smith for cause.

U. S. INDICTS TEN AS CONSPIRATORS IN BREMER CASE

Toledo, O., June 10.—[Special.]—Seven Toledo and three Cleveland residents were indicted today by the federal grand jury here, which has been investigating the 1934 and 1935 activities of the Barker-Karpis-Campbell gang of kidnapers and mail robbers in Toledo and Cleveland.

Those indicted are Ted and Bert Angus, former operators of a Toledo night club; Edward McGraw and his wife, Clara, and Edith Barry, rooming house operators; Frank Greenwald, a taxicab driver, and Sam Coker, southwestern desperado, all of Toledo; Arthur Hebebrand and Anthony Amersbach, Cleveland, owners of the Harbor club, and John Gorman, Cleveland, employé of the club.

The indictments accuse the group of being accessory after the fact of the Bremer kidnaping, conspiracy with each other and members of the Barker-Karpis-Campbell gang to assist the gang in evading arrest, and conspiracy to harbor members of the gang. The penalty for the first count is a maximum of 10 years' imprisonment and two years for each of the other two counts.

QUEEN MARIE ILL; CALL SPECIALISTS TO EXAMINE HER

VIENNA, June 10.—(AP)—Archduchess Ileana of Austria disclosed tonight three specialists had been summoned to examine her mother, Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania, in her summer residence at Sinaia, Rumania.

Queen Marie.

The queen, who is 61 years old, was seriously ill in March when an attack of grippe was followed by gastric hemorrhages. Physicians announced May 2, she needed a long period of complete rest to recover from a deficiency in her blood.

"Mother's condition is believed not to be serious," the archduchess said. "The royal family, however, was worried because the queen mother was recuperating too slowly, so we called the best European specialists to reëxamine her."

The three physicians called were Prof. Hans Eppinger of Vienna, Prof. Aldo Castellani, Italian specialist in tropical diseases, and Nicola Pende, heart specialist.

The Law Calls for a Ride to Decide Speeder's Fine

Miss Dorothy Bradshaw, 29 years old, 436 Maple avenue, Winnetka, was arraigned on a speeding charge yesterday before Judge James Corcoran in the Evanston Municipal court. She denied that her car was going 38 miles an hour on June 2, as Policeman Henry Witt testified. "The car won't go more than 25 miles an hour, because it has a sticky valve," she said. The court agreed to a test. If Witt can drive the car 38 miles an hour on Monday Miss Bradshaw will have to pay a fine.

GIRL, 5, DASHES AGAINST TRUCK; FATALLY HURT

Frances Pallarino, 5 years old, was fatally injured yesterday when she ran against the side of a moving truck in front of her home at 1132 Taylor street. She was pronounced dead at the Mother Cabrini hospital. The driver, Robert Tarzi, 27 years old, 1113 Loomis street, was held for the inquest.

Henry Sample, 80 years old, 440 North Wells street, died yesterday in County hospital of injuries incurred Wednesday when he was struck by a truck at Clark street and Grand avenue. Arthur Hedrich, 28 years old, 2321 Carver street, driver of the truck, told Chicago avenue police that Sample walked into the side of the vehicle. He was not held.

Ruth Rawlings, 7 years old, 2854 Van Buren street, was critically injured last night when she ran into the side of an automobile almost in front of her home. The driver, Fred David, 22, of 2358 Lexington street, took her to the Presbyterian hospital, where it was found she had suffered a skull fracture. David was not held.

F. Lynden Smith, state director of public works, reported yesterday in Springfield that 215 persons were killed in automobile accidents in Illinois during April. This was a 28.7 per cent increase over the average of April fatalities for the previous five years, he said.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 466 persons had been killed in Cook county automobile accidents since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. Of this number, 362 were killed in Chicago, where 9,095 were injured in trafic accidents in the same period.

Tipsy Driver, Seized After Crash, Gets 5 Days in Jail

John Zelant, 45 years old, 2615 Jones street, was sentenced to five days in the county jail by Judge George B. Weiss in the Safety court yesterday for driving while intoxicated. Zelant was arrested last Sunday after the tow truck he was driving collided with a car owned by John Fogel, 3855 North Damen avenue, at 2550 Diversey avenue.

HUNT FOR PARENTS OF TWO TINY BABIES ABANDONED IN FIELD

Clarence, N. Y., June 10.—[Special.]—State police were searching tonight for the parents of two unidentified babies found in a field near here during a thundershower early today.

Mrs. Howard Meredith, living near the field, said she was awakened by the babies' cries. She aroused her husband and went out to investigate. They found the infants lying together, a box of diapers, and a bottle of milk near by.

The babies were taken to the Buffalo City hospital. They are about ten days old and both are girls. Although it was estimated they had been exposed to heavy rain for four or five hours, a physician at the hospital said they appeared to be comfortable and were not ill.

Authorities believe the girls are twins, but hospital attendants said that although they were dressed alike they look different.

ANTI-LYNCH BILL WINS FAVORABLE SENATE ACTION

Washington, D. C., June 10.—(AP)—A favorable report from a senate judiciary subcommittee on the Wagner-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill sped another major controversy toward the senate floor today.

Van Nuys [D., Ind.], chairman of the subcommittee, said he hoped to win approval of the bill by the full committee Monday. This would send the controversial measure to the senate, where southern senators have filibustered against such legislation in the past.

Van Nuys said the subcommittee approved the measure, by himself and Senator Wagner [D., N. Y.], as a substitute for the Gavagan bill recently passed in the house. He added he was informed Representative Gavagan [D., N. Y.] is agreeable to the change.

HELD ON WOMAN'S CHARGE.

It's Cheaper to Buy Good Soap than New Clothes

MY FRIENDS WOULD BE AMAZED IF THEY KNEW

How Little I Spend On Clothes Since Using American Family Soap"

—says MRS. H. J. RIORDAN

"I'VE found that what counts most is the way clothes look—not what they cost. That's why I use American Family Soap in my laundry. Its cleansing action is so gentle yet requires so little rubbing that clothes last much longer. White things come out whiter, colored things brighter, too."

HERE is the reason American Family Soap will get your wash CLEANER and WHITER with utter safety to ALL fabrics. Laboratory tests have proved that it has greater washing power than other soaps tested—including soaps with naphtha in them. This is because American Family Soap has as much as ONE-THIRD more suds-making material than other leading laundry soaps sold in this market. This extra suds-making material dissolves almost instantly into rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE SUDS" which actually float out grimiest dirt—without scrubbing, boiling, or hard, ruinous rubbing. This is why white fabrics come out snowy white. Why colored fabrics are more brilliant. And, most important, WHY ALL WASHABLES LAST MUCH LONGER. More women in and around Chicago use American Family than any other brand. You, too, will quickly learn what these countless thousands of women already know—THAT IT IS CHEAPER TO BUY GOOD SOAP THAN NEW CLOTHES. Use American Family Soap. Made by Procter & Gamble.

It's Far Cheaper To Use—

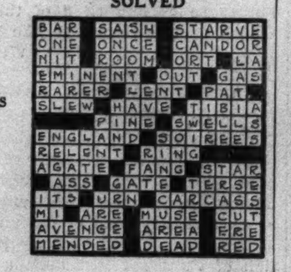
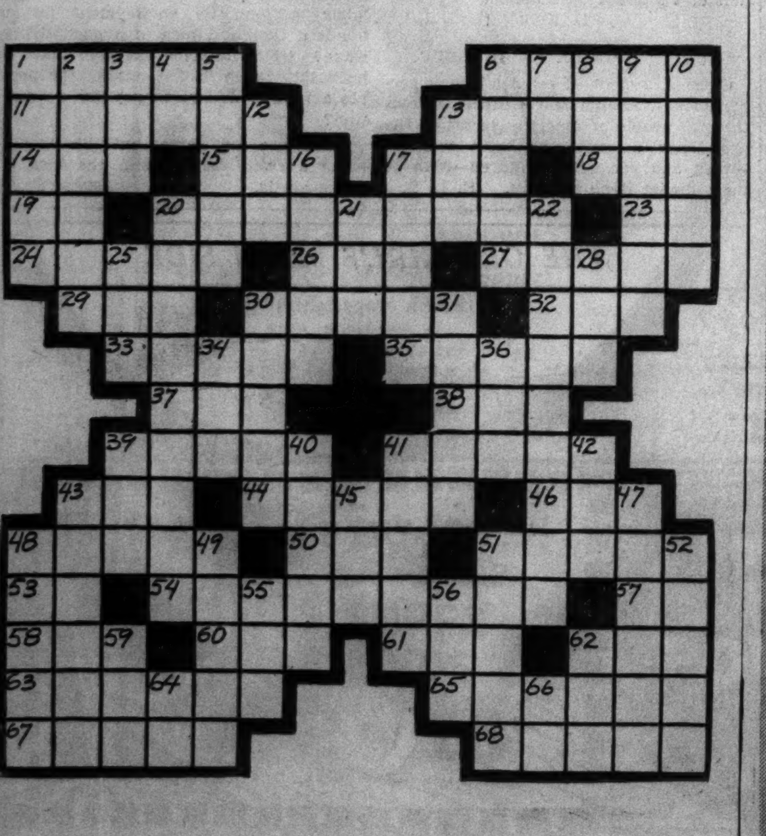
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





NEW YORK TRUCK RACKET BROKEN; BOSSES CONFESS

Guilty Plea Is Made After Seven Day Trial.

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—The two men accused of dominating the racket which for four years terrorized trucking in the garment section pleaded guilty today to a ten count indictment charging them with conspiracy extortion, assault, and malicious mischief.

The sudden decision to plead guilty came as a surprise to Thomas E. Dewey, special rackets prosecutor, whose perfect record in prosecuting racketeering case thus was maintained, as well as to Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook and the jury which had listened to the state's case for seven court days.

The defendants are James Plumeri, alias Jimmy Doyle, and John Dioguardi, alias Johnny Dio. They will be sentenced on June.

Demoralized by Terror.

In thanking the jurors for their service, Justice McCook touched on the testimony of the twenty-eight witnesses summoned by assistants to Dewey, saying:

"You heard enough of the truth to know that a great industry closely connected with three branches of another great industry was demoralized by terror and, until this investigation came to its assistance, was by way of complete subjection to a few determined criminals."

Justice McCook said it was inconceivable that the defendants should have chosen to lie in jail for months before pleading guilty had "they not, though conscious of guilt, believed they might escape, either through the inability of the people to prove guilt or the hope that the jury might be fooled. . . .

Born in Italy.

In giving his pedigree, Plumeri said he was 34 years old, married, born in Italy, and a naturalized American. Dioguardi said he was 25, married, and American-born of Italian parentage. Each man said he was temperate and never had been convicted before.

The racketeers started by terrorizing small independent truckmen and worked up to the garment center truckmen's association through threats of Doyle, Dio, and the murdered Jack Terry. They forced truckers to go into the five borough truckmen's service association, paying tribute of $500 a month. The state brought out there had been threats of sabotage and physical violence and produced men who had been beaten by thugs when they failed to obey the orders of Doyle and Dio, and others whose trucks had been ruined.

Murder Defendant

WALTER RUDY.

Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in Criminal court yesterday took under advisement charges of murder against Andrew Le Roy Miller, 19 years old, 5050 North Western avenue, and Walter W. Rudy, 15, of 747 Keith street, charged with killing Anton Fallmerayer, 60 years old, in the basement of his rooming house at 6496 Northwest highway on March 27. Miller admitted on the stand during a bench trial that he struck Fallmerayer on the head but claimed provocation. Because of the youth of the defendants, the state did not seek the death penalty.

Tiny Pianos Like Big Ones with Help of Radio Tubes

Tiny pianos with the tone and volume of concert grands, through the aid of radio tube amplifiers, will be a sensation of the musical world this season, Dr. O. E. Caldwell, former federal radio commissioner, told the Institute of Radio Service Men at the opening of their annual convention in the Stevens hotel yesterday. Dr. Caldwell predicted that these instruments would help bring self created music back to the American home.

MOVE TO SLASH RELIEF FUND TO A BILLION FAILS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Hope of economy advocates to lop off 500 million dollars from President Roosevelt's request for 1 billion 500 million to spend on work relief in the 1938 fiscal year was virtually abandoned today when the senate appropriations subcommittee rejected, by a vote of 5 to 4, such an amendment offered by Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.].

However, the subcommittee adopted, by a vote of 7 to 3, another Byrnes amendment requiring local sponsors of WPA projects to put up 40 per cent of the cost or else take a "pauper's oath" that their credit and taxpaying capacity will not permit them to do so.

Administration Victory.

The defeat of the Byrnes amendment to reduce the relief appropriation by one-third represented a victory for the administration, which previously had overridden economy advocates in the house as well as various blocs which sought to earmark the appropriation for specific types of construction. The full appropriations committee of the senate is expected to follow the action of the subcommittee and, although there will be a fight on the senate floor, the Byrnes amendment is now given little chance of success.

The subcommittee struck out the proposed "reappropriation of unexpended, unobligated sums" which Administrator Harry L. Hopkins will have on hand at the close of the fiscal year. Hopkins sought the reappropriation of some 223 million dollars in unexpended balances, but his plea was spurned. However, administration leaders pointed out that he will have until June 30 to "obligate" this amount.

Approve WPA Extension.

The subcommittee also adopted an amendment by Senator Carl Hayden [D., Ariz.] extending the Public Works administration until June 30, 1939, with an authorization for it to use funds on hand and to be realized from the sale of collateral in making grants not to exceed 100 million dollars and loans not to exceed 300 million. This would be on the old basis of 45 per cent in federal grants, instead of President Roosevelt's recent executive order limiting the federal government's share to 115 per cent of the amount actually used for relief labor.

ANTICIPATE CRASH? 'I'M NO SUPERMAN,' SAYS INSULL IN SUIT

Further clashes between Samuel Insull, former utilities magnate, and Attorney Lewis Jacobson, counsel for the noteholders in the $40,000,000 suit against the Insull Utility Investments, Inc., enlivened the taking of depositions yesterday before Federal Master in Chancery Jacob I. Grossman. The hearing is expected to be concluded today.

Insull repeatedly interrupted the proceedings to charge that Jacobson was emphasizing untruths in his cross-examination. After Jacobson asked Insull whether he anticipated the depression when his companies issued $60,000,000 of debentures, the latter angrily replied: "I am not a superman. I'm like any one else. No one could anticipate the depression. You are always putting me in a position not in accord with the truth."

Jacobson objected, and the court warned Insull that the questioning had been proper. "Mr. Jacobson is just in this for the publicity anyway," Insull then remarked.

AN INJUSTICE TO A JUDGE.

The house of representatives at Springfield made a mistake when it refused to authorize an investigation by a committee of the house into the conduct of Judge Edwin L. Wilson of Joliet.

Judge Wilson was accused by a fellow Democrat from his own district, Representative Perry, of extending the protection of the court to slot machine operators in violation of the law. The charge is a serious one and if sustained might justify the removal of the judge by impeachment proceedings. The investigation was intended to disclose whether grounds for impeachment existed.

It was no kindness to the judge to block the inquiry. He finds himself now under the shadow of an imputation which he has no certain means of dispelling. If the inquiry had been ordered, he could have faced his accusers and sought to disprove the charges. As matters stand, he has been denied the opportunity which every honest man, jealous of his reputation for integrity, most desires when his good faith has been questioned.

The members of the house who voted against the inquiry seem to have been impressed with the argument that Representative Perry is not on good terms with the judge. If the charges are based on nothing more than ill will, an official inquiry would quickly reveal the truth. The majority in the house was impressed also by a round robin signed by almost all the lawyers at the Will county bar attesting their confidence in the judge, but that testimonial, as Representative Lewis pointed out, must be read in the light of the fact that Judge Wilson presides over the court in which these lawyers are obliged to appear. They can hardly be regarded as wholly disinterested witnesses.

Judge Wilson is left in a bad light. To clear his reputation he should demand that the inquiry be held.

LIVES AT STAKE.

It will be a tragic misfortune if the driver's license bill fails of enactment at this session of the legislature. There is no serious difference of opinion upon the essential features of this measure, which every one agrees will contribute materially to the removal of some unnecessary hazards on the highways. The difference of opinion is over a question of administration and it should not be permitted to defeat or postpone enactment. No issue of administrative procedure is important enough to justify that. Lives and much suffering will be saved if the essential provisions of the measure are promptly made law, whatever agency of enforcement is determined upon. With lives at stake it should be possible to bring about some satisfactory compromise or agreement upon the administrative question at issue in time to insure the public the benefits of the law at once.

FOR AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS.

Mr. Charles R. Walgreen and the Julius Rosenwald Family Foundation have given respectively $550,000 and $275,000 to establish a chair for the study of American institutions. We congratulate the donors on the intelligent timeliness of their generosity and the University of Chicago upon an important addition to its educational resources. The university has suffered on occasion from the self-advertisment of some pretty nutty members of the faculty and the establishment of the new chair will go far toward discounting their activities.

Mr. Walgreen's gift is a practical expression of the concern he has shown for the defense of American ideals and all who cherish them will be grateful to him and to the directors of the Rosenwald Foundation. We share Mr. Walgreen's sturdy confidence that "if our students study our own bill of rights there is no danger that they will be led astray by foreign isms—and that includes communism." We know that the tendency to disparage American ideas and institutions has never been more active than in recent years and there has been uncomfortable evidence of its presence in education. A committee of the faculty of Harvard university has recently commented on the deplorable fact that "even cultivated Americans are frequently uninformed as to the development of this civilization and indifferent to the history of their country." Something is gravely lacking in American college and university conditions if this can be said of the graduates they turn out, presumably to be among the leaders of all American activities. It is obvious, as the Harvard committee remarked, that "unless citizens of a democracy are aware of the means by which their country has become what it is, the efforts and sacrifices that have been made in the past to secure liberty and opportunity for the present, they are apt to exchange their birthright for the proverbial mess of pottage."

Nothing has been more ominous in recent years in this country than the failure among educated Americans to rise to a vigorous defense of American ideals and principles. It is said that the great majority of both teachers and students are loyal to these ideals and principles, and we are glad to be able to say we are confident this is true. But it is a loyalty that takes too much for granted and needs courageous and vigorous assertion. The radical critic takes and keeps the stage and the limelight. His zeal is unceasing. His influence upon youth is out of proportion to his weight or his numbers.

It should be clear enough at this time, even to normally indifferent Americans, that American institutions as well as American peace and civilized order are endangered. They will be lost if they are not vigorously defended and that defense must be led by men and women who are intelligently devoted to them. The gift of Mr. Walgreen and the Rosenwald Family Foundation is a reminder to all loyal Americans that their heritage is at stake. It is not only an example of constructive patriotism but a call to battle.

THE FUTURE OF THE COUNTY HOSPITAL.

The appointment of an advisory committee of laymen to assist the county board in the management of the County hospital has much to recommend it. The institution is said to be the largest charitable hospital in the world. Over the years, despite attempts to use it for political purposes, the hospital has maintained a fairly high standard. Its staf has contained the names of most of the eminent figures in medicine and surgery in Chicago and these doctors have done some of their best work there. In the quality of care given the poor as well as in research and teaching the institution has been of enormous value to the community and, indeed, to the world.

Nevertheless, there is much room for improvement. A year or so ago the County hospital was removed from the American Medical association's list of accredited institutions. Numerous faults were found with the hospital, but in general the criticism was directed at lax discipline and loose executive control. From the fact that the association has now reinstated the County hospital it may be inferred that the principal faults have been corrected; it is with a view to making the improvement permanent and continuous that the citizens' committee has been appointed.

The rôle of the committee will be twofold. It will advise the county board on desirable changes in the executive organization of the institution, and it will make plans for the future development of the hospital for the service of the poor.

Frequently when such committees are appointed the taxpayers are justified in suspecting that the citizens so honored are being used to screen political manipulation. While a certain skepticism is always wholesome, there is little reason to question the county board's good faith in this matter. The same board has coöperated well with the forest preserve advisory committee. The men selected for the hospital committee are not gullible, are jealous of their reputations and would not allow their names to be used for ulterior purposes. As a matter of fact, the members of the county board have much more to gain politically from a highly efficient institution for the care of the sick than from an inefficient one. Accordingly they can be expected to heed the recommendations offered them.

The appointment of the hospital committee promises much for the welfare of the poor of the county and for the progress of medical science in the city. The county board is to be congratulated on taking so constructive a step.

BRITISH FASCIST CENSORSHIP.

The British government has advised the English moving picture exhibitors that the showing of news reels of the Windsor marriage would not be favorably regarded. The distributors and exhibitors discreetly have clamped a censorship on themselves. The movies of the wedding of Edward VIII. will not be seen by the British.

Downing street has told the newspapers that the religious ceremony, so undesired by the authorities of the church, the Rev. Mr. Jardine, and all the controversy which was started by the appearance of the presbyter vagans at Monts to give "my king" the marriage service of the church, should be ignored and forgotten.

Mr. Jardine himself was advised to be discreet and silent, advice he did not entirely accept. The postoffice has retired the stamps issued when Edward was the reigning king. If the George VI. stamp supply runs out an issue of George V. will be used.

Such advices and orders are familiar to Fascist continental Europe. Downing street can copy Hitler and Mussolini when the occasion arises. English newspapers, being driven underground by censorship and governmental demands, are adopting methods by which the continental Fascist press occasionally tries to give the readers news.

A copy of the Daily Express, just arrived, has a double column front page story headed: "Royal Family and Cabinet Clash. Allegations in U. S. Press; The Facts." Among the reproductions of news taken from American papers prominence is given to a story by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S David Darrah in London telling how the ministry successfully opposed the royal family's desire to recognize that Edward VIII. was being married. The reproductions give English readers the news. The escape from responsibility, the escape from honest newspaper service, may be found in the editorial intimation that such news should not be printed, but nevertheless here it is as an example of bad journalism.

[Peoria Journal-Transcript.]

It has been noted in song that in India only "mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the noonday sun." Americans may be added to the list of those creatures who don't know when it's time to sit in the shade and sip cooling drinks. Indeed, the American is the greater fool, for his pace is more hurried, and he conceives it his duty to earn the title of "go-getter" even at the risk of sunstroke.

The Frenchman pauses at midday for a leisurely repast, occupying himself for some two hours in this pleasurable ritual. The Latins halt commercial activities for a siesta when the sun burns hot above them.

Peoria continues in summer under the illusion that she is a temperate zone city when in truth her climate is equatorial. True, ingenious science has opened the way to hot weather comforts and enterprising industrialists have made air conditioning available at comparatively small cost. Local matrons will discover that shopping is one of the coolest of summer activities.

But in most homes and offices the sultry heat remains unconquered. The sidewalks are much better suited for egg frying than for pedestrian trafic. If Peorians were sensible, they would desert the company of mad dogs and Englishmen and turn to the comfortable siesta. But it will take more than a tropical sun to change the mores of this obstinate people. In all probability they will continue to hustle when they should be reclining and will spend leisure hours clouting a little white ball with an odd assortment of clubs.

A COMMITTEE to aid Spanish democracy, whatever that is, has protested against limitation of volunteers' passports and asks what would have happened if Kosciusko, Steuben, Lafayette, and Pulaski had been kept out of the U. S. Well, sagely observes W. Dee, Crawford avenue would still have its name.

Rather would I hear such names
As Angkor, Samarkand and Crete,
As Lesbos, Kashmir and Tehran,
Than bells of bronze, however sweet.

But, failing this, it comforts me

THE PICTURES make us believe that this year's bathing suits are splendidly beautiful. On the other hand, the models used by the photogs would make any bathing suit appear marvelous.

HOMETOWN FEUD.

From 1885 to 1907 the Cables and the Wileys, who were near the top of Hometown's aristocratic scale, were at feud. Only, of course, in a social sense—they were too genteel to take down their ancestors' old squirrel rifles and use them for the purpose actually intended. . . . The disagreement was originally commercial. Mrs. Ephraim Cable, who lived on the outer edge of town, kept a cow and chickens and frequently sold butter, milk, and eggs to Mrs. Walter Wiley. They were both determined dowagers and excellent bookkeepers. . . . One month Mrs. Cable tendered a monthly bill for $6.35 and added an item: "50 cents for things I may have forgotten." Mrs. Wiley sent a colored boy with $5.85 and a note which stated: "50 cents deducted for items I did forget."

It Keeps the Organist Jumping.

(An Iowa Paper, via Aunt Harriet)

When the organist at St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, Blackstone, Miss., sits down to play he plays in two states at once. The state line runs through the choir loft of the church, bisecting the organ so that one-half is in Blackstone and the other in Woonsocket, R. I.

OUR NORMAL STATE (we speak of the s. c. civilized human race) is a crisis. This condition, in all probability, will long endure. Somebody, some group, is always trying to operate planned economies and planned societies without having plans. Fellows who couldn't put a new spark plug in the car are willing and anxious to make over the whole engine of civilization. It is inevitable that there should be changes, but need they be so violent? We think something is lost when faith in goodness and fair dealing are gone, and we can't believe that there's much sense in believing that every angel should carry a flaming sword and use it against every personally nominated devil.

PYGMALION TO GALATEA.

Wake, Galatea, wake! It cannot be
You have not sensed the pressure of the hand
That stroked the yielding clay to symmetry.
It must be that you feel and understand
How mounting ardor tempered every touch,
How pride of skill was lost in tenderness,
Till at the last the sculptor's love was such
That every chisel blow was a caress.

Wake, Galatea! Breathe and look and live.
Marble thou wast. Be now divinely human.
Nay, spirit thou wast; 'tis only flesh I give.
With both, be now the incomparable woman.
Not as an artifact would I possess thee,
Fruit of my toil for keeping or for losing.
With lifted hands I liberate and bless thee.
Mine is the maker's joy, thine the free choosing.

For if some skill of mine in plastic art
Has shaped the stone to beauty, if the strife
Of love to frame its object warms the heart
Of marble till it flutters into life,
Your loveliness no less has quickened me,
Waking what slumbered since my life began.
You, fresh created, hold creation's key.
Sculptor I was; your love will make me man.

SIR: Charles Kullman, the tenor, says: "Men's voices, as a rule, are warmer than women's and are more conducive to sleep." It should be a comfort to our pastor, when he looks out over his congregation, to realize that it's the warmth of his voice and not the dullness of the sermon that makes them act that way. E. A. O.

WE STILL DON'T GIVE ONE.

To Chauffeur of His Wife's Flivver, who admitted in the Line, one of the most public places in the world, his ignorance of the meaning of "tinker's dam," I charitably offer the following explanation: A tinker's dam is a device employed by itinerant tinsmiths, commonly called tinkers in the old country, to mend cast iron pots which have had legs broken off, leaving holes in the utensils. To repair such damage two small circular dams of wet clay are placed around the orifice on each side. One of these is covered and into the other molten lead or solder is poured, which, when set, the dams are brushed away. Please note orthography and the innocuous value of the expression as a resounding expletive.

BREAST TUMOR PRECAUTIONS.

WITH the present state of our knowledge the only hope we have of reducing the frightful mortality presented by cancer lies in prompt recognition of the disease and immediate treatment. This means education — not the fear-creating type, but that which is filled with common sense. Hundreds of skin blemishes may be cancer. Tens of thousands of others may not have the slightest relation to this dread affliction.

The capsheaf of the whole matter is an annual examination for every one who is in the so-called "danger" age. Regardless of the period of life, however, any symptom which may be suggestive should be investigated.

Our chat today has to do with tumors of the breast. Cancer in this region causes 12,000 deaths in the United States each year. The pity of it all is that 90 per cent of these lives could be saved if more attention were paid to the presence of lumps in this vicinity.

But, you say, "I have had a thickened spot for years. It has never given me any trouble." The reason is that nine out of ten of these cases will be innocent of harm. Nevertheless, anything that is abnormal—any firm area—should be studied critically by a competent physician as soon as discovered. Sometimes there is a blood-tinged discharge from the nipple and this is significant. Again, there may be a dimple or a puckering of the skin. But even these symptoms may not indicate a tumor that should be extirpated.

A chronic, draining infection within the breast—one that has persisted for several months—may become dangerous. Then there are fatty tumors of various types and certain cysts [collections of fluid] or swellings of the milk ducts. These water sac affairs can, as a rule, be removed entirely without fear of recurrence and this should be done, inasmuch as the thin lining may later show a tendency to become malignant.

Fortunately, there is a way to differentiate between tumors filled with water and those that are solid. This is by means of illumination. But even this method cannot be relied upon wholly, as now and then some of these growths will seem perfectly clear and yet show cancer cells under the microscope.

We all know that disease is likely to originate in locations which have suffered repeated inflammation or that have been irritated. After a time the resistance of the cells wears down. The body may lose control and the structures in question go on a "tear." Any tumor, therefore, that has existed for some time —which appears to enlarge—should be trailed by a detective.

The physician will usually test its hardness, measure it, and record his findings. That is, if he is in doubt. Two or three months later, on a subsequent visit, if it has increased in size, removal is the wise procedure.

One handicap in recognizing breast cancer is that it is rarely, if ever, painful. Only after the growth has extended to the point of involving nerve filaments will distress come on.

The age of critical watchfulness is after 45, although lumps form occasionally in the breasts of young women and it is never wise to assume that they are benign. An excellent plan—if a growth is suspected of being cancerous—is to remove a part of the tissue, submit it to a skilled pathologist, and be ready to perform a radical operation if it seems warranted.

Here is the hopeful side of the picture. Operation in the beginning stage means cure. Long series of cases in hundreds of hospitals bear this out. "Early" means within a week or so after malignancy has been detected. Even after the glands under the arm have begun to enlarge—showing that the cancer has spread through the lymph channels—cure is entirely possible with 15 to 20 per cent.

COUGHING AND PAIN.

S. K. writes: When my mother coughs or sneezes she gets a pain in the head. She is 68 years old.

REPLY.

The effort of coughing or sneezing severely will cause anybody's head to pain momentarily. This is a reflex or because congestion occurs in the blood vessels of the head and nose. Find the cause of the cough and try to relieve it.

DEPENDS ON AIR SPACE.

Mrs. M. writes: Recently my mother-in-law, aged 75, came to live with us. She sleeps in her own bed in the same room with my three children. Do you think this will hurt the children?

REPLY.

There may be too many persons in one room. What about ventilation? Not dangerous if the space is adequate.

EXECUTORS OF WILL.

Chicago, June 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A woman died leaving a will naming two executors to serve without bond.

1. One of them lived in another state.
2. A tract of farm land was exchanged by the executors for city lots which were located in another state—the same state where one of the executors lived.
3. This executor bought these lots from the estate, the other executor agreeing. All heirs assented except one, who knew nothing of the exchange or the sale, and she has not been paid for her share.
4. Did the executor have the legal right to buy real estate belonging to the estate for which he was one of the executors?
5. Has he a clear title to these city lots which be bought from the estate for which he was an executor? L. S.

1. He would not be eligible as executor here.
2. Their power to do this would depend on the wording of the will.
3. In general a person acting in such a capacity is not permitted to purchase at his own sale.
4. As above stated, it is not clear how he could be acting as executor. We suspect that there are inaccuracies in your statement of the facts. We cannot advise to advantage without having a wording of the will and an accurate statement of the facts.
5. See 4.

REFLECTION ON THE STRIKE PROBLEM.

Chicago, June 8.—This is a good time to reflect that the strike problem will never be settled until an end is made of the thoughtless assumption pervading the "liberal" element, that every dispute won by employés—by legal means or otherwise—is "an achievement in human progress," and every one won by employers is a step backward.

All these "right thinking" men and women are very sure that anybody who disagrees with them is void of all human sympathy—more than likely, a plutocratic hireling. [They are sometimes just a little uncertain when the dispute is between one labor union and another, but as soon as they find which one is the more oblivious of property rights they are happy again.]

Labor, I take it, produces substantially all wealth, since capital is itself only a kind of wealth. Every worker is entitled to compensation equal to the full product of his labor. But just how does it follow that any particular worker's labor is necessarily worth more than he has been getting? Though somewhat experienced in production engineering, I do not know how to tell the value of any job of work—especially of an operation of a modern line assembled product—except to set men free to bargain as they please and see what price the work will bring. Only when coercion and price-fixing are swept out of industrial bargaining can we see what the "full value" of any labor, material, or product really is.

Well intentioned uplifters, however, continue to echo the call of every strike leader for all workers to "support" his particular strike regardless of how hopeless it is for labor's standards of living to be materially raised by hard won "victories" which automatically jack up costs of production and hence the cost of living of all workers. The saddest sight today is not the unlettered striker, who is usually doing only what is right, as he sees it, when he disregards the precious civil liberties of property holding and free bargaining, but the educated "labor sympathizer" who, with the warnings of history glaring out at him, can only shout "Attaboy!"

HARRIS K. RANDALL.

TRACK VS. BOOKIES.

Chicago, June 8.—Why don't the horse tracks reduce the price of admission to 50 cents? Why blame the bookies for the cold and wet weather? The bookies should be licensed anyway, and they would be much better off than under the present "arrangement" with the powers that be. If they were licensed a large amount would be collected from them and the tax at the tracks would be lessened considerably. I would go to the track with many others often if the price was 50 cents. With higher admission and the train fare it cuts a hole in your little pile before you get there. The politicians interested in the tracks and the pols. at the bookies' end of it sure make it hard to follow the gallopers. Why should betting be legal at the track and unlawful everywhere else? Let's have an open answer as to why the bookies are not licensed as is the track. Folks are getting tired of this playing around on this thing. Smoke 'em out.

ASSISTANT DEAN EARHART.

Chicago, June 8.—Why isn't Amelia Earhart giving Purdue university a fair share of publicity? After all Purdue paid $50,000 cold cash for her flying laboratory, and she is receiving a salary as an assistant dean of the university.

Each time I read of her and no mention of Purdue I just burn up.

PUBLIC OPINION ON DIVORCE.

Chicago, June 9.—I wonder if your correspondent, Evelyn Marie Stuart, knows that the people of America elected to the presidency a gentleman with two divorced and remarried children—both of them illegal Reno divorces. E. L. S.

ACCIDENTS TO BUSES.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 5.—In three recent disasters, the plunge through the drawbridge in Virginia, the dive into the canal in Florida and this week in California, buses have killed more passengers than the aggregate of a decade on railroads. On a moving locomotive there is always a second man in the cab, and in many cases a "dead man's throttle," to guard against the slumber of the engineer.

On the abdomen jolters there is usually a loquacious blonde, ensconced propinquitous to the driver, who serves to counteract the lure of Morpheus during daylight hours. But the gals don't seem to ride at night.

Now that, like the railroads, the highway carriers must genuflect to the politicians, might not the jovian pundits of the interstate commerce commission, in their all-seeing wisdom, issue a ukase that bus operators be compelled to tote a lady companion for their drivers, day and night, as a measure of safety?

NED ALVORD.

HE WAS RIGHT AND YOU WERE WRONG.

Chicago, May 27.—Last evening I was crossing Sheridan road at Grace street to go to the park with my dog. I was stopped by an important policeman [important in his own estimation] and was told in a very rude manner that I would have to put a muzzle on my dog. Now for the last three years I have been going to that part of the park daily and have never let the dog run loose, having always kept him on a leash.

This was a new cop and evidently he wanted to show his authority. He threatened me and said if I dared cross the street into the park he would arrest me. What is the meaning of all this? Are we not allowed to have pets any more? I told him that most of the half-dressed people in the park should be muzzled, and I firmly believe that 90 per cent of the Chicago cops should be muzzled. In no other city in the country are they as rude and ignorant as in Chicago.

TAX PAYER.

GRIM REMINDER.

Parkersburg, Ill., June 7.—It is to be hoped that the sports editor, Mr. Archibald Ward, will not attempt to pick the winner of the forthcoming Braddock-Louis fight. Readers of THE TRIBUNE will not soon forget how he stuck out his neck before the now historic Louis-Schmeling battle. According to Mr. Ward there was only one possible result. The German had no chance whatever; he was virtually risking his life for the loser's share of the gate receipts; soon he was to pass into fistic oblivion.

R. J.

PRINCES OF PRIVILEGE.

Canton, Ill., June 7.—Who is a "prince of privilege"? Is he a large manufacturer who spends long hours of hard labor building up employment for a hundred thousand men at a good living wage? Or is he some one who takes a battleship to go fishing, taxing the people a million dollars to pay for a vacation?

Don't use my name, but this would make a swell cartoon and the idea is yours gratis.

OBSERVER.

From Across the Sea

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TUNGCHOW, China.—Yin Ju-keng, whose office is in a Confucian temple located near a towering 1,000 year old pagoda, is the head of one of the strangest governments in the world.

When Yin announced himself as chairman of the East Hopei autonomous anti-communist government of China a year and a half ago there was deep indignation in Nanking. The Chinese authorities at first ridiculed the administration which they designated as another "Japanese puppet setup." Then they issued an order for Yin's arrest.

But Yin is still carrying on and has strengthened his position. He issues defiant denunciations of the national government at Nanking, which he designates as a Kuomintang [party] dictatorship. Recently he announced that the twenty-two counties of Hopei province would never be amalgamated with the national government unless Nanking did two things: Eliminated the Kuomintang party dictatorship and barred all communistic organizations and individuals from participation, directly or indirectly, in the administration of the country or parts thereof.

The Kwantung branch of the imperial Japanese army is the power behind Yin's administration.

Yin Ju-keng studied at Waseda university, Japan, where he married a Japanese girl. Due to his knowledge of the Japanese language and the influence of his wife, who is the sister of an officer in the Kwantung army, Yin frequently participated in Chinese-Japanese negotiations.

In 1933 when China was compelled to sign the truce of Tangku, following defeat of the Chinese armies, Yin was appointed one of the three Chinese commissioners who administered the so-called demilitarized zone which embraced the northern quarter of Hopei province bordering Manchukuo at the Great Wall.

On Nov. 23, 1935, Yin declared the demilitarized zone an "independent, autonomous, and anti-communist" district with himself as chairman. The Japanese moved 300 troops to Tungchow and announced their intention of coöperating with Yin in preventing the spread of communism in North China.

While Yin is the nominal executive and rules through a cabinet, actual power is wielded by a number of Japanese advisers, appointees of the Kwantung army in Manchukuo. Japanese supervise the schools and the textbooks are of Japanese authorship and publication, written in such manner as to promote coöperation of the Chinese and Japanese races.

While Nanking procrastinates and tries to borrow money abroad so as to avoid accepting Japanese economic coöperation, East Hopei has already accepted Japanese assistance in the development of roads, railways, telephones and telegraphs, mining enterprises and industrial development.

Of great significance is Yin's development of an army. He has trained 20,000 Chinese soldiers and hopes to increase the force to 30,000 within another year.

TRIAL OF MALONE SPEEDS BAR QUIZ ON FEE SPLITTING

Ethics of Political Payoff to Be Studied.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Ethical questions involved in the splitting of fees by lawyers with politicians as divulged in the trial of William H. Malone, former chairman of the state tax commission, are expected soon to pass under the scrutiny of the Chicago Bar association. Whether disbarment proceedings are waranted is a question in the background.

Delayed Until After Trial.

Charles M. Thomson, retiring president of the association, said yesterday that inquiry into the fee splitting as brought out in the testimony had been postponed until conclusion of the trial. This resulted Tuesday night in the conviction of Malone in Federal Judge William H. Holly's court on charges of evading $59,000 income tax payments in 1929 and 1930.

"The trial being ended," said Mr. Thomson, "I have no doubt that a committee of inquiry will be asked by the Bar association to study the transcript and make a report of its findings. The matter has had the attention of the board but was purposely postponed until after the trial."

Lawyers Tell of Payoff.

On the stand in the Malone trial, Thomas D. Huff, tax attorney for the Chicago surface lines in 1930, testified he turned over $10,000 out of a $20,000 fee to Malone in $1,000 bills. Frank L. Tuttle, former tax attorney for the Pullman company and the North Shore Gas company, testified that in four years he turned over to Malone for campaign purposes $60,000 out of $70,000 in fees.

John W. Ellis, who represented the Pullman company before the tax commission in 1925 and 1926, testified that in 1925 he split his fees for the benefit of the Len Small campaign fund and that in 1926 he gave $10,000 of his Pullman fee to a messenger whom he had seen in Malone's office.

EX-MATE TO PAY IF CHILDREN GET HIS NAME BACK

Thomas Downey, 30 years old, 127 West 74th street, an interstate truck operator, appeared yesterday before Judge John C. Lewe on a citation for failing to pay his ex-wife, Cecilia, $2,314 in temporary alimony which accrued before their divorce in 1933.

"Mrs. Downey has the two children, James, 9 years old, and Eleanor, 5," said Attorney Norman Becker, counsel for the husband. "Since the decree she has called them by the last name of Wardrobe for some unknown reason. If she will use the Downey name for them my client will pay up."

Judge Lewe approved the proposition and continued the hearing until July 8, when Downey agreed to pay $50 down and turn over a $1,500 inheritance in part payment. Leaving the court Downey struck a newspaper photographer and broke his camera outside the courtroom of Judge Michael Feinberg. Judge Feinberg ordered him held in custody for several hours. Downey then left the building with a black eye incurred in the fight.

GREY DOWNS.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 10.—[Special.]—Hollywood's latest prospect is Grey Downs, who won the title of "Texas Sweetheart No. 1" in recent beauty contest here. She won from a field of seventy contestants. After appearing with an orchestra this summer she will be given an opportunity in the film capital.

Inquest Delayed in Death of Small Girl from Rabies

The inquest into the death of Susan Lederer, 5 years old, of Flossmoor, who died Wednesday in Michael Reese hospital from rabies, was continued to June 24 yesterday by Deputy Coroner Chris J. McGarigle, pending a report by a coroner's toxicologist. Carl Lederer of Homewood, a cousin of the girl, who represented the family at the inquest, said the child was scratched by a stray dog on April 28.

Bar Ass'n Installs Officers; Hears Humor by Professor

Hayes McKinney.

The trials of a college professor were narrated in a humorous vein last night by Dean Gordon J. Laing, editor of the University of Chicago press, at the Chicago Bar association's annual banquet which included installation of officers for the ensuing year. Hayes McKinney succeeded Charles M. Thomson as the new president of the association. Other new officers are Henry P. Chandler, 1st vice president; Tappan Gregory, 2d vice president; Albert E. Jenner Jr., secretary, and Joseph E. Fitch, treasurer.

SUPREME COURT STAYS M'KINLAY CONTEMPT TERM

The Illinois Supreme court at Springfield yesterday granted a writ of supersedeas to Robert W. McKinlay, federal court receiver, from a contempt of court sentence of one year in jail issued by Judge Robert C. O'Connell in the Criminal court in connection with a charge that he attempted to bribe a venireman in the first embezzlement trial of Frank V. Zintak, ousted Superior court clerk.

Judge O'Connell imposed the sentence as McKinlay was awaiting trial on a bribery indictment. On Wednesday he was acquitted of that charge. McKinlay's attorneys, Benedict J. Short and W. W. Smith, charged that Judge O'Connell by his contempt sentence before the jury trial had deprived McKinlay of his constitutional rights. The Supreme court fixed bond at $1,000 for McKinlay, pending a ruling which is expected in September.

In TOWN and COUNTRY

4 out of every 5 miles you drive are Stop and Go

IN the crowded city and on the open road, too, you can't GO far these days without STOPPING!

The average motorist makes 30 stops every single day!

That's what runs up your daily driving costs. One traffic stop can waste enough gasoline to take your car a third of a mile!

Shell engineers, recognizing the waste of stop and go driving, developed a way to "balance" gasoline.

By completely rearranging its chemical structure, this unique balancing process does to gasoline just what cooking does to some foods—makes it "digestible."

"Motor-digestible" is the best way to describe Super-Shell.

The next time you need gasoline, try Super-Shell. There is a Shell dealer in your neighborhood.

ROOSEVELT ASKS MEDICS' HELP ON A HEALTH POLICY

Senator Lewis Presents Request at Convention.

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Atlantic City, N. J., June 10.—[Special.]—A direct request for advice in formulating a public health policy was sent to the American Medical association convention here today by President Roosevelt. The message was conveyed by Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois.

The association's reply to the President's request was handed to Senator Lewis later. The contents, however, were not made public, presumably pending delivery to the President.

While refusing to discuss the nature of the reply, one authoritative source said:

"What else could we do but accept?"

Urges Doctors Take Lead.

Lewis also asked the association to take the lead away from politicians in erecting the framework under which doctors are to become instruments of the government in treating patients who are destitute and those whose incomes do not match their medical requirements.

The association voted yesterday to act only on direct request of the federal government.

Lewis also told the doctors that the government has an interest in citizens as citizens—an interest as great as that of the doctor in the citizen as a patient. On this citizen-of-the-United States basis Lewis said the government must make provision for care of the destitute, but this care should be directed and administered by doctors.

"I have watched attendance to the poor victims of the world war and have seen something of the service administered to them and the methods of its administration through those who are appointed as political office appointees," the senator said.

San Francisco Chosen.

"These appointees have so imposed upon the government and unhappily the victims of disease until the whole thing has been converted into a political machine that has worked a persecution upon the afflicted and a robbery upon the citizens."

San Francisco, Cal., was selected by unanimous vote as the site for the 1938 convention of the association. Cleveland, O., and Atlantic City invited the convention to them as locations for the 1939 meeting.

Dr. Irvin Abell of Louisville, Ky., as president elect, and Dr. James B. Harris of Sacramento, Cal., as vice president, were unanimously elected by the delegates. Dr. Harris will take office immediately.

Sidney (Population 500) Boasts of Oldest Mayor

Sidney, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—This village, with a population of 500 people, probably holds the record for having the oldest active mayor of any town or city in Illinois. Mayor Samuel G. Lehman is 83 years old.

NOLA LUXFORD OF FILMS AND RADIO SUED FOR DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Cal., June 10.—[Special.]—Accusing Nola Luxford, actress and radio entertainer, of refusing to live with him on his income, William Baurenschmidt had an amended divorce complaint on file today. He charged that while he and Miss Luxford were spending a summer at Laguna Beach, Cal., the actress was in Hollywood at least five days a week and associated with other men there. In a cross-complaint to the original suit Miss Luxford charged cruelty and asked for $500 a month separate maintenance. The couple was married on June 8, 1927.

SURGEON USES EYES OF DEAD IN CORNEA SURGERY

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—A Russian doctor reported today the successful transplanting of the Cornea from eyes of human corpses to the eyes of the living. Ninety-five such operations have been performed to benefit those with eye afflictions, Dr. V. P. Filatov of Odessa wrote in the British medical magazine, Lancet. The operations were performed by him between 1932 and 1936.

The article sets forth that results apparently are not inferior to those obtained by grafts from living eyes. The cornea removed from a corpse is preserved in temperature of 4 to 6 degrees centigrade until ready to be transplanted.

MAYWOOD TO VOTE ON BONDS.

Residents in school district No. 89 in Maywood will vote tomorrow on a proposed $15,000 bond issue and a 30 cent increase in the school tax levy, to be used for enlarging the Roosevelt and Garfield schools.

NONPAYING CAFE CUSTOMER WINS AGAIN IN COURT

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—The French Casino, Broadway night club, today lost the second round in its fight against a claim brought by a customer who was arrested for refusing to pay a minimum food check. The Appellate division of the Supreme court affirmed a judgment for $1,000 for false arrest which was awarded to Earl Tewksbury by the City court. The affair will cost the Casino $1,000 plus the costs of the appealed case.

Tewksbury went into the club with his wife on Feb. 17, ordered four drinks, and was handed a check for $9. It was explained that $6 of it was a food charge. Insisting that because he had ordered no food he should not have to pay for it, he refused. Police refused to entertain a charge against him.

Tewksbury then sent the Casino a check for $2.60, the liquor charge, and sued for false arrest, asking $3,000. When a judgment of $1,000 was awarded him in City court the Casino appealed on the ground that it was exorbitant.

John M. Gilmore Dies 24 Hours After Testifying

Bloomington, Ind., June 10.—[Special.]—John M. Gilmore, former Monroe county treasurer, died of uremic poisoning here today less than 24 hours after testifying before a grand jury which was investigating a shortage of $6,969 in his accounts. He was a Democrat, and retired in January. He was stricken last night.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION IS ASSAILED FOR BIRTH CONTROL RECOGNITION

Atlantic City, N. J., June 10.—(AP)—In a biting denouncement today the Federation of Catholic Physicians' Guilds termed the action of the American Medical association in recognizing birth control as "paganistic."

The association in a report of a special committee had declared the use of birth control devices to be proper medical procedure which should be employed as needed for the protection and care of the health of patients.

National Guard to Present Spectacle in Lincoln Park

C., and a flag drill by the Pulaski Red Cross, unit No. 1, which will also make Miss Helen Rowland, a world war nurse, honorary colonel.

EX-BANKER FOUND STABBED, WOMAN SAYS ACCIDENT

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—William Russell Noyes, 56 years old, former trust officer of the Equitable Trust company and a second lieutenant during the world war, was found dead this afternoon in a basement furnished room on West 89th street.

Miss Mary Josephine Hunter, Noyes' common law wife, said she went into the room and found Noyes asleep with a whisky bottle beside him. A struggle started when she attempted to take away the bottle, and Noyes accidentally stumbled into a knife which she had picked up to frighten him, she said.

Noyes had been unemployed for some time, she said. Miss Hunter called Dr. A. H. Braverman, a nearby physician. A brother of the dead man, Frederick C. Noyes of Newark, N. J., told police Noyes was a graduate of Princeton university. Miss Hunter is charged with homicide.

Dispute Brings Killing; Victim Is Shot Six Times

Whitesburg, Ky., June 10.—[Special.]—Levi Johnson, a farmer, was held under $10,000 bond at Beaver Creek on the charge of the murder of Frank Robinson, a neighbor, as the result of an old grudge starting several months ago from a difference over a small settlement, it is said. Robinson was shot six times in the head, neck, and breast, but lived for several hours after reaching a hospital. Both men have families.

SIMPSON AGREES TO SETTLEMENT IN SLANDER SUIT

Society Woman to File Apology Today.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mrs. Joan. Sutherland.

LONDON, June 10.—A last minute settlement was reported tonight to have been reached in the slander suit which Ernest A. Simpson, former husband of the duchess of Windsor, brought last winter against Mrs. Joan Sutherland, wife of Col. Arthur Sutherland, Black Watch officer during the world war. The settlement will be made formally in court tomorrow when explanations and apologies will be tendered, it was indicated.

The quarrel arose from remarks which Mrs. Sutherland was alleged to have made at a London luncheon party concerning the divorce decree granted the former Mrs. Simpson Oct. 27.

A writ claiming damages from Mrs. Sutherland was sworn out by Simpson Jan. 13. The suit was entered for hearing before a special jury in the king's bench division of the London high court toward the end of March, but was held over and not restored to the cause list until early in June.

New Publicity Feared.

Tonight's reported settlement comes on the eve of the hearing of the case in the high court. The suit, it is stated, will be "mentioned" before Lord Chief Justice Hewart in the king's bench division tomorrow. The court proceeding is expected to be only the briefest formality. Mrs. Sutherland and her husband both are well known in London society.

It is supposed that many circles were anxious to see the slander suit amicably settled out of court, since the proceedings were expected to throw the spotlight again on the Simpson divorce drama,

Pamphlet Is Banned.

Meantime Great Britain's occult censorship struck again at publications about the duke of Windsor today when newspaper and magazine distributors laid a ban on a pamphlet which recently appeared called "The Woman I Love."

The pamphlet merely gives a historic account of the life of the former Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, the abdication crisis of last December and the recent wedding at the Château de Cande at Monts, France, when "Wally" became the bride of the duke of Windsor.

No Films of Duke for Irish.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 10.—(AP)—British newsreel companies have declined to supply Irish Free State picture houses with scenes of the duke of Windsor's wedding, it became known today. To repeated requests, the companies replied the event was not covered by their cameramen.

Wedding films were not distributed to British theaters after reported "suggestions" of high authority that no one would be interested.

NEW FRENCH AVIATION FIRM MAPS PLANS FOR AN AIR LINE TO U. S.

PARIS, June 10.—(AP)—Plans for a north Atlantic plane service between France and the United States were being studied today by the air ministry and two sponsoring concerns, Air France and the French Line.

Formation of a new aviation concern, the result of joint negotiations by the French commercial aviation and steamship firms, was announced yesterday. The new organization will be known as the Trans-Atlantic Air France company.

The schedule and other arrangements under the proposed service awaited approval of the new company before final adoption. Its purpose, the new company announced, would be to coördinate transport agencies represented by the parent firms as well as to provide a unity of action in development of efficient air travel over the north Atlantic. Director General Allegre of Air France was named president of the Trans-Atlantic Air France company.

PARKER DENIES PAUL H. WENDEL'S KIDNAP CHARGE

Newark, N. J., June 10.—[Special.]—Ellis H. Parker, professional enemy of lawbreakers for four decades, sat today in the witness chair as he had made more than 300 hopeless victims of his detective skill sit there.

Bald, stocky, bespectacled, and snappish, the veteran chief detective of Burlington county struck out in his defense and bluntly attacked prosecution evidence picturing him as a participant in a conference at which the Lindbergh case abduction of Paul H. Wendel had been planned.

He denied vehemently the testimony of Murray Bleefeld, confessed accomplice and star prosecution witness. It was the first time he had spoken about the conspiracy since the charges were first made against him and his son.

Mason County Ex-Clerk Freed from Parole Care

Judge Harry M. Fisher yesterday signed an order freeing A. Frank Terrell, 67 years old, former county clerk of Mason county, from the custody of a friend to whom he was paroled last Sept. 1 from the Jacksonville state hospital for the insane. Previously Terrell charged he was committed in 1931 when he objected to settlements made in his name for the Kilbourne State bank, of which he was then receiver.

WOMAN KILLED BY AUTO.

Taylorville, Ill., June 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. James Hixon, 66 years old, was killed last night when she walked in front of an automobile driven by Harold Mace. Surviving are the husband and four daughters.

PEACHES BROWNING TO SEEK DIVORCE IN RENO FROM HYNES

Snite Improved by New Treatment Aboard Liner

ABOARD PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, en route to San Francisco, June 10.—(AP)—New treatment given Frederick Snite Jr., 26 years old, infantile paralysis victim, slightly improved his condition as he continued his 12,000 mile journey to Chicago in search of health. Vascular exercises of his legs and arms performed by his physician and nurses aided circulation of his blood and improved his respiration. Snite is proving himself a good sailor and is cheerful.

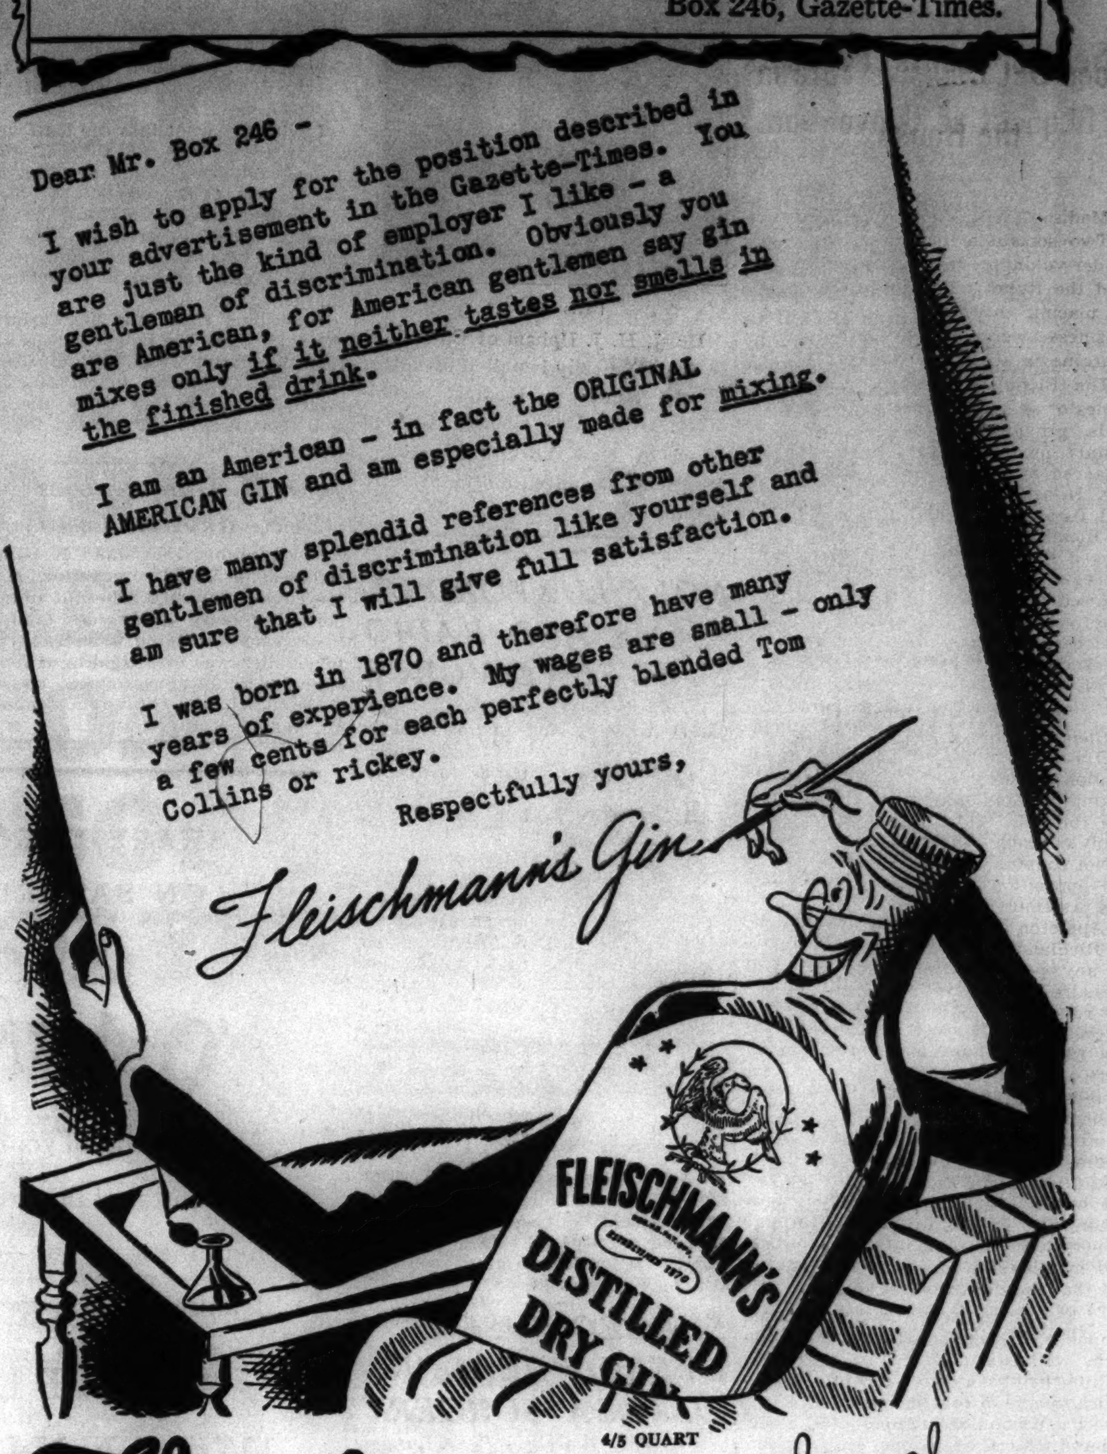
HELP WANTED

GENTLEMAN who is very particular about his drinks wishes a gin that really mixes. Does not like gin taste or odor in Tom Collins, rickeys, etc. State experience, wages required, age, etc.

Box 246, Gazette-Times.



Dear Mr. Box 246 -

I wish to apply for the position described in your advertisement in the Gazette-Times. You are just the kind of employer I like - a gentleman of discrimination. Obviously you are American, for American gentlemen say gin mixes only if it neither tastes nor smells in the finished drink.

I am an American - in fact the ORIGINAL AMERICAN GIN and am especially made for mixing.

I have many splendid references from other gentlemen of discrimination like yourself and am sure that I will give full satisfaction.

I was born in 1870 and therefore have many years of experience. My wages are small - only a few cents for each perfectly blended Tom Collins or rickey.

Respectfully yours,

Sizzling Brown Suckling Pig
—and our own Family's Whiskey!

For out and out tastiness there's nothing that touches either!

I'll bet you'd of given just about anything to of been at the big barbecue we all had in Dogwood Gully a week ago Saturday! The little pig was brought over by the man standing away back there the farthest to the right, trimming off a slice of side meat. He's a fellow up here that goes by the name of Cap. Well as I was saying—if you go for a plump little pig with a crispy hot crust crackling all over him, and real tender meat oozing real rich smelling juice that makes your mouth water—well you're the kind that'll understand what I mean by tastiness when I talk about Our Family's Whiskey. Try it. It's the personal recipe of us Wilkens that have been putting out whiskey for these past 50 years or so!

STATE MEDICINE BILL IS BEATEN FOR WISCONSIN

Foes Get Decisive Vote in the House.

Madison, Wis., June 10.—[Special.]—Two socialistic measures, the Biemiller voluntary health insurance bill and the Rubin bill to open the door to placing the state in the cement business, were beaten by decisive margins in the house today.

The Biemiller proposal, first of a series of so called socialized medicine bills, provided for the creation of county medical coöperatives to be financed by a stipulated membership fee. In a long speech in favor of the bill, its author, Assemblyman Andrew J. Biemiller [Prog., Milwaukee], attacked the opposition for "charming disregard for veracity," charging organized medicine in Wisconsin alone had voiced its opposition to the "wishes of three million farmers, workers, and members of coöperatives."

Some Radicals Oppose It.

Biemiller's Progressive "cousins" in the Farmer-Labor-Progressive federation avoided, for the most part, taking a stand against the bill, but the roll call, 60 to 24, revealed that many of them had voted against it.

Not content with smashing the bill, the opposition, led by two Republicans, Assemblyman Mark S. Catlin Jr., of Appleton and Vernon W. Thomson of Richland Center, closed the door to any possibility of reviving that measure by obtaining a suspension of the rules and a 55 to 29 vote against reconsideration. During that maneuver, Biemiller and his bloc unsuccessfully tried to shove through motions to recess or adjourn.

Biemiller declared large numbers of people in Wisconsin are financially unable to get adequate medical and hospital care and that passage of his bill would reduce the cost through "share the burden" county medical coöperatives. He emphasized the fact that membership would be voluntary and that the bill's purpose was not to drive private medical practice to cover. His pleas appeared to fall on deaf ears.

Cement Plant Bill Lost.

The bill by Assemblyman Ben Rubin [P., Milwaukee] which proposed to hand $30,000 to a joint legislative committee to investigate the feasibility of a state-owned cement plant, was killed, 53 to 26. Of the total appropriation $10,000 was to go toward paying the committee's expenses and $20,000 to get options on materials for the manufacture of cement. The committee would have reported to the 1939 legislature.

Final rites for the Fitzsimons bill, which proposed to limit the employment of married persons in this state's service, were held today by the house when it refused to reconsider the vote by which the measure was killed on May 27.

On the motion of Senator Maurice P. Coakley [R., Beloit] the senate today sprung a surprise by laying over until next Wednesday, June 16, the final vote on Gov. La Follette's "little TVA" bill. Coakley's motion drew support of the bill's senate author, Roland E. Kannenberg [P., Wausau], as well as that of Senators Phil Nelson [R., Maple] and Arthur L. Zinny [D., Milwaukee].

Activities in the Senate.

In other actions the senate:

1. Refused, 18 to 14, to reconsider the vote by which it engrossed on April 27 the Roethe bill providing for replacing the present University of Wisconsin board of regents, with nine to be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate.
2. Killed the Fitzsimons house bill making it compulsory for mercantile establishments to provide its commercial employés with 30 hours of work per week.

The teachers' tenure bill, which emerged from the senate on March 12 and was passed by the house yesterday, was faced with amendments to boosting the probationary period. Certain senate forces are planning to defeat the amendments in favor of one to be attached to the Busby bill to give teachers the right to bring a mandamus action in cases of alleged discrimination.

R. T. FRENG.

Ragnar T. Freng, United Airlines pilot with more than a million miles of flying to his credit, has been named chief of flying for the airline, W. A. Patterson, president of United, said yesterday. Freng joined the company in 1927. He will be in general charge of actual flying operations, assisted by four divisional chief pilots.

GUNMAN SLAIN, TWO ESCAPE IN ATLANTA CHASE

College Park, Ga., June 10.—(AP)—Police looking for kidnapers of an 18 year old girl shot one man to death today in a speeding gun fight in this Atlanta suburb. Two companions of the dead man leaped from their wrecked car after it plunged off the end of a blind street and escaped in woods.

By fingerprints police established the identity of the dead man as Henry L. Turner, 34, brother of Forrest Turner, notorious Georgia prison breaker. Police said they found a sawed off shotgun, gas bombs, and a quantity of tobacco stacked in the wrecked car.

Two Fulton [Atlanta] county policemen searching for suspects in the reported abduction of Miss Varline Stargel, spotted the car carrying the trio near Georgia Military academy here. When their signal to halt was ignored, they started pursuit.

ONE SHOT; YEGGS TURN BURGLARS TO GET TORCHES

One of three unidentified burglars was shot early today when they were surprised and fired upon by a watchman on the first floor of the Grinnell Company, Inc., plumbing and heating supplies, at 4425 South Western avenue. All escaped.

The three were evidently searching for acetylene torches and tanks. This indicated that they were professional yeggmen. They had entered the plant by breaking a rear window.

Philip Finn, 5812 La Salle street, the watchman, suddenly came upon them, and opened fire. One man staggered and was helped out a side door by his two companions. Police were summoned and searched the building for half an hour, thinking the wounded man still inside. Blood stains were found showing he had been wounded.

NAME H. B. WELLS AS ACTING HEAD OF INDIANA UNIV.

Dean Wells succeeded Dr. William Lowe Bryan, who served as president 35 years. Dr. Bryan resigned recently and asked that he be relieved of his duties by June 30.

Announcement of Wells' appointment was made by the trustees, with the statement that Wells would serve as president "until a permanent successor to Dr. Bryan has been selected."

MOTHER OF THREE FREED.

Mrs. Jeanette Kwiak, 27 years old, 5119 South Ada street, mother of three children, was discharged yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Mermes in Woman's court after serving nine days in the Bridewell for intoxication.

5 POLL OFFICIALS GET YEAR IN JAIL FOR VOTE FRAUDS

Sentenced for Irregular Ballots in 28th Ward.

Judge Edmund K. Jarecki of the County court yesterday sentenced five election officials of the 14th precinct of the 28th ward to one year each in the county jail for contempt of court. They were convicted of permitting extensive frauds in the April, 1936, primary

The court permitted them to remain at liberty on their old bonds until Monday, when, Defense Attorney Joseph T. Harrington said, it would be decided whether an appeal will be made.

The defendants are Mrs. Tessie Coconate, 2634 Grand avenue, and George La Pore, 2625 Huron street, Democratic judges; Joseph Esposito, 2651 Superior street, Republican judge; John J. Cartina, 2652 Huron street, Democratic clerk, and George Janachione, 2647 Superior street, Republican clerk.

John F. Cashen Jr., prosecutor for the board of election commissioners, presented evidence that twenty persons voted twice, while twelve others whose names had been erased from the poll books were allowed to cast their ballots.

Gov. La Follette Gets First Gift for His 1938 Campaign

Madison, Wis., June 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Philip La Follette today received his first campaign contribution for next year, but it failed to shed any light on his 1938 political ambitions. Wrapped around a $1 bill, the contributor wrote: "I hope you will be a candidate for either governor or United States senator." The governor thanked the contributor, but did not indicate what office, if any, he will seek. The dollar, he said, will be put to "some good use for the Progressive party."

SAND SLIDE IS FATAL TO FOUR WORKERS ON JOB IN WISCONSIN

St. Croix Falls, Wis., June 10.—(AP)—Three Civilian Conservation corps enrollees and a county workman were killed today when sliding sand buried them while working in a pit near here. The county workman was Tom Simmons.

The CCC workers were believed to be Kick, Fischer, and Beidel, but complete identification was withheld by camp officials pending examination of the camp roster.

A fourth CCC enrollee, Alvin Golberg, foreman of the camp crew which was working in the pit with a county crew, was extricated by fellow workmen.

Attempts to save the other four men, however, were blocked by the sliding sand.

Dr. J. A. Riegel of the St. Croix Falls hospital, where the men were taken immediately after they were uncovered, said efforts to revive them had failed after nearly two hours' work.

REDUCES RANK OF SECOND OFFICER GUARDING ROSOFF

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—The second of the two detectives who, until six weeks ago, had been assigned as bodyguards to Samuel Rosoff, wealthy subway builder, today was reduced in rank and assigned to patrol duty by Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine. The other former bodyguard suffered a similar demotion May 25.

Rosoff, as a result of the murder of Norman Redwood, sand hog union leader, allegedly over labor troubles, occupies a prominent place in the commissioner's "black book." Rosoff has successfully resisted all efforts to get him to New Jersey for questioning in connection with the Redwood case.

The police commissioner refused to comment on the reduction in rank of the detectives. From another source, however, it was learned that work of the two men had been regarded "unsatisfactory." It was rumored they were friendly with Rosoff and were his guests at several parties.

BOY SCOUT CHIEF HUNTS BEAUTY ON LINER; VANISHES

Doctor Disappears While Looking for Victim.

LE HAVRE, France, June 10.—(AP)—The French police searched tonight for a Rumanian doctor and a Brazilian Boy Scout representative who disappeared mysteriously from the liner Raul Soarez.

Detectives said they had ascertained that Dadiani owed $26,400 to Peroni, that the Rumanian let it be known he was going to Warsaw to collect a legacy of $132,000, and would then repay Peroni.

Europe Hunts Doctor.

Police on the continent were asked to aid in the effort to locate the missing doctor.

The Raul Soarez, bound for Hamburg, was out of Rio de Janeiro when the first in a series of strange events occurred.

The captain of the liner said he saw Peroni being pursued by an unidentified man demanding Peroni pay him $540. Peroni, said the captain, signed a note acknowledging the debt.

Next Dr. Dadiani, who described himself as the son of Prince Jean Dadia and Princess Marie Elvire of Rumania, appeared before the captain with the news Peroni was not to be found.

While the Raul Soarez steamed north up the coast of Portugal, the ship was searched and Dadiani told his story.

Hunts "Beautiful Blond."

He said Peroni was unable to sleep the night before and that he left his bunk with the explanation: "I'm going on deck to find that beautiful blond German girl."

Several times the same night the doctor said he saw Peroni, but became worried toward dawn and advised the captain.

When the boat reached here the master reported Peroni missing, and Dadiani told his story again to Le Havre police. Dadiana also said he was going to Warsaw and planned to leave the ship at Hamburg.

Vanishes on Return.

Then Dadiani returned to the ship and promptly vanished. Officers said he disappeared while the ship was in port overnight. Left then to the "beautiful blond German girl," the police began checking Dadiani's story.

They questioned the girl who said no one made an attempt to awaken her on the night of June 6, and that she slept soundly throughout the night.

AMERICAN KILLER OF AGED GERMAN IS FOUND INSANE

BERLIN, June 10.—(AP)—John Joseph Hughes Jr. of New York, who has been held in a German prison since Feb. 27 charged with the street slaying of Oskar Hoffman, aged German, was declared dangerously insane today by a state alienist who has had him under observation for eight weeks. Hughes said he shot the 82 year old German because he thought Hoffman was about to attack him.

Hughes will not be brought to trial but will either be put in an asylum in Germany or taken back to the United States under guard.

ALTERS FEATURES OF CIVIL SERVICE FOR MICHIGAN

House Group Changes Murphy Plan.

Lansing, Mich., June 10.—[Special.]—With the legislature agreed on adjournment June 25, house members received today for floor action a drastically amended version of the administration bill to establish a civil service system for state employés. It is one of the major proposals of Gov. Frank Murphy's legislative program and has encountered greater opposition than any other of his suggestions.

The measure, in the form in which it emerged from the state affairs committee, exempts present state workers from its examination provisions. Future vacancies in nearly all state departments, however, could be chosen only from a list of candidates approved as qualified after submitting to written tests. Heads of departments also would be given the right to select any one of the three applicants standing highest in the examination.

Where Versions Are Different.

Under provisions of the measure as passed by the senate, only the "top man" could have been chosen. The three members of the civil service commission, in the house committee version, would be named by the governor for staggered six year terms, with a director, also chosen by the governor, to serve for an indefinite period. Written into the bill also is provision for including under civil service employés of the University of Michigan, those of the Michigan State college, the State Teachers' colleges, and the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton.

This provision's constitutionality, it is said, is certain to be questioned.

Extend Period of Advanced Pay.

Both houses have extended the period during which legislators are to be advanced pay at the rate of $50 a week, although advances to date, due to the abnormal length of the session, already have used up slightly more than the first year's salary of each member at $3 a day for the full two year terms.

SYNOPSIS.

Brave Alida French opens up Avalon, the ancestral home she has inherited on the Massachusetts coast, for paying guests—though the house, according to local gossip, is haunted. Four men have vanished from it. Her guests are Vance, a young man with a fatal heart ailment. Dr. Eugene Benedict, struggling young physician, and his wife, Lucy, a nurse. Caleb Haven is her family lawyer. Alida hires Comfort Folger, who used to work at Avalon, also her nephew Nat, and Abram Parsons, whom Comfort refuses to marry because of his drinking. A dancing skeleton and two strange men in antique clothes are seen on the grounds of Avalon. Comfort shows Alida a secret cellar for storing liquor. Alida, alone in the house, decides to make an inventory of the liquor. She is trapped in a second secret room. Hours later she is missed. Vance finds the secret door and rescues Alida from suffocation. The skeletons of the four missing men are found in the room.

INSTALMENT XLI.

THE GHOSTS EXPLAINED.

"He'll tell it." Comfort indicated Vance with a nod. "He's goin' to be master here, so it's right he sh'd know. Mr. Haven's gotta know, too. But me an' Abram ain't got the words."

"I'll make it as short as I can," Vance began. "I suppose we ought to have suspected the truth sooner. Each of us had fleeting suspicions, but they seemed too incredible, so we ignored them. To put the whole thing in a nutshell, Alida, Abram is the old captain, dressed for the part. Abram is the skeleton, in black tights with white stripes painted on them to represent bones. He was assisted in these impersonations by his pal, Hank Barlow of Quinnet."

"Another son of Satan," Comfort groaned.

"Abram and Barlow were the old captain and his grandson—the white-faced pair that haunted the cedar grove," Vance continued.

"Abram!" Alida could not keep back the word. She set up and stared at Abram, who gulped but did not raise his gaze from the floor.

"Abram," Vance emphasized, "Abram and his pal. Abram drunk and Abram sober, but usually Abram drunk. He deceived us all, including Comfort and Nat. Neither of them had any more suspicion of who the ghosts were than we had. In fact, Abram Parsons has fooled the whole countryside for fourteen years. He was clever. So, in a lesser degree, was Barlow. Barlow had been a vaudeville actor in his best days. He's over 60 now and has been out of work for years. He has done odd jobs when they were not too strenuous. He helped Abram with the makeup and impersonations. Barlow was quite a ventriloquist, and he trained Abram. They could make those howls and outcries come from any place they chose."

"Abram is the skeleton, in black tights with white stripes painted on them."

"But Abram's cleverest stunts were the sneak-holes he made," Vance went on. "He has sneak-holes all over the place, and I defy any one to find them—hollow tree-trunks with painted slides inside of them; barrels buried in the ground, with lids covered with artificial grass or underbrush; chutes into the cellar behind the coal, through two windows always kept open, but hidden on the outside by the thick rhododendron bushes; and a really amazing dugout far under the old barn, where he and his pal could change their clothes and their rôles."

He stopped, but no one spoke.

"Abram had duplicate keys for all the outside doors, of course," Vance continued. "It was very easy for him or his pal to slip in and out. They didn't dare to do much of that since we came, but they did a lot of it in the past. There's a nice little secret panel you don't know anything about, Alida, in the rear hall closet. It covers a space just large enough to hide in briefly. That's where Abram vanished the night you had a glimpse of the old captain in the lower hall. He didn't mind how much trouble he took or how much sleep he lost. He even lured the owl to the cedar grove by putting some of the bird's pet delicacies among the branches."

Alida cried out irrepressibly.

"But why did he do all this? Why?"

"First of all, after your Uncle Amos' disappearance, to frighten Comfort into marrying him. He thought if he frightened her and Mrs. Quimby enough Comfort would marry him to have a protector in the old home. He didn't mean to keep up the scares very long, but after a time—well, I gather that the impersonations grew on him. The entire community was talking about Avalon. Investigations and searches were going on, and Abram's wits were pitted against those of the searchers. It was fascinating to him and his pal to see how close they could go to discovery and yet escape."

"But why did he lead Comfort to the old well and nearly kill her?"

"It was an accident, of course. Abram didn't know anything about the old well any more than Comfort did. Instead of running from him that time, Comfort became suspicious and ran after him. The episode banished her suspicions. She was sure a real skeleton had lured her. It also sobered Abram for quite a while. The fall must have made Comfort unconscious for a time. He heard nothing, knew nothing about her disappearance. He hustled off to Quinnet and didn't come back till the next night."

"There weren't any apparitions the rest of that season, Vance continued after a pause. "Then life began to seem dull again to Abram and his chum. After a few months' respite, Abram and Hank started the ghost scares again, but more carefully. They had no idea of doing any one any real harm, least of all Comfort. But they did a whole lot of howling and yowling and prowling, and worked off their energy that way."

He stopped a moment.

"Go on," said Comfort stonily. "Don't skip nothin'."

"The worst is yet to come," Vance admitted. He went on more seriously. "A few years ago a new idea came to Abram. Comfort was still adamant about marrying him, for he was still drinking. He wasn't making any progress with her. He was almost ready to drop the whole thing. Then, one day, he heard some one say that if the Avalon ghosts kept up their little vigils the old French house would eventually be on the market for a song. The property was being allowed to run down. The last of the French family, a girl, lived in New York. It was assumed that she'd never be willing to live at Avalon, and that she would sell the old place for anything she could get for it to avoid paying taxes."

Vance's voice took on a sudden edge.

"The canny thought came to Abram Parsons that he could combine business with his little pleasures. He has a few thousand dollars saved up after his lifetime of work. He never spends anything except for booze. If he could wreck Avalon's reputation thoroughly enough, he could force a sale of the old place and buy it in for a trifle. Then, of course, all the ghost scares woud stop. Comfort loves the place. He was sure she would marry him to be mistress of it."

"I don't think I can ever forgive him for that," Alida reflected aloud.

"It's the worst phase of the mess, as I've said," Vance admitted. "That's why the last year of poor old Mrs. Quimby's life was so hectic. Abram called on all his twelve cylinders. The desire to own Avalon had become an obsession with him. Combined with his drinking, I think it sent him a bit off his head."

Abram Parsons leaped to his feet, his thin features twitching with fury.

"Don't you say that," he shrieked. "I wunt let no man say I'm crazy. What I done I done. I ain't denyin' it. But I got my side of this here thing, too. Ain't I ben a man 'th'out no home? Ain't my son ben kep' from me an' not let known I wuz his father? 'Tain't Comfort I wuz after. I wanted my boy! I wanted the place fer him, too."

He turned to Nat, gaping up at him, white-faced and shaken by this outburst. "Well, I be yer father, an' it's time ye knowed it. It's time the hull town knowed it—an' they're agoin' to."

Comfort jumped up and literally hurled herself at him. She seemed a woman distraught. She caught his arm, dragging at it fiercely, and trying to push him back into his chair.

"Set down, ye fool," she choked, "an' shet yer mouth. Yer outta yer head, like Mr. Vance says."

Comfort turned to Alida and spoke with strong feeling.

"The good Lord knows I'm a sinful woman. I made mistakes, full an' plenty. Mebbe I drove this son o' Satan to some of the things he done, like he says I did. But I ain't goin' to let him claim Nat."

She dropped Abram's arm and thrust her face close to his, speaking in the same quiet voice. "Git out," she ordered. "Git out an' stay out. Me and Nat is through with ye."

BUMPER CROPS HOLD MARKET PRICES DOWN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Bumper crops of fruits and vegetables now rolling to market in increasing quantities are helping to hold down food prices. Despite the general upward swing, merchants are able to strike a happy balance by reducing about as many foods as they boost in price.

New crops are beginning to come in large quantities from producing areas within a short distance of Chicago. The first of this year's dewberry and gooseberry crops reached the city this week. Dewberries are coming from North Carolina and Kentucky and gooseberries from southern Illinois. California's first fresh apricots and figs are beginning to come in.

Michigan Picks Berries.

Michigan growers are harvesting their first strawberries. Some of them were brought to Chicago this week. Strawberries still are coming from Kentucky and southern Illinois patches. Gardeners in Indiana and Illinois started sending in their first pickings of green peas. Head lettuce is beginning to come in from local truck gardens.

TRIBUNE reporters found few significant changes in prices in their retail food store survey yesterday. Sugar sales are more common this week than last. Most stores have reduced their prices; some are offering beet and cane sugar at 7 cents a ten pound bag less than a week ago. Flour also has been reduced in some stores.

Fresh tomatoes have made the biggest drop. Both city and suburban stores cut their tomato prices practically in half compared with last week. Many tomatoes are coming from Texas and Mississippi. Some merchants have reduced their prices on radishes, spinach, white turnips and bunch beets. Stores generally have lowered their prices on rhubarb and sweet cherries.

Cabbage Mostly Cheaper.

Cabbage is cheaper in most places, while a few greengrocers have raised their prices since last week. Other vegetables on the up and down list include fresh peas, beans, and green and dry onions.

Shoppers must pay more for carrots and celery. In many places lemon are from 3 to 7 cents a dozen higher than last week. Head lettuce is up in a few stores. New potatoes have been advanced 4 to 6 cents a peck in many retail stores. Fresh pineapple is higher. It is near the end of the season for grapefruit and the prices of this citrus fruit are gradually going up.

Fresh meat prices are bobbing up and down this week. Butchers raised the price of pot roast beef as much as 2 cents a pound in some cases, while others lowered their prices 3 cents a pound. Lamb prices jumped up 2 to 4 cents a pound in many shops. Pork spare ribs are up in some shops and down in others. Several butchers clipped 2 cents a pound off their pork loin roasts.

Steak Prices Vary.

Steaks went a bobbing, too; sirloins and porterhouses are 4 to 7 cents a pound higher in some shops, while a few have reduced their prices as much as 4 cents a pound on round steaks. Fresh trout is off 3 to 4 cents a pound.

Down at Union Stockyards John Campbell, federal live stock reporter, says cattle of good grades are steady to 25 cents a hundredweight higher. Beef is about the same. Hogs are steady to 15 cents a hundred higher, and fresh pork carcasses are steady to 50 cents a hundred pounds lower. There is a tendency for fat lambs and fresh lamb carcasses to go up. Dressed lamb is 50 cents to $1 a hundred above last week's prices.

A. B. Farlinger, federal reporter, says carrots, cauliflower, celery, dry onions, new potatoes, and oranges are higher on the wholesale market.

He reports that cabbages are coming to the Chicago market in large quantities from Missouri; they are cheaper than last week. Wholesale prices have been reduced on a fairly long list of fresh fruits and vegetables, including roasting ears, cantaloupes, head lettuce, fresh peaches, green peas, strawberries, fresh tomatoes, watermelons, old potatoes, and cherries.

MARSHMALLOWS GIVE ADDED SMOOTHNESS TO SUMMER FRUIT DRINKS

Marshmallows seem to lend a special smoothness to fruit beverages without actually contributing any more calories than a proportionate amount of sugar.

Many kinds of fruit juices may be used to make delicious "marflips," as this type of beverage is called. Orange, grape, pineapple, and loganberry juices are particularly adaptable. One important point to remember is that lemon juice brings out most fruit flavors, therefore it is an important ingredient.

This loganberry drink is ideal for evening refreshment or as an afternoon thirst quencher:

LOGANBERRY MARFLIP.

[Serves Eight.]

24 marshmallows
2 cups loganberry juice canned
1 cup water
4 tablespoons lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon salt

Melt marshmallows with water in top of a double boiler. Remove from stove and add fruit juices and salt. Chill. When ready to serve, add an equal quantity of water or gingerale and cracked ice or ice cubes. The undiluted fruit sirup may be kept for several days in a tightly closed jar in the refrigerator.

Here's another marflip certain to please summer guests:

GOLDEN MARFLIP.

1 cup boiling water
16 marshmallows
¾ cup unstrained orange juice
¼ cup unsweetened canned pineapple juice
¾ cup lemon juice
1 cup cold water

Measure the boiling water, add the marshmallows, and let them melt. Cool the mixture and mix with fruit juices and water. Chill and serve with added ice.

CARE REQUIRED IN CLEANING OF ALUMINUM POTS

If aluminum utensils are to be kept attractive looking, they must be treated with a certain amount of care. It is best to wash aluminum pieces in clean, mild suds, then scald and dry them with a clean dry towel. Strong alkalies dull the original luster.

To remove dried on or burned food, fill the utensil with enough water to cover the area and bring the water to a boil. This is usually sufficient to loosen the adhering particles. Scouring with abrasive cleaners is harmful to the surface.

When a dark deposit has formed on the inner surface of an aluminum utensil due to certain foods cooked in the pan, the treatment is different, In these cases an acid is necessary to remove the residue or mineral deposit. An acid food cooked in the pan [tomatoes, rhubarb, lemon] will remove the stain.

Cream of tartar in water is equally effective. Fill the utensil with water and add one teaspoon of cream of tartar for each quart of water used. Bring the water to a boil and boil until the utensil is bright. At most this requires only a few minutes.

A deposit left on the inner surface of the tea kettle may be removed by filling the kettle with a solution of vinegar and water [half and half] and allowing it to come to a boil. Then let the tea kettle stand with the solution in it overnight. This softens the deposit and it may then be scraped off.

Butter Will Lessen Scum on Jams While Cooking

It often is necessary to remove the scum which forms on jam mixtures during cooking. One-fourth teaspoon butter added with the sugar reduces the skimming required.

VARIETY IS SPICE OF DESSERTS AT STRAWBERRY TIME

If you have served strawberry shortcake again and again this season and the appetites of your family are failing to respond when this dessert makes its appearance, it's time to vary the strawberry menu. Next time try a strawberry whip served with chocolate butter cookies, or for a super special dessert, a strawberry ice cream pie piled hig with billowy marshmallow meringue.

STRAWBERRY WHIP.

1 cup strawberries
7 tablespoons sugar
2 egg whites
⅓ cup whipped cream

Chop strawberries coarsely. Add sugar. Whip egg whites and cream separately until stiff. Fold the berries into the egg whites until thoroughly blended, then add cream and fold carefully into the mass. Pile lightly into individual serving dishes and serve with or without strawberry sauce. [Serves 6.]

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM PIE.

16 marshmallows
2 tablespoons crushed strawberries
Red vegetable coloring
2 egg whites
¼ cup granulated sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ pints vanilla ice cream
Baked pastry shell
1 cup sliced strawberries

Mix marshmallows and crushed strawberries in saucepan over low heat, folding over and over. Remove from heat before marshmallows have entirely melted, and continue folding until the marshmallows have formed a smooth, fluffy mass. Add a few drops of vegetable coloring to make the mixture a delicate pink. Beat egg whites until they hold a peak, then add sugar slowly and continue beating until meringue is stiff and smooth. Add salt. Fold meringue into softened marshmallow mixture.

Now, working quickly, smooth vanilla ice cream in the baked pastry shell. Cover with sliced strawberries and top with fluffy meringue. Lightly brown the meringue under the broiler, using high heat. This takes about half a minute. Serve at once.

MAYONNAISE IS EASY TO REMIX AFTER IT BECOMES SEPARATED

When mayonnaise has separated, follow this procedure to bind the mixture together again: place one tablespoon of cold water or vinegar in a bowl and gradually add the mayonnaise, beating constantly. But be sure to add the mayonnaise to the water or vinegar, not the liquid to the mayonnaise. An egg yolk will also do the work. Use the same method—add the mayonnaise to the egg yolk while beating constantly.

ONIONS, ORANGES MINGLE HAPPILY IN YOUR SALAD

An anonymous reader writes in to comment on a recipe recently printed for fruit salad dressing in which a small amount of grated onion is used. She says, "Whoever heard of a combination of onion and fruit? This must be a mistake."

Evidently this reader had never experienced the taste thrill of sliced oranges and onions [sweet Bermuda onions] in salad form.

As for the fruit salad dressing, most of our leading, dependable cook books contain dressing recipes of this type which use a small amount of onion.

Some cakes are baked in the oven nd others are "baked" in the refrigrator. There's no guesswork about efrigerator cakes. You can sample ne just before it goes into the ice ox and you'll have a pretty good lea about what it's going to taste ke when you serve it. There's no anger of scorching or falling either. FOR JAM MAKING

To make strawberry and pineapple jam by the short-boil method, crush thoroughly one quart fully ripe strawberries and grind one medium fully ripe pineapple. Combine fruit. (There should be 2 cups each of strawberries and pineapple.) Add 7 cups sugar, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over high heat, stirring constantly. Boil hard for one minute. Remove from stove and stir in ½ bottle fruit pectin. Stir and skim by turns for five minutes to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly into sterilized jars and paraffin at once. (10 six ounce glasses.)

NEW YORK JURY SERVICE IS HELD OPEN TO WOMEN

Albany, N. Y., June 10.—(AP)—Prolonged efforts to give New York women the right to jury service seemingly came to a victorious conclusion today through an opinion of Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr.

He ruled that special laws to qualify "male" jurors in 14 counties were "by clear implications" repealed in so far as sex designation was concerned, by the Kleinfeld permissive woman juror measure, passed by the recent legislature.

The special laws were cited, following passage of the Kleinfeld measure, as a bar to jury service by women of the counties affected.

Paraffin Should Protect Each Jar of Jam or Jell

As soon as jams or jellies are poured into glasses, protect them from dust by covering with a thin layer of hot paraffin. When the glasses are cold, add a second coating of paraffin. Roll glass to spread paraffin on sides. Protect each paraffined glass with a clean tin cover or securely fasten waxed paper over the top before storing.

Jelly Glasses Should Not Be Filled Entirely to Top

In pouring jelly into glasses, leave about one-half inch at the top of each glass. This allows for proper paraffining and provides a space for any sirup that may separate. Without this space, the sirup might creep over the top and provide a place for mold to grow.

GIRL RUNS AWAY AND HIDES WITH HER DOG IN WOOD

Effingham, Ill., June 10.—(AP)—Barefoot, her worn trousers shredded to the knees after living alone a week in the woods, Alma Harvey, 19 year old Arkansas girl, was taken "home" today—to the Effingham county farm. Officers found her yesterday.

Her thin dog, Penny, was her sole companion as she tramped through the briars in search of food and huddled beneath bushes for shelter while hiding in the timber near the village of Mason, she told Sherif Mark K. Ervin.

Sherif Ervin asked her what size shoes she wore, as he prepared to obtain some clothing for her.

"I don't know," she mumbled. "I haven't worn store shoes for so long."

Alma said she came to Farina, Ill., last week with her cousins, seeking employment as a berry picker. She ran away from them there and hid in the woods, she said. They proceeded to Michigan without her.

Hospital Is Background of This Romance

Nurse Indicates Interest in Young Patient.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

William writes that while he was in a hospital a short time ago one of the nurses was extremely kind to him. All the nurses were good to him, but this one singled him out and saw to it that he lacked none of the extra attentions that are so helpful when one is flat on his back and feeling more or less "down." She often would be late for her dinner just so she could make him more comfortable. She always was doing little things to kep him amused and happy.

He says he always was careful to thank her and make her feel that he appreciated her efforts in his behalf. After he'd been home a while he received a card from her. Now, William wants to know if he should write her a letter to ask if he might see her some time or go to see her in person. He wonders if she would like to see him.

It seems to me, William, she would be glad, indeed, to hear from you and to see you. After all, she didn't have to show you all those extra attentions in the hospital. She could have treated you as one of the regular patients to be accorded certain treatment, then left to his own resources. Instead, she showed more than usual interest in you and your well being. The assumption is that she liked you, don't you think? To prove further that you weren't just one of the regulars who are "out of sight, out of mind," she sent you a card. Isn't she inviting further word from you?

It shouldn't make any difference whether you call her up, write to her asking when you may see her, or drop in on her impromptu. Just get in touch with her. It's what she wants you to do. You might suggest taking her to dinner or the movies. It will give you a chance to reminisce about the days in the hospital. You'll get to know each other again and have fun together as you did in these days, and who can tell but your meeting again may be the beginning of a delightful friendship?

She has paved the way for it. It shouldn't be any effort on your part, for the first impressions, which are so important, were good, otherwise you wouldn't have heard from her.

Loretta Young Reveals Adoption of Two Babies

Hollywood, Cal., June 10.—[Special.]—Loretta Young today revealed she has adopted two small girls. The dark haired motion picture star noticed the youngsters at a Christmas party at a Los Angeles orphanage and began her adoption moves shortly afterward. The babies, Jane, 3½, and Judy, 23 months, are now with Miss Young at her home. Miss Young's childless marriage to Grant Withers, was ended by a divorce in 1931, after a year and a half of matrimony. The actress is 25.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

LIGHT DOUBLES.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

The player who makes a light double thinks that the greatest potential profits can be obtained from doubling the opponents, but, usually because the bidding still is at a very low level, he has not yet received enough information about his partner's hand to be certain.

The light double is by nature tentative. [Hence, it formerly was called the tentative double.] Almost all light doubles are made when partner opens the bidding and an opponent overcalls. The opening bid being only partly informative, the responder cannot be certain of the sort of hand his partner holds.

For example, consider the following bidding with East and West vulnerable:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	2 diamonds	?

North holds:

♠ A J 4 ♥ 6 ♦ J 6 4 2 ♣ K J 7 6 5.

If South has two or three diamonds and three or four honor tricks outside, West's two diamond overcall probably can be defeated 500 or 800 points. If South has a long string of hearts headed by the ace-king and perhaps the king of spades on the side, the two diamond bid may be made. North cannot be sure which sort of hand South has, yet if he bids or passes he has irreparably lost his chance to double.

TODAY'S HAND.

As players grow more experienced they come to realize that the take-out double can be used flexibly instead of arbitrarily.

South, dealer.

♥ K Q 9 7 5 3
♣ A J 7 4

WEST
♠ K 7
♥ A J 10 6 4
♦ A 9 5

EAST
♠ 9 8 4 3
♥ None
♦ J 10 7 4 2

SOUTH
♠ A Q J 10 5
♦ K Q 6 3
♣ Q 5

This hand occurred in a match point duplicate game. At all tables South opened with one spade. Those West players who did not truly appreciate the effective range of take-out doubles stepped squarely into a bottomless pit by overcalling with two hearts. From that point on, whether or not East rescued, the carnage was terrific.

Two or three West players were shrewd enough and experienced enough to realize that they had a safer bid at their command than two hearts. Obviously, the hand was too good to pass over one spade, especially in a duplicate game. But also, obviously, an overcall at the eight trick level with the suit ranking next to the opponents' spade suit, was highly dangerous. These few Wests solved the difficulty by doubling one spade for a take-out. It then was North and South who were under pressure. North correctly redoubled, but, when East bid two diamonds, South was properly reluctant to double. The advantage of West's previous action now became apparent. He was not even tempted to show the heart suit, since he had discovered that the opponents had most of the strength and his partner very little. North could not double two diamonds and, in blissful ignorance of the heart situation, made the natural bid of two hearts. East passed and South rebid the spades. West remained discreetly silent and North took one more fling toward game by rebidding hearts.

At some tables South went on with spades. At others the contract remained three hearts. But, in either case, the results were eminently satisfactory to East and West.

The object lesson, as I started out to say, is that a take-out double often is more conservative than an overcall.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Dealer opened the bidding with one no trump. Second hand passed. Third hand bid two spades. Fourth hand passed. What should dealer now bid with:

♠ J 7 6 2 ♥ K Q 6 ♦ K J 10 ♣ A K 6?

Answer: Three spades.

Tomorrow's Hand

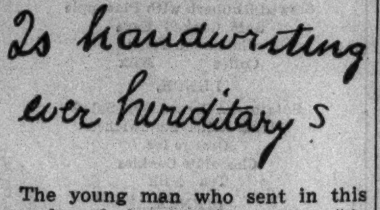
Expert Avers Handwriting Is Not Hereditary

BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

[Copyright: 1937: By Muriel Stafford.]

You've heard mothers say when the son and heir is acting badly, "He's just like his father!" They never seem to say it when inspecting a top notch report card—at least not many mothers.

Many children are misunderstood because their mothers assume that whenever they are bad they take after the father's side of the family. Often it isn't true at all. Compare your child's handwriting chart with your own as well as with his father's. Perhaps he is taking after you!



Is handwriting
ever hereditary ?

The young man who sent in this sample of handwriting asks, "Is handwriting ever hereditary? My signature is almost a facsimile of my grandfather's written 81 years ago."

Handwriting itself is not hereditary, of course, or we wouldn't need to teach it. The physical and mental traits of the grandfather have probably been passed on to the grandson and these make the two handwritings similar.

There is the possibility that the boy admired his grandfather tremendously and tried to imitate him in every way possible. At an impressionable age this would have a decided effect upon his character and upon his handwriting, even though he did not consciously try to imitate the grandfather's writing.

Imitation is still the sincerest form of flattery and in imitating we are trying hard to be like the original. This effort is bound to reflect in our handwriting, simply because it affects our innate personality.

Will power is a quality that is often passed along for generations, especially the placid, dominating will shown in this sample of writing.

This writer is meticulous about details and all surface appearances. So was his grandfather if he wrote like this. He does not rush into anything as you can see from his careful writing.

Deliberate, exact, logical, strong willed, and humorous, he probably IS like his grandfather, and that is why he finds the writing the same in spite of being trained under a different "method" of penmanship.

Wini Shaw Is Colorful Type of Personality

Singer Has Own Brand of Beauty Theories.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Among the "celebs" on my interview list of recent days, appeared one who earns a strong limelight spot as a colorful personality. I speak of Wini Shaw, a newcomer in the movie world, though she's been blues-singing for a time.

She's a brunette. I don't know how you feel about it, but when brunettes have color and personality, they seem more colorful than any other type. This good looking Shaw girl puts across in private life that same warm, colorful personality that has made her a headliner in her professional work. One is born with a good deal of that personality, methinks. But she nurses it and develops it as she goes along. And when she perfects it, she has something big and warm and fairly wonderful to offer. I've known several women with this same quality of warm appeal and, curiously enough, along with Wini Shaw, they're singers. Maybe singers have a corner on the particular market!

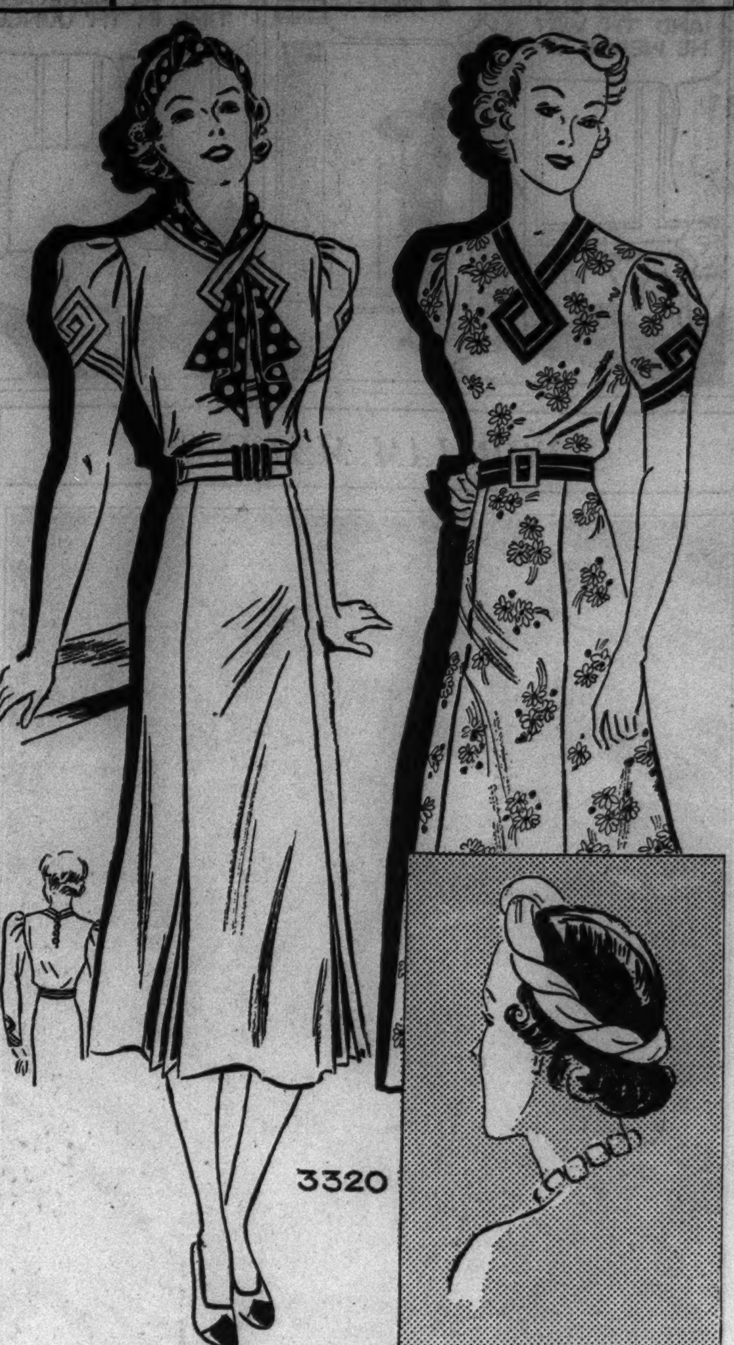
Miss Shaw has three youngsters to set her apart as something new from which to extract suggestions by which other women may pattern. She married very young. The oldest child is 9. I present her as Exhibit A to Z in how a gorgeous figure may be maintained in spite of motherhood. And Miss Shaw herself has something to say on the subject.

"The trouble with so many young mothers-to-be is that they commit themselves to stupid pampering. They abandon whatever games and sports they may have been pursuing heretofore, and go in for lolling about and being waited upon. O, yes, some of them may follow the doctor's orders to take a daily walk, but what a timid little walk it turns out to be! No wonder, after the babe arrives, they have silhouette trouble. I swam and did everything right up to the last minute. So, I didn't have to go through that after-childbirth figure worrying."

And gals, you ought to see that Shaw girl's figure, with a waistline that'd give you the green-eyed jitters; a diaphragm as flat as a schoolgirl's; long, slender hipline and not an ounce of excess flesh at all. But, being a straightforward soul, Wini Shaw tells of an "inactive" period when she stopped looking at the scales mounting and got busy getting back where she belonged, in which period she had to dispose of more than twenty-five pounds. The movies were calling her, but not with that weight. So, she hied herself off to a spa where she took the baths and, for a month and a half, lived on a raw vegetable diet only. Raw vegetables only, mind you, with fruit juices and coffee for breakfast.

How to shadow eyelids is only one of many beauty hints which you will find in Antoinette Donnelly's booklet, "Makeup Magic." On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

Simple Frock, Clever Details



WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

Cut-out sections put emphasis on the youthful scarf neckline and puffed sleeves of this casual cotton dress for summer days. The gay scarf adds an interesting note of contrast, and the unusual treatment of the cut sections is surprisingly easy to handle. You need not worry about achieving this smart effect, because the pattern explains every detail of the sewing. Plaits clustered in the front of the wide skirt are smart additions to its lines.

A smart idea is to have the binding on the cut-out sections of a contrasting color, that is, if you don't use the bright scarf for trimming. Both prints and plain shades make up attractively in this model, which you can wear simply everywhere during the day. This dress may go to tea, matinée, club meeting, social events of every kind, and yet it is styled so that you may wear it for both active and spectator sports, too.

Don't overlook the neat little crownless turban. It's the sort of thing every one is wearing this season, for it holds the hair in place, has the chic effect of a hat, and yet is cool.

It is seldom that a dress with so much style is available for so little money. The fabrics this season are both smart and economical, a blessing to your budget.

Style No. 3320 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material, with 1 yard of 35 inch contrasting for the scarf and turban bands and 7¼ yards of binding for neck, sleeves, and belt.

Here's That Amazing Way To LOSE UGLY FAT
Without suffering a hungry moment and without taking strenuous exercises or drugs

WEIGHT LOSSES OF 7 POUNDS A MONTH ARE COMMONLY CREDITED TO IT

TODAY, an amazing, new reducing method is sweeping the country. A method which offers at last, a way to take off ugly fat without suffering a hungry moment—and without taking strenuous exercises or drugs. A method which increases physical and mental energy as excess weight disappears.

Under the direction of the eminent Dr. Damrau of New York, a number of people who were gaining at the rate of 1⅔ pounds a month, followed this remarkable method. And the average loss registered was 7 pounds per person in a single month. Consider that carefully.

This Is All You Do

This sensational reducing method simply calls for this: Mix ¾ of a glass of Welch's Grape Juice, with ¼ of a glass of water, and drink before each meal—and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly, and this is what happens.

First, Welch's Grape Juice satisfies your craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to over-eat fattening foods—yet you do feel comfortably satisfied.

Second, the grape sugar in Welch's is quickly burned up—producing vital energy. And, most important, helps nature to consume excess fat.

Third, the juice has an alkalizing effect on the system which any doctor will tell you is highly beneficial.

This is why weight is not only lost naturally and safely—often at the rate of 7 pounds a month, or more—but why you feel so much better and stronger as your ugly fat disappears.

Only One Thing to Watch

In following this proved, SAFE way to lose ugly fat—eat sensibly—and be sure to use Welch's pure, aged, unadulterated full-strength grape juice. Made from the finest grapes grown. No water added; no artificial coloring. Good Housekeeping approved. Insist upon the genuine Welch's Grape Juice for the results you want.

WATCH YOUR HUSBAND'S WEIGHT

Insurance Companies warn about the dangers of overweight. For they have definitely proved that overweight places too much of a load on the heart, is often associated with such diseases as diabetes and kidney trouble—and shortens the normal span of life. Don't allow your husband to become overweight. Suggest this amazingly easy, pleasant, safe Welch way to reduce.

Garden Walk at Lake Forest Will Be Today

Six Estates and 4 Houses Open for Tour.

BY JUDITH CASS.

FROM six until six o'clock today nearly every woman in Lake Forest will be on the job in one or another of the half dozen gardens that are being opened for the Lake Forest Garden club's garden walk.

With hundreds of visitors expected between the hours of 11 and 6 o'clock, Mrs. Thomas A. Connors and Mrs. Stephen Y. Hord, co-chairmen of the show, who were up at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning themselves, have called on a small army of aids to do likewise today.

Nothing less than such an army is required to man the gates, patrol the gardens and stand guard in the four houses that also will be opened to the public. Members of the Garden club have arranged to work in two hour shifts all day, which makes this garden walk much more of an undertaking than any of the club's previous flower shows.

The walk will begin at Mrs. Walter S. Brewster's estate, proceeding through Mrs. William E. Clow's garden, Thomas E. Donnelley's, Mrs. James H. Douglas' and Mrs. Charles C. Haffner's to Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy's estate, culminating at the flower market in the courtyard of the Cudahys' Norman house.

Mrs. Brewster, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Haffner and Mrs. Cudahy are throwing open the downstairs rooms of their houses, and here will be seen flower arrangements that harmonize with their settings.

Information Leaflet Will Assist Visitors.

For the convenience of visitors who take the two hour walk—the Garden club members have timed it—a leaflet giving such information as the names of architects and landscape gardeners for each estate and special points of interest will be provided, and hot and cold drinks, sandwiches, and cookies will be served on Mrs. Haffner's terrace.

The flower market with its booths under gayly striped awnings will be run by Garden club members in brilliant yellow and red and blue peasant costumes. The Eli Bates shop, the Trading post, and the Junior League book shop all will have booths, and plants, flowers, and garden accessories of all sorts will be on sale at still other booths. Mrs. Cudahy has imported rare tropical plants from Florida for a special exhibit in the greenhouse adjoining the courtyard.

Although this is not to be a flower show, properly speaking, flowers and plants will be exhibited in a number of classifications and there will be a children's exhibit making use of metal kitchen utensils in a fashion suggesting miniature gardens. Ribbons and cash prizes will be awarded, including a $25 prize for the best entry in the show.

Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker, Mrs. Jerome Deimel, Miss May Elizabeth McAdams, Robert E. Moore, Roy West, and E. L. Kammerer will be judges, and Mrs. Lawrence W. Scudder will be hostess to them, and to Mrs. Connors, Mrs Nord, Mrs. Donald C. Cottrell, and Mrs. C. McPherson Holt at luncheon at the Onwentsia club.

If it rains today the walk will be postponed to tomorrow. Admission will be by tickets obtained in advance only, and not at the gate, although children are excepted. Advice to walkers: WEAR LOW-HEELED SHOES!

Miss Madelene Rummler Bride in East Today.

A wedding of interest to Chicagoans will take place in New York today when Miss Madelene Rummler, daughter of William R. A CHICAGO banker and his wife, sailing from the Panama canal to San Francisco three and a half years ago, dropped a bottle with a note in it into the ocean opposite Acapulco, Mexico, some 25 miles off shore. That was Jan. 13, 1934. Last month the bottle was picked up, some 8,500 miles from that point, being found in the Pacific near the Philippines. The finder wrote an answer to the Chicagoans' note.

Bottle letter—Notes—Advice.

The Chicagoan was Arthur G. Rathje, vice president of the Chicago City Bank and Trust company. He had written on the note: "On board S. S. President Taft bound for San Francisco, Cal. Voyage No. 52, Jan. 13, 1934. Finder please write to name on reverse side of card."

The answering note said, in part:

"*The bottle was found on the shore of the Carrio of Palanas, municipality of Dimasalang, province of Masbate, Philippine Islands. I found the bottle at 2 o'clock p. m. this 6th day of May, 1937. CUFF NOTES: A slight, spectacled, youngish, sensitive looking man, in town recently to see Katharine Cornell and her husband, Guthrie McClintock, was Dr. Gustave Eckstein, author of "Canary" and, several years ago, of the life of Noguchi. It is the earlier book that interests Miss Cornell, who wants to do a play adapted from the book. . . . And John Huston, actor and son of an actor father [Walter Huston], is enthusiastic over a play by Jean Cocteau about the Knights of the Round Table, on which he has an option. . . . Add recent dandelion notes: "Mr. and Mrs. Westlund [Dandelyn Roseberry] of Cedar Falls, Ia., were married May 30 . . . and the couple left for Chicago to reside." . . . Paul Shahin, dance instructor and song composer, has dance instructions with diagrams for man and lady printed on the back page of his sheet music. . . . The Hinsdale Golf club has a nesting swan, watched over by a cob ready to fight all comers. . . . A "German hair cut" also is a term applied to the method of trimming a hedge. I guess you aren't gardeners or you would know that. . . . Kenneth Horan, in her "Remember the Day," tells of Cot, the family coachman, who had been a trusty in the Michigan state penitentiary. He had served sentence for choking to death a man who kicked his dog, which convinced the author's father he was the safest possible person to whom to entrust his small children. . . . Mrs. Lester Armour and Mrs. John Coleman are wondering if the iron morning glory stands, painted a dazzling red and designed to be filled with real honey, will actually lure Illinois humming birds as they are supposed to do. . . . They are included among the garden accessories shown at the Lake Forest Garden Club Garden walk today. Also iron roosters that Mrs. Stephen Hord says look important enough to crow when their tail feathers are made of red and white geraniums. . . . The costumes Mrs. Duncan Hodges and her flower market committee are wearing were designed by Mrs. Tom Connors. . . . A trafic policeman at State and Madison streets tried to pick up a pin from the street during the noon hour rush on Saturday without being seen giving in to this human weakness, but a column stooge spotted him.

ONE of four persons in the crowd watching the Chicago Charter Jubilee parade Monday evening detached himself long enough to make inquiry of a stranger. Returning to the group he reported what he had found out: "The parade is in celebration of the 90th anniversary of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE," he explained.

Miss Caryl Bloomingston June Bride

In a quiet ceremony at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Chrysostom's church Miss Caryl Bloomingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bloomingston, became the bride of E. Cummings Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Parker. The bride wore a stunning summery gown of ice blue mousseline de soie over a satin slip of the same color, and carried white orchids with purple tips. Her cap and finger tip length veil also were of the blue mousseline.

Miss Virginia Parker- who was her sister-in-law's only attendant, wore organza, made with puffed sleeves, and a large leghorn hat. Her flowers were an old fashioned bouquet of red carnations.

Following the ceremony, which was attended by members of the immediate families, there was a reception at the Lake Shore Drive hotel. Mr. Parker and his bride have gone east on a wedding trip.

Mother Requests Washing Machine.

"Dear Miss Brown: Would you please ask your readers if any one has a washing machine that is no longer used? My husband is handy at repairing, if it needs a little fixing. We are a family of seven and my husband's salary on WPA doesn't pay for anything except rent, coal, and food. I have been ill and doing all our washing by hand over a tub has become too much for me.—Mrs. N. S."

Every Tribune Worker Enjoys Birthday Fete

Series of Parties Held on 90th Anniversary.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Ninety years old!

From its subterranean tunnels to the tip of its tower, THE TRIBUNE yesterday celebrated the 90th anniversary of its founding.

For ten hours, from 4:30 p. m. until 2:30 a. m., THE TRIBUNE'S 3,000 employés engaged in a continuous round of birthday parties, starting with a toast to the past and ending with a toast to the future.

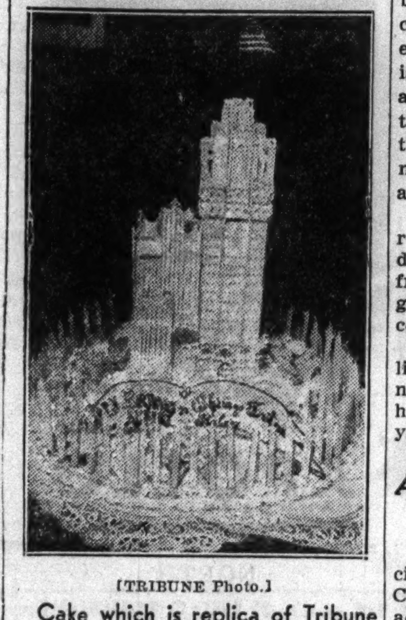
It began at 4:30 o'clock when 170 employés of the rotogravure press, roto etching, ink plant, and Tribune garage, all housed in outlying buildings, gathered at 427 East Ontario street to sip Madeira and eat a piece of birthday cake. It ended at 2:30 a. m. when forty men paused beside the Chicago river in their nocturnal labor of unloading rolls of paper to be rolled by tunnel from river to Tribune Tower and drank the final toast of the day.

In between, every employé, from pressman to artist to janitor, stopped at a set hour and celebrated—yet without once upsetting in the slightest the routine necessary to produce today's paper.

How was that done? By a progressive party, a series of parties, so planned that the celebration in each department took place during a lull period or at the beginning or end of shifts—when, for instance, the copy was down, when the edition was up, when the presses were momentarily stilled, or when the charwomen were stopping for 10 o'clock lunch.

With its 32 waiters, music, fresh flowers, and miniature American flags the party moved from department to department, timed to the minute.

From the roto plant at 4:30, it progressed to three simultaneous parties in the Tribune Tower. In one, 150 employés of the art production, syndicate, benefit, trafic, and purchasing departments gathered. In another, 330 adtakers, switchboard, business survey, and advertising men. In another, color engravers, auditors, adjusters, paymaster, and mail cage employés, 225 in all.



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Cake which is replica of Tribune Tower. It was present to The Tribune yesterday on its 90th birthday by Albert J. Pixley of Pixley and Ehlers restaurants.

Then, at 5:30, to the press room, where the first shift was preparing to run off the first edition of today's paper; to the mail room, where 380 employés of the circulation, electrical, job printing, galley and stockroom departments, were waiting; then to the Tribune Public Service Office at Dearborn and Madison streets.

At 6:30 came the editorial and composing rooms' lull. Copy, pictures, cuts for the first edition were "down," and editorial, engraving, and Ben Day employés celebrated together, as did printers and stereotypers.

Then, in swift succession, came, at 8, another mailing room shift; at 10, janitress' party and another switchboard shift; at 11, a new black and comic press shift; at 12, a stereotypers' and reel room [where the paper is unrolled for printing] shift; at 2 a. m., celebration for the circulation truck drivers, and finally at 2:30 in the morning celebration in the tunnel connecting the Tribune Tower and its riverside warehouse.

Each department was decorated in red, white, and blue. A large birthday cake, surmounted by a delicate frosted model of Tribune square [the gift of Albert J. Pixley] occupied the center of the tower lobby.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher, proposed the toast "to the ninety years behind us," with the hope that "we may all be here ten years from now."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MUNICH, Germany, June 10.—Only $120,000 was realized at the auction of art treasures of Berlin state museums which were concluded at Munich today. Foreign bidders displayed little interest in the sale. Once more China miniatures attracted the keenest competition, but bidding for paintings was slow and many were left unsold. Stephan Lochner's "Christ Crucified"—one of the biggest attractions of the auction—remained unsold.

Summer Duet for Daytime Wear

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

You luxury lovers who take joy and pride in fine toilet soaps, gather 'round. There's a perfectly luscious new soap that you should know about. It's scented with the spicy, invigorating scent of carnation, red carnation, and the soap itself is that rich, deep red you find in the real flower.

This is one of those toilet soaps that have such a fine, creamy base that only the super supersensitive skins can't use them. Dry skinned women find it gentle enough to satisfy their most exacting demands. It whips up a fine lather in no time at all, and the delicious carnation fragrance is strong enough to impart its odor to the entire room and to remain on the skin itself for a surprisingly long time. And we repeat, it's an especially fine reproduction of the carnation perfume, too.

The soap comes in two sizes. Four plump oval cakes in a box make up the toilet size and three even plumper ones the bath size. It's not inexpensive, we're sorry to say, and we imagine that many women who have to keep a careful eye on the pursestrings will feel it must be reserved for special occasions. But for those special occasions it's perfect. It's plenty nice enough for a gift—bridge prize, going away present, or as a token of appreciation to your weekend hostess—for any feminine heart responds to really lovely beauty offerings.

The rich, deep red—almost a maroon—which is a most unusual shade to find in a soap, lends a luxurious note of color to the bathroom, and the color, we might add, is not just a coating, but is inherent in the soap itself. You'll find this bath luxury in one of the shops in town.

M. S.

Bottle Green Is Grand Color for Warm Days

New Chiffons and Cottons Take Spotlight.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Some one with a good idea of summer clothes smartness has designed some new chiffons in bottle green, the kind of street or afternoon outfits that will see a weary-of-the-heat shopper through the most torrid days. Bottle green, cool and dark as a cypress grove, is flattering to blonde and brunette as well as the pet color for a coppertop. Cooled with touches of white or worn with white or pale beige accessories, these fresh green costumes rate top interest.

One model in chiffon has a plaited umbrella style skirt, short sleeves in the dress and a short cape. Another two piece fitted suit has a flared white crisp organdy neck frill, another two piece hasn't a snip of contrast anywhere, and a third suit has an eyelet embroidered collar and cuff set.

Suits are of the slim one-piece and short fitted jacket variety. All dresses and jackets have short sleeves. The prices are as interesting as the new color details and white contrasts.

This same bottle green comes in some grand cotton clothes. A daytime dress of bottle green and white seersucker in an all over design has a white narrow front panel. Some bottle green tissue gingham plaids are made with a flared skirt, a tucked bosom shirtwaist top and short sleeves. These cottons are irresistibly cool and refreshing, especially the nonwiltable stuff for broiling hot days. They have price marks considerably under ten dollars and are the smartest street and office togs you can find.

Fashion photograph . . . indispensable in any good summer wardrobe are the many and varied jackets or jacket costumes. The sort of a duet that can be painlessly severed to combine with other skirts and jackets already in the wardrobe. This model features a slim, simply flared tobacco brown cotton skirt and a gay printed short sleeved jacket with a creamy white background. The brimmed white hat is trimmed with ribbon bands in contrasting color. Hat and jacket outfit will be found in a Chicago shop.

Voyage to P.-T. A. Meeting Leads to Mother Role in Film

Hollywood, Cal., June 10.—(AP)—Surprised at herself, but calm, a dignified Honolulu matron has a rôle in a $1,500,000 movie.

She was on her way to the national P.-T.-A. congress at Richmond, Va., recently when Director John Ford, an old friend, persuaded her to take a rôle in "Hurricane." She got one concession. She visited the P.-T.-A. meeting first.

Now with no more experience than Honolulu amateur theatricals she plays the mother of a South Sea youth, Terangi, wanted for murder.

Six Estates and 4 Houses Open for Tour.

ler, who is in New York just for a short time on a two year round-the-world cruise aboard The Suez, a two-masted 60-foot schooner. Charles Van Brunt Reilly of Milwaukee and P. W. Jackson of Mountain Lakes, N. J., are young Mr. Rummler's companions.

The bride's other brother, Joseph M. Rummler, is in New York for the ceremony and so is her aunt, Mrs. Edward Everett Vincent of Chicago, who was a sister of the late Mrs. Rummler [Susan Harding]. Joseph Rummler was one of four Cornell graduates who in 1929 crossed the Atlantic to Greece on a 46-foot ketch. Robert Rummler was graduated from the University of Illinois last year.

Miss Rummler attended National Park seminary in Washington, D. C., and the University of Chicago. Mr. Woodard, who is a graduate of the University of Missouri, class of '32, and his bride will spend their honeymoon at Bar Harbor, Me., and will live in New York, where he is in the advertising business.

Service Club Holds Spring Luncheon Today.

Having arrived at home on Wednesday from a visit to coronation-gay London, Miss Marion Newcomet undoubtedly will be kept busy telling about her visit today at the annual spring luncheon of the Service club, of which she is president.

Coronation reminiscences, however, will not be the entire business of the day, for preliminary plans must be discussed for the annual revue next fall, the tentative date for which is Oct. 30. Today's meeting and luncheon will be at the Saddle and Cycle club.

Dr. and Mrs. William F. Peterson and their three sons are leaving today for a three months' European trip. They will be missed by the Lake Geneva summer colony, for this is the first summer that they have not spent there in many years.

Mrs. Ernest A. Ballard and several of the Ballard children—Miss Elizabeth, a Bryn Mawr graduate of this month; Miss Susan, a Vassar graduate of a few days, and Miss Mary—are at the Ballards' summer home in Maine.

Mr. Ballard, who went east for the graduation exercises, will go to Maine later in the summer. Ellis Ballard II. and Joseph Ballard will join their mother when their studies are over at Yale and Choate, respectively.

Miss Margot Atkin and Miss Betty McDonald sailed last Wednesday to spend the summer abroad.

Mulfords Will Go East Next Month.

Frank B. Mulford is recuperating from his recent illness, and he and Mrs. Mulford will leave early next week to spend the summer in their attractive old house in Mystic, Conn. They plan to return to Chicago the middle of October.

Mrs. Hobart P. Young of Winnetka and her sons Hobart Jr. and Chandler, will spend the summer in the west but they will not be together. After Hobart is graduated from Harvard Mrs. Young, who will go east for the commencement exercises June 20 to 25, and Mrs. Ralph Sargent and Ralph Jr. will leave to drive to Seattle by way of Glacier park, Banff, and Lake Louise. They will sail July 15 for Alaska.

Hobart Young Jr. also will drive west, but he will go with two Evanston friends, Rodney Webster and Jack Leslie. Chandler, who will return home from his first year at the University of Wisconsin on Saturday, will leave later this month to spend the summer on the LX Bar ranch in Colorado.

Mrs. Hermon B. Butler of Winnetka and Mrs. Carl C. Bullock of Ravinia are sailing next Wednesday on the Aquitania to spend several weeks in England. Mrs. Butler will attend the wedding of Miss Nora Forman, former Winnetkan, and Godfrey Victor Ralli, in London on June 24.

Mrs. Butler's granddaughter, Miss Judy Butler, who sailed several weeks ago, will be a bridesmaid. Mrs. Butler will spend the latter half of the summer in the east.

Cliff Dwellers to Hold Mock Coronation.

"Herbie" Hyde will be crowned king and William H. Barnes will be the queen at the burlesque coronation the Cliff Dwellers will stage tomorrow at their sixth annual barbecue at the Garnet W. McKees' estate on Lake Geneva. Since even the popular Mr. Hyde's best friend would describe him as short and plump and since Mr. Barnes is a very large man, the crowning is certain to be amusing.

Mr. Button, the distinguished looking English art dealer, will be the dowager queen; Irving K. Pond, the archbishop of Cranberry; Glenn Dillard Gunn, the archbishop of Pork; Earl Reed, the duke of Winsher, and Marx Oberndorfer, Mrs. Jimson. The last named two will be present "to furnish incidental hoots and hisses," so the invitations state.

Leaders of Alliance Will Be Decorated.

The Alliance Française will give a reception next Thursday for Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick and Henry C. Morris, both of whom will be decorated then with the Legion of Honor.

M. Rene Weiller, consul general of France, will make the presentation. Mrs. McCormick is president of the conseil d'administration of the alliance, and Mr. Morris is a former president of the alliance. Mme. Rene Weiller will act as hostess at the reception.

Sports Writer Is Featured in His First Movie

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 10.—[Special.]—The Chicago Cubs inadvertently helped bring a new featured actor to the screen. The Cubs were responsible for the appearance on the west coast last March of a six foot, blue eyed sports reporter and radio sports announcer from Des Moines, Ia., named Ronald Reagan.

While here Reagan renewed acquaintance with Joy Hodges, songstress with a Los Angeles night spot orchestra. Through another relay of acquaintances Reagan was asked to call on Warner studio casting director, Max Arnow. Reagan went back to Des Moines, but a week after he got there Hollywood had decided it wanted to give him a chance.

Now Reagan is being given a lead in his very first film appearance. He plays opposite June Travis of the Chicago White Sox Grabiner family in "Inside Story" and the supporting cast has such skilled veterans as George E. Stone, Robert Barrat, Raymond Hatton, and Eddie Acuff. Nick Grinde is directing.

Reagan is 25, athletic looking, brown haired, and a former life guard. He attended high school at Dixon, Ill., where he had his first venture in theatricals, and later was in Eureka college dramatics. His favorite rôle was Capt. Stanhope in "Journey's End," the same rôle at Pomona college which called Bob Taylor to attention of movie scouts. Reagan also spent one season with the Johnson players, a stock company with a circuit from Peoria, Ill., to Davenport, Ia.

William De Mille arrives here Saturday for his first Hollywood appearance in years. He is to assist his brother, Cecil, in filming "The Buccaneer," which enters production next month.

Marian Marsh announces her engagement to marry Al Scott, ex-husband of Colleen Moore, but says no date for the wedding has been set.

The Rev. Silvio Masante, O. S. J., American correspondent for Osservatore Romano, Vatican daily newspaper, is in Hollywood with an assignment to interview movie notabilities and communicate his idea of picture people and picture making to European readers. He recently did a special story on Shirley Temple.

Father Masante has a brother who is a professor in the Royal university in Rome, who tutored Mussolini's sons, and another brother who is a captain in the Italian Black Shirts.

Betty Grable, who replaced Shirley Ross in Paramount's "This Way, Please," when Miss Ross walked out of her rôle, has now been cast to play a similar featured part in "College Swing," annual summer musical nonsense picture which Paramount launches next week. The cast includes John Howard, Martha Raye, Burns and Allen, Ben Blue, Benny Baker, Edward Everett Horton, and Charlie Butterworth. Miss Ross had taken a featured part in previous annual musicals of the "College" series at Paramount.

Because a family of birds made their nest in the bent braces of the beach umbrella in their patio, Maureen O'Sullivan and Johnny Farrow can't open the umbrella and have lost the use of their patio.

Clark Gable went to the Metro studio commissary kitchen and watched the cook prepare trout. "I am going fishing next week," said Gable, "and I expect to catch a lot of trout."

Dick Grace, stunt aviator, who went through dozens of crackups for movies and was among the first to try trans-Pacific flying, will write the film vehicle for "Trans-Atlantic Flyer," Richard Merrill's starring movie story at Monogram.

Wayne Morris, the tall, yellow haired, youthful looking prize fighter of "Kid Galahad," is under Warner contract. But he prizes a telegram offering him $25,000 a year for two years to train for a heavyweight career as a ring heavyweight. The telegram purported to come from Benny Leonard, ex-lightweight champion, and Dumb Dan Morgan, New York fight manager.

George Jessel is author of a story, "Hollywood Doctor," which concerns the romantic experiences of a young medico with a motion picture colony practice. Mervyn Leroy is going to produce it at Warner's.

Phyllis Kennedy, a chorus girl in "Shall We Dance?" became friendly with Ginger Rogers. The girl has been promoted to a rôle as a maid in "Stage Door" on Ginger's urging. Miss Rogers and Katharine Hepburn are co-featured.

Tribune Grows to New World Made by Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

As THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE passed its 90th milestone yesterday many a reader must have reflected on the profound changes radio has brought to the American scene in the 15 years since this newspaper reached the three-quarter century mark. Now, according to statisticians, 24,500,000 American families [four out of five and twice as many as have telephones] average 5.1 hours of radio listening every day—enough if laid end to end to stretch back to 8,942 B. C.

Entertained periodically with such sensational items as broadcasts from the stratosphere, from a bathysphere one-half mile under the ocean, through eclipses reported from the south seas, by abdications, coronations, and music by the Dionne quintuplets' toy band, this vast audience continued to prefer, for regular fare, Maj. Bowes and Jack Benny and Gracie Allen. Maj. Bowes, in fact, according to radio's most reliable listener survey, is one champion who came back, having just replaced Benny as first in the hearts of his [radio] countrymen.

On the day THE TRIBUNE started its last lap to the century mark radio manufacturers announced 1,200 new models, of which they hoped to sell 9,000,000 this year. These they offered to sell from $10 to upward of $2,500. One manufacturer just introduced a 30 tube set as his smallest job with prices starting at $300. And he can't keep up with the demand!

Public opinion notwithstanding, radio and not movies offers, in some few instances at least, the most remunerative pay for entertainment services. There are half dozen personalities—Maj. Bowes, Jack Benny, Eddie Cantor, and George Burns and Gracie Allen among them—who command $10,000 or more each week.

Yesterday, as on every day, Hitler laid down in English and Spanish and many other tongues, as well as German, his regular barrage of Nazi propaganda. And from Madrid came the customary interpretation in English of the conflict in Spain. In Detroit the United Auto Workers union announced a year's contract with a local station for 15 minute daily addresses on unionism, with a half hour appeal on Sundays.

Radio has become the most ubiquitous instrument in our lives. It drowns out living room conversation, follows the family into the kitchen [yes, the refrigerator], the bedroom and the bath. Outdoors it is almost omnipresent—in motor cars, trailers, boats, and on tractors and gang plows.

As every day, yesterday found the big bosses of broadcasting busy plotting new programs to snare the public fancy. Last minute details were being ironed out to transmit the world championship Louis-Braddock fight not only to Americans—but in Spanish and German for foreign consumption. Plans were being mapped to broadcast Prof. Piccard's projected flight to the stratosphere in a cluster of balloons over Rochester, Minn. Arrangements were being perfected for airing full operas from Salzburg, Austria, on Saturday afternoons in July and August, and the roster of a new symphony orchestra, which the great Toscanini is to direct in a series of radio concerts next fall, was nearly completed.

But while radio has brought us much and promises more—in the tempo and temper of our times—it cannot yet give us everything. Fritz Kreisler's answer is still definitly no; Shirley Temple's mama is said to have modified her earlier refusal in behalf of her famous daughter to "perhaps later."

And television, lest you forget, is still just around the corner.

Shirley Temple Is Removed from Suit for $500,000

Hollywood, Cal., June 10.—[Special.]—Shirley Temple, child film star, today was eliminated by a court ruling as a defendant in a $500,000 suit brought by Jack Hays, film representative. She was named along with her parents, by Hays, who claimed he was entitled to one-half her earnings during a two year period ending January, 1934. Hays claims he had a contract with the parents. The latter must remain defendants and were given ten days to answer.

Girl Graduates Cum Laude; Too Young for Bar Test

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—Brown haired, brown eyed Mildred C. Greif, daughter of a Brooklyn dental surgeon, was graduated cum laude from Brooklyn law school of St. Lawrence university. She averaged A on all courses. She wants to go to work at once, but she will have to wait until next winter, because she is too young to take the bar examinations. Miss Greif is 20 and bar applicants must be 21.

Her Resentment Not Smart.

"Dear Miss Blake: My girl said I'd rather be with another girl than with her, and that she gives a fellow only one chance to make good. Please advise. SKIPPY JR."

Apparently she's resentful of any attention you show the other girl, and that's not being smart.

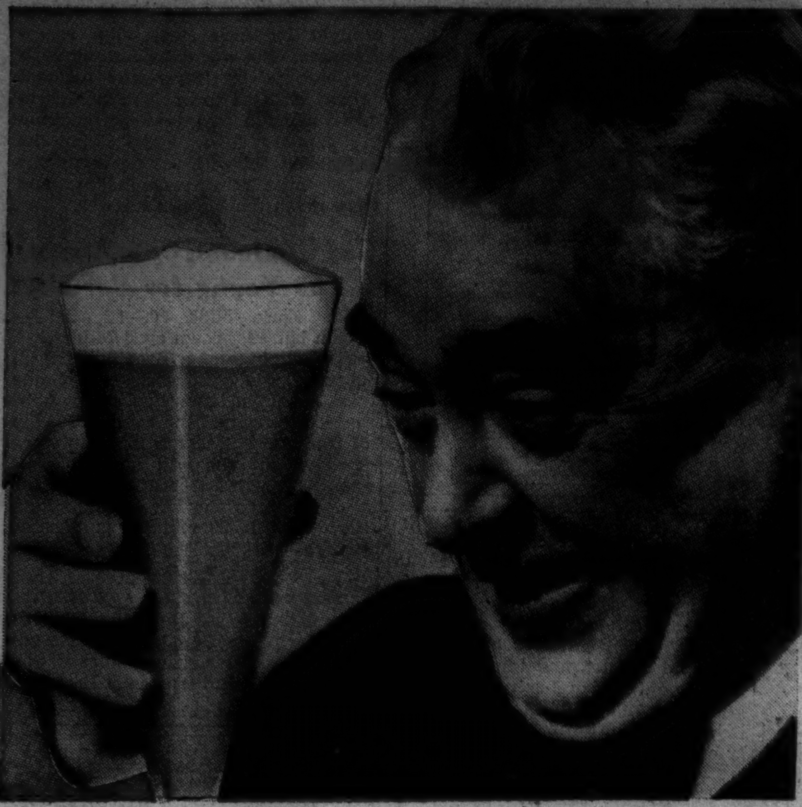
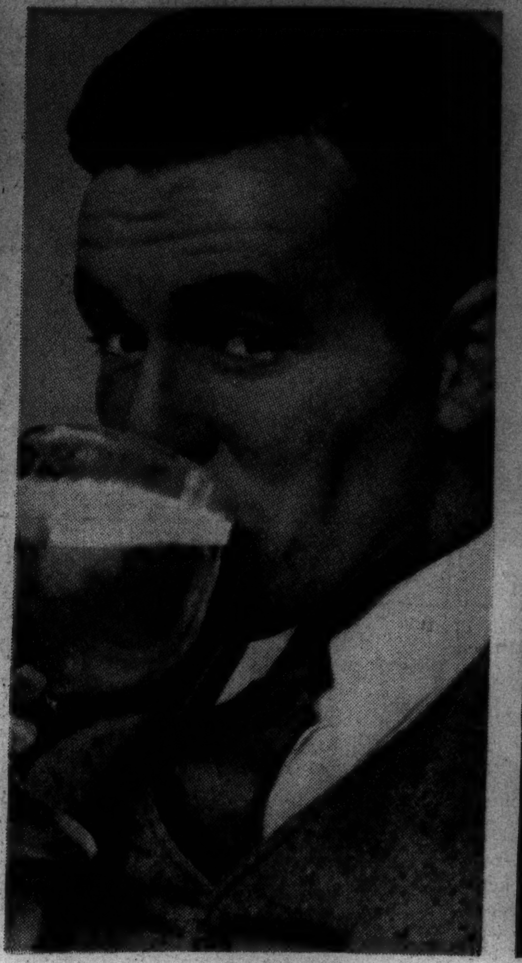
Thousands Find New Delight In Meister Bräu "Taste-and-Compare" Week



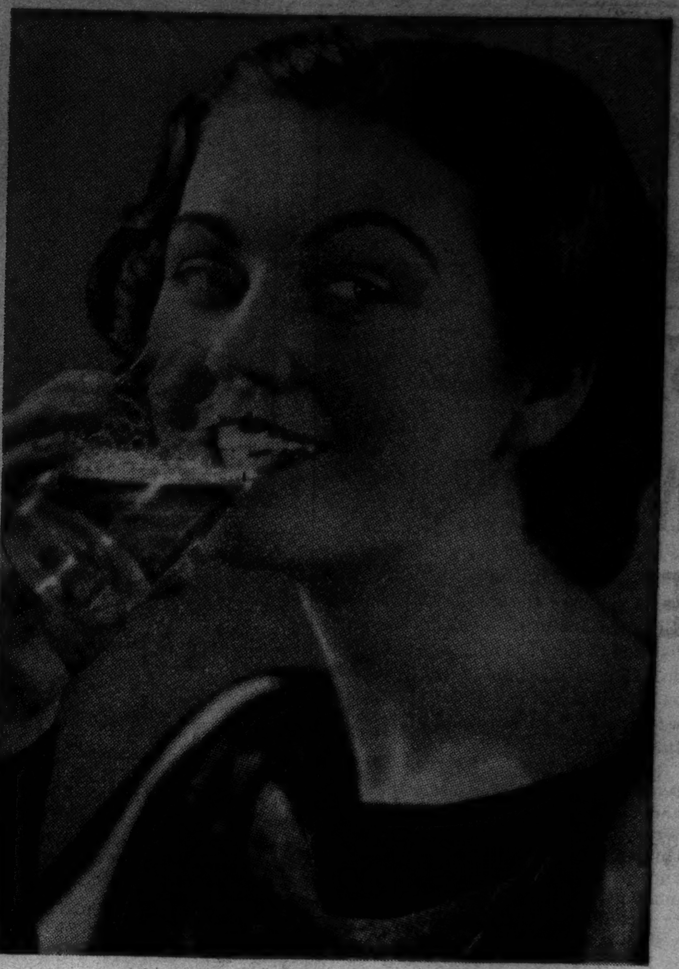
"I'm sure glad I tasted and compared—at last I've found a smooth beer with real body. No more thin, watery beer for me—I'll take MEISTER BRÄU every time."

"I was amazed to find a beer made in Chicago that's actually better than 50c imported beer. When friends drop in they'll always find MEISTER BRÄU in our refrigerator."

"I was born in Germany so I ought to know good beer. I can't stand a sweet beer. MEISTER BRÄU isn't sweet—and yet it isn't bitter—it's just right. It has foam and life like draft beer."



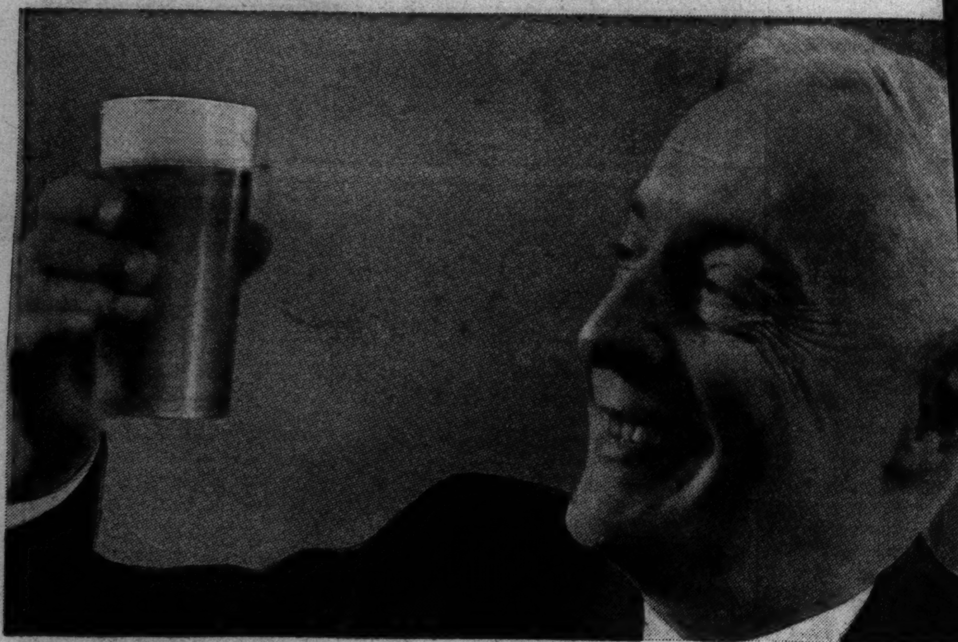
"I had been drinking an ordinary beer. Then I was asked to taste MEISTER BRÄU and compare the flavor. Boy—it's certainly tops for zest, flavor and sparkle!"



"I'm forever blowing bubbles—when I drink beer charged with artificial gas. My husband and I both prefer MEISTER BRÄU because it's charged with natural draft beer carbonation created in the beer itself."

"We Polish love good beer. That's why we drink so much MEISTER BRÄU—it has the true draft beer flavor like the brews of the old country."

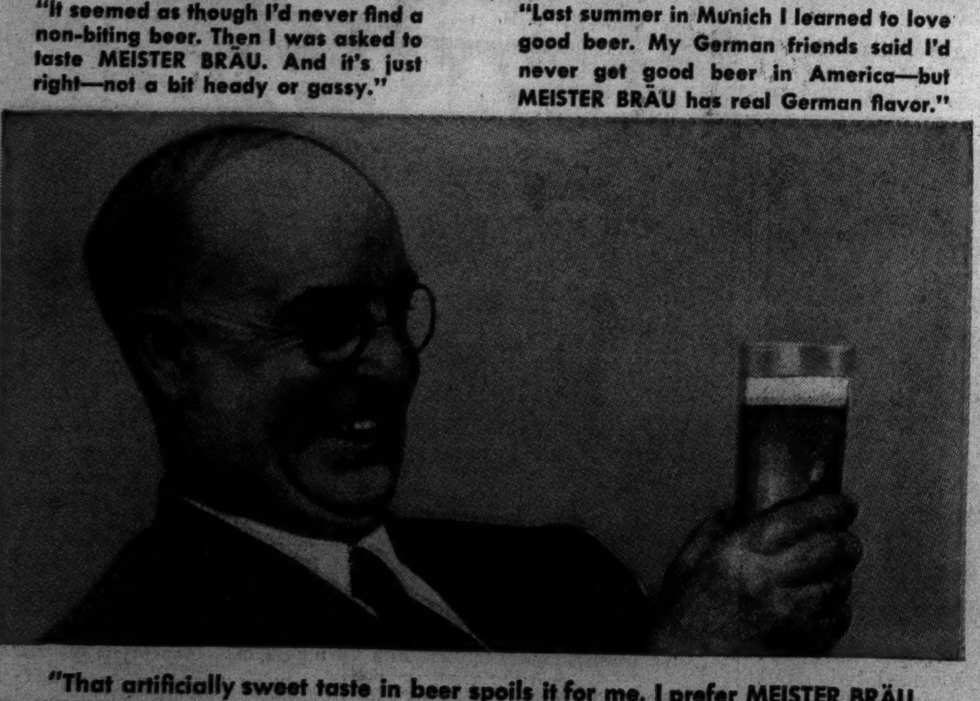
"A brewer I know says many beers are boiled and boiled to remove the chaff—but the Malt and Hops for MEISTER BRÄU are carefully cleaned. That way they don't boil the life out of the brew."



"Sure—I remember the beers of the old days and I'll say MEISTER BRÄU has all the old-time smoothness of beers made before the days of near-beer short-cuts."

"It seemed as though I'd never find a non-biting beer. Then I was asked to taste MEISTER BRÄU. And it's just right—not a bit heady or gassy."

"Last summer in Munich I learned to love good beer. My German friends said I'd never get good beer in America—but MEISTER BRÄU has real German flavor."



"That artificially sweet taste in beer spoils it for me. I prefer MEISTER BRÄU because they use no sugars or syrups in brewing. There's no trace of artificial sweetness in the flavor."

RICHARD SEIBOLD, MEISTER BRÄU Brewmaster since 1906, says:

"Please COMPARE the flavor of this old-time brew with the beer you have been drinking."

DRINK A BEER MADE THE OLD-TIME WAY by a Brewery that takes Time enough to achieve Perfection. . . . No sugars or syrups used in Brewing . . . charged with Natural Draft Beer Carbonation . . . non-biting . . . not "heady" or "gassy" . . . Now more people in this vicinity drink our Bottled Beer than any other.

● This week we invite all Chicago to "taste and compare." We ask you to compare the flavor of this old-time brew with the beer you are now drinking.

Those who remember the old-time brews recognize the best of old in MEISTER BRÄU. We make it the old, slow way as we've made it since 1891.

We cling to the finest premium Malt and Hops. We clean them like a food for your table. It takes many extra hours. But enables us to reduce the boiling time one-half. And keep the zest, flavor, and sparkle in the brew.

We could save lots of time by adding sugar or syrup in brewing. But that makes a sweet beer. The brew is bottled or canned with Natural Draft Beer Carbonation created in the beer itself. Like in Draft Beer. Hence MEISTER BRÄU in cans or bottles has the true draft beer flavor.

Please try this old-time beer made the slow, careful way that brings perfection. It's now the largest selling Bottled Beer in this vicinity. Order MEISTER BRÄU in cans or bottles. You'll be glad you found a bottled or canned beer made like draft beer.

SNEAD AND SHUTE LEAD OPEN GOLF WITH RECORD 69

FIVE IN TIE FOR SECOND PLACE, A STROKE BACK

3 Amateurs Shoot Subpar 70s.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Birmingham, Mich., June 10.—For ne bright half hour tonight 24 year ld Sam Snead held the lead at the nd of the first round of the 41st naional open golf championship tournament at the Oakland Hills Country club. An eagle three on the 537 ard 18th, as astounding as Samuel's wn career, had given him a 69, three nder par and a competitive record or the course under present conditions.

But Samuel's hour in the sun was ot to be his alone. Thirty minutes fter he had posted his card for a ne stroke lead on the regiment of 66 professionals and amateurs fighting for golf's No. 1 title, Denny Shute valked off the 18th with another 69, lone by the grace of a birdie at that ole.

Five Tied for Second.

Thus it is that Snead, the most ifted youngster to come to the big ime since Horton Smith, and Shute, he game's match play killer, will arch into tomorow's second 18 holes, eading two brother pros and three mateurs by a single stroke.

First of the amateurs is John Goodman of Omaha, who stole the show rom the pros by winning the 1933 pen. Playing with Snead, Goodman ut together a 70 to match the cards urned in by two other amateurs, ill Holt of Syracuse, N. Y., and rankie Strafaci of Brooklyn. The atter is the debonair 21 year old who won the 1935 national public links hampionship. Holt is the ingenious oung man who dwelt in a trailer pposite the 18th tee of the national amateur at Garden City, N. Y., last September and stayed long enough to each the final sixteen.

Frank Walsh, Chicago's leading ome bred pro, and Ed Dudley of Philadelphia, formed the other pair of 70s. They collaborated on the deed, since they were partners in the ixth twosome of the day. Tied at 71 were Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.; Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Fred Morrison of Anandale, Cal., all professionals.

Manero Shoots 76.

Back in the ruck of the 76s was Tony Manero of Salem, Mass., the dapper Italian who won last year's meet at Baltusrol with a blazing final round of 67 which led to an alltime record for the tournament. Harry Cooper of Chicago, the man from whom Manero snatched the title in 1936, contented himself with a par 72.

Twenty of the field of 141 professionals and 25 amateurs met the challenge of Oakland Hills' gnarled rough and tumble greens by either matching par or breaking it. Forty-nine of them shot 75 or better for the opening sortie of the battle, which will be concluded with a final 36 holes on Saturday. The low 60 scorers and ties at the end of tomorrow's play will become eligible for the struggle through the stretch.

Gallery of 7,000 Watches.

A gallery of 7,000, largest attendance in years to witness the first day's play in the open, deployed itself over the Oakland Hills acreage. Spectators looked for great golf, and once again the field gave it to them. Snead's 285 yard drive to the eight-

JURGES, GALAN LEAD CUBS IN 16 HIT TRIUMPH

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 10.—The Cubs this afternoon moved within a half game of the National league lead when they gave the Dodgers a sound spanking, 9 to 3.

Thus did the Cubs, in supporting Bill Lee in his sixth success of the season, register their eighth victory of the current road adventure during which they have suffered only two setbacks.

The Cubs today were just a little more vicious than necessary to accomplish their purpose. For instance, they made 16 hits, a great many more than they needed. Take Bill Jurges—he made four hits and got a walk in five trips to the plate. And Bill's roomie, Augie Galan—Augie made two singles and a homer. Jurges drove in the Cubs' second, third, and fifth runs. He scored their fourth and eighth markers, in the latter instance coming home on Galan's homer.

It's a Great Road Trip.

It's been a long time since the Cubs have had such a road trip. When they left home on the night of May 30 they were 3½ games behind the then leading Pirates and two games behind the Giants. Tonight they are two games ahead of the Pirates and a half game behind the leading Giants, who have lost 18 games, as have the Cubs. The Giants have won 29 and the Cubs 28.

The game was freshened up considerably by a shower which caused suspension of the proceedings at the end of the first inning, an uneventful session, except that Collins singled with two out, then got plucked while gazing at gathering storm clouds. Refreshed by the downpour, here's what the Cubs did on resumption of play:

Demaree doubled off the scoreboard and reached third while Hack was beating out a bunt. Hartnett sent a long fly to Brack, Demaree scoring. Marty doubled to left center, Hack stopping at third, after which Jurges lined a single to right, Hack and Marty scoring. Frankhouse replaced Eisenstat. Jurges moved up on Lee's sacrifice, took third on a wild pitch, and scored on Galan's single to right. Lavagetto tossed out Herman.

Dodgers Get Under Way.

Louis Takes Physical Exam; His Answers Are Perfect

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kenosha, Wis., June 10.—Exhibit A at a session of the Illinois Athletic commission at Lakefront Municipal stadium today was Joe Louis.

His well proportioned physique was examined by Commissioners Joe Triner and George Getz; the commission physician, Dr. Frank A. Lagorio, and some twenty other official observers who were here to find out whether or not the Brown Bomber is a fit physical specimen to be sent into the ring against the world's champion, James J. Braddock.

The verdict was unanimous.

Joe was sentenced to crawl into that ring and to do the best he can about the job of taking the title away from Mr. Braddock on the night of June 22.

He Weighs 199½ Pounds.

They found that Joe weighed 199½ pounds, that his legs resembled a couple of hickory sticks except there was more action in them, that his blood pressure was normal, and that his chin also appears to be in perfect trim.

During the boxing drill which followed the examination they watched that chin tested time and again by the right-handed punches Joe's partners were heaving at him. Still the rights landed numbered less than half the total that reached Joe's chin in his drill of last Tuesday afternoon.

Joe was wearing an iodine painted bump on his forehead the size of a half dollar while the examination was under way as a result of synchronizing his head with a beam in the top of his car in an accident here early last night. He wore a patch over the bruise while he engaged in six rounds of hard boxing later in the afternoon.

Not the Least Bit Excited.

The thing that startled Dr. Lagorio and the two commissioners was Joe's pulse, which was taken soon after he arrived from his villa six miles down the lake shore after a rather swift ride in from there in an automobile. It showed a reading of 67.

A guy that had been in an automobile accident the night before and who had just taken his first ride after that smashup should find his heart beating pretty swiftly, remarked one of the official observers. "But we had to make him dance around the room for three minutes to get the pulse up to 72. It just goes to prove again that Louis is one fellow who has absolutely no emotion or feeling and such a thing as fear or excitement simply isn't any part of him." The blood pressure count was 130.80.

Chairman Triner of the commission has watched the official physical examinations of fighters who have engaged in important fights for more than a half dozen years.

"I believe Louis today is the most

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Beach, Mich., June 10.—When Jim Braddock defends his heavyweight championship against Joe Louis at Comiskey park June 22 it may not be the most thrilling title contest in the history of pugilism. However, it is true that no heavyweights ever have been matched who were as taciturn and as sparing in use of the thousands of words Webster listed in his unabridged volume as are Louis and Braddock.

This is no criticism, as obviously there is no relation between garrulity and punching power, else Max Baer or Jack Sharkey still would be the greatest fighters in the world.

But interviewing either the champion or the challenger on any topic requiring any answer other than yes or no levies unbelievable effort and frequently is as productive as conversation with one of those Indians who once stood guard at the corner cigar shop.

Joe Louis probably established an all-time record for lucidity and brevity when he explained in a dressing room packed to the doors with perspiring reporters just come from Yankee stadium ring, where Max Schmeling had knocked out the Brown Bomber, the complete details of that bout. The newsmen, with pencil and paper, waited for the words which they would telegraph to the world. Louis, a disconsolate boy, who had met his first professional defeat, spoke.

"I got hit," Joe said, and in those words he gave comprehensive review of cause and effect which not only was adequate but entirely correct.

It always has been our belief that Louis' reputation as the strong, sphinxlike and unperturbed professional knockerout was due principally to the fact that, like the sphinx, he never said anything to confuse the printed picture of him as a coldly calculating, merciless fighter.

It may be that the Joe, who so far has been disappointing in his preparations for his most important fight, as subconsciously presenting in his lackadaisical drills an inner uncertainty concerning the outcome.

On the other hand, Braddock, by far the most reticent and unobtrusive champion in memory, definitly knows defeat. Indeed, Jim, whose

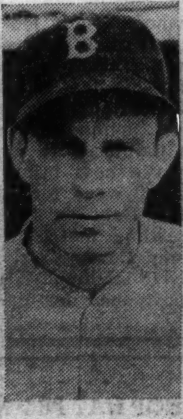
RED SOX TRADE TWO FERRELLS TO WASHINGTON

Boston, Mass., June 10.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators today appeared to strengthen their clubs, five days before the trading deadline by exchanging their managers' problem children in a deal that involved five players.

The Red Sox, in dire need of pitching strength, turned over the majors' only brother battery, Wes and Rick Ferrell, along with Outfielder Mel Almada, for Pitcher Buck Newsom and Outfielder Ben Chapman. General Manager Eddie Collins of the Red Sox said no cash was involved in the deal.



Rick Ferrell.

Wes Ferrell.

The Boston club regarded the acquisition of Newsom and Chapman as helpful and the Senators, who have been seeking a competent catcher for several seasons, were confident that Rick Ferrell would cure their outstanding weakness.

Neither of the pitchers involved in the deal, probably the most temperamental pair in baseball, can be depended upon to bolster either of those second division clubs.

Wes Ferrell, a 29 year old right hander, appears to have lost the control that earned him 20 victories against 15 defeats last season, and Newsom, also a right hander, who won 17 and lost 15 a year ago, has also had trouble getting started this year. He has beaten the Yankees, Tigers and Browns and has lost to the Athletics, White Sox, Tigers and Browns in that order.

By swapping these pitchers Managers Joe Cronin and Bucky Harris appear to be trading trouble for trouble. Wes Ferrell always has caused trouble and Newsom never has kept his desire to get away from Harris and Washington a secret.

Newsom's braggadocio also has been resented hereabouts, although the Red Sox fans admit that so far he has made good his boast that he would beat Lefty Grove, their southpaw ace, every time he started against him.

KENNEDY WILD; YANKS FOLLOW WALKS WITH HITS

Chicagoans Drop to Third Place.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The inevitable smashup of the White Sox winning streak came yesterday. It was officially terminated at ten, the world champion Yankees doing the wrecking by taking the final of the series, 10 to 3, before 16,000. At the same time the title holders booted the Sox out of a tie for first place, clear down to the third notch in the American league percentage column.

The Sox at least made a threat to continue their dizzy pace and run their winning string to eleven, but apparently went astray on a detour. They started off at a great rate by assaulting Irving [Bump] Hadley for six hits, good for three runs, in the first two innings. But suddenly, although not surprisingly, Vernon Kennedy became an ally instead of an enemy of the baseball monarchs. Kennedy began walking visitors and letting sound hits pop up in the wake of the passes and was out of employment in less than seven innings although allowing only five safeties.

Great for Three Innings.

For three innings Kennedy had the earmarks of a no-hit performer and thereafter was something different. His chronic weakness for wildness caused him to walk two in the fourth with a hit in between. These three became the tying runs on a double by Tom Henrich. A pass in the fifth along with an error by Zeke Bonura meant two runs. Kennedy surrendered another pair of passes in the seventh and three scored as the result of two subsequent hits. The two runs thereafter were frisked from Merritt [Sugar] Cain.

Only two of the Sox were able to furnish Hadley with any excitement after the first two innings. They were Rip Radcliff and Mike Kreevich. They coupled singles in the sixth and in the eighth Kreevich singled again to record the only hits in the last seven sessions. The same duo also was active at the start. Between

APPEALS COURT RULES AGAINST GARDEN'S PLEA

Upholds Decision Denying Writ to Halt Braddock.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10.—[Special.]—By a 2 to 1 decision the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals today rejected the plea of Madison Square Garden officials for an injunction to stop the heavyweight fight between James J. Braddock, the world champion, and Joe Louis scheduled on June 22 at Comiskey park, Chicago.

In its action the Appellate court affirmed a ruling of Federal Judge Guy L. Fake at Newark, N. J., on May 18. Braddock had been matched to meet Max Schmeling at the Long Island bowl, New York, on June 3, in a 15 round title bout under Garden auspices. The Garden had contended that the champion was bound by the contract to fight Schmeling before he met any one else for the title.

Void by Negative Clause.

Judges John Biggs Jr. and J. Whitaker Thompson, constituting the majority, held, however, that the contract was void because of its "negative clause."

They ruled that the original agreement with Braddock specified that he must meet an opponent under the auspices of the Garden corporation by Sept. 30, 1936. A fight was arranged with Schmeling, but it was postponed because Braddock contracted arthritis.

"It is the contention of the appellant that this negative covenant, despite the limitation of time referred to, is none the less carried over by necessary implication into the subsequent contract between Braddock and the Garden," the opinion stated.

"We cannot find this to be the case. Braddock cannot at this time compel the Garden to make use of his services as a boxer because obligations of the Garden to Braddock expired upon June 3, 1937, by the terms of his last contract of employment.

"Braddock's Hands Unclean."

"There is, therefore, no mutuality of remedy and therefore this court, even assuming the existence of a negative covenant, could not as a matter of law enjoin Braddock from engaging in the contest with Louis on June 22, 1937, or in any other boxing contest."

In a dissenting opinion Judge Joseph Huffington, senior member of the court, asserted that Braddock "comes into this court in a position of lawlessness and with unclean hands." He said the champion's action was "undermining and lessening the established good will of the Garden in destroying its ability to promote worthy sports and many contests by being seduced from the path of contract duty by sordid money."

In New York, Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, head of the Garden, declined to comment.

Can't Quote Fighter Who Won't Talk

popularity is soundly based on successful struggle against poverty and failure, also is liked for his disinclination to talk.

Occasionally Jim is cornered by an inquiring press which believes a champion's thoughts must be quoted verbatim. Jim was harried into senseless prediction at Max Baer's training camp in Speculator, N. Y., on the outcome of the Baer-Louis bout. In fact, Braddock's prediction that afternoon, after Baer had finished his workout, was ludicrous.

This Was a Poor Guess.

The boys insited Braddock pick a winner. After deliberation, Jim remarked Baer would win a 15 round decision. For Baer to have beaten Louis by decision, after Braddock already had proved the ineffectiveness of Baer's hooks as opposed to sharp straight jabs, was humorous, but the reporters promptly broadcast that prediction.

Braddock enjoys camp life at Pinewood inn where he and his associates are quartered. He is amenable to requests from photographers and reporters, but he still doesn't talk, unless forced into conversation. As a result, you may discount his alleged summaries of the impending bout and predictions concerning the outcome.

Last night Jim sat silent for more than an hour in a blackjack game, although invariably coming up with a dime on his down card. Barney Ross, welterweight champion of the world, became perpetual dealer, since he persisted in paying $1.50 for the deal each time your correspondent flopped an ace on top of a face card.

Jim Just Sits There.

In this time, while an argument raged over whether tie scores pay the dealer or not, an argument Eddie Long, eminent kibitzer, lost, Jimmy just sat and paid his dime, or received Barney's dime. Somewhere in the discussion Braddock, the champion, for whom all these gents have been gathered together, or came because of his presence, might have interposed a word. He didn't. That's Braddock, and no better description of this champion can be written.

Today Braddock jogged his five mile stint as usual. Later he played golf and, believe this if you can, he turned in a score of 46 for nine holes. That's golf on this sandy course. Tomorrow, Saturday, and Sunday Jim expects to reach fighting edge for the battle at Comiskey park.

Louis Receives a 'Perfect' in Physical Exam

perfect physical specimen that ever has fought in a ring in this country or in any other country for that matter," Triner said.

Mr. Triner also bragged quite a bit about the fine physical trim of Champion Braddock. "If that physical stuff counts so much, then this is going to be one of the greatest fights of all time," he continued.

But Joe Must Improve.

Despites Louis' splendid physical condition it was the consensus around the ringside at the end of his six round drill this afternoon that Joe must improve a lot more before he is the Louis of two years ago when he was knocking over one opponent after another.

His trainer, Jack Blackburn, disagreed with this general opinion. "He's doing just what I'm asking him to do," Blackburn said. During the three two round bouts Blackburn, at frequent intervals, beamed satisfied smiles at the Brown Bomber and once or twice cautioned Joe not to hit so hard.

Louis did appear to be putting much more punch in his wallops than in any previous workout for the Braddock battle. His opponents were George Williams of Chicago, Tiger Hairston of Wheeling, W. Va., and George Nicholson of Yonkers, N. Y.

Takes One Real Hard One.

Louis' only real concern came when Hairston landed a dandy right cross to Joe's chin. That wallop made Joe blink his eyes and shake his head a bit.

Except for the six rounds of boxing which were preceded by a round of shadow boxing, Joe's routine did not change today. He spent most of the time at his villa on the lake shore.

PHILLIES CHECK PIRATE RALLIES; WIN AGAIN, 5-4

Pound Swift, Bowman for Victory.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10.—(AP)—The Phillies made it two in a row over the slipping Pittsburgh Pirates today by pounding Bill Swift and Joe Bowman for a 5 to 4 victory.

Pittsburgh rallies in the eighth and ninth innings just missed tying the score as the Phillies caught the potential tying run off third base with one out in the ninth inning to save the victory for Bucky Walters.

Walters was pounded freely, but the Pirates were unable to do any hitting with men on the bases. Rookie Herschel Martin and Dolph Camilli hit home runs for the Phillies and Lloyd Waner for the Pirates. All of them came in the first inning.

Whitehead Will Greet Senators in Series Opener

John Henderson Whitehead, who has compiled a three game winning streak for the White Sox since his reinstatement, will be used against the Washington Senators today in the opener of a four game series. Monte Weaver will be the enemy pitcher.

Admirers of John Rigney, the River Forest youth with the Sox, will be on hand tomorrow to give him a few cheers as well as some tangible gifts. Because of the occasion Rigney will be permitted to start the game against the Senators.

Monte Pearson, one of the Yankees ailing pitchers, will rejoin the team tomorrow at St. Louis. Pearson was left in Detroit with a bum arm. Spurgeon Chandler, another of Joe McCarthy's pitching invalids, thinks he may be able to work shortly. He has shoulder misery.

Hartnett's Finger Injured.

Winsett opened the fourth with his second and the Dodgers' sixth hit. A foul tip from Lavagetto's bat loosened a nail on Hartnett's right index finger. O'Dea replaced Gabby.

Galan opened the seventh with the eleventh Cub hit. Herman attempted to sacrifice, but popped to Frankhouse, after which Galan stole second. Galan reached third and Collins first on Stripp's fumble. Demaree tapped to Frankhouse and Galan was trapped, Frankhouse to Bucher. Hack walked, filling the bases. O'Dea smashed a single through Frankhouse, Collins scoring. Frankhouse tossed out Marty.

Jurges opened the eighth with his fourth straight single, advanced on Lee's sacrifice, and scored ahead of Galan on Augie's No. 7 homer.

Baker was the Brooklyn pitcher at the start of the ninth. Demaree singled to left and Hack was hit by a pitched ball. O'Dea then beat out a bunt, filling the bases. Marty grounded out to Stripp, Demaree scoring. Jurges was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Lee flied to Manush and Galan then popped to English.

The Dodgers added two runs in the ninth on a double by Bucher and singles by Manush and English.

Yankees Halt Sox Winning Streak, 10-3

Score Only Two in First.

Although the Sox scored only two runs in the first inning, the pudgy Mr. Hadley had quite a busy time of it. Radcliff started the merriment with a single to center and Kreevich kept it going by singling to right. Walker tendered greetings to his former mates with a single to right, Radcliff scoring and Kreevich scurrying to third. Bonura slashed a single to center, Kreevich scoring. Walker went to third on Appling's fly to right. When Bonura stole second, Hayes was given an intentional pass after which Piet lined to Rolfe and Sewell flied to Powell.

The second inning netted the Sox two hits and a pair of passes, but the outcome was only one run. After Kennedy had been thrown out, Radcliff singled through short. Kreevich enjoyed the benefit of a single on a low fly which dropped between Lazzeri and Henrich. A pass to Walker loaded the bases. Bonura sent Henrich back to the wall for a healthy fly, Radcliff scoring and Kreevich moving to third after the catch. The bases were refilled when Appling walked, but Rolfe snared Hayes' grounder and stepped on third to end the inning.

Yankees Tie Score.

The only Yankee to reach base in the first three innings was Lazzeri, who walked in the third, but in the fourth Kennedy wasn't able to dodge the consequences of his wildness. He walked Rolfe with one out and Di Maggio singled to center for the first hit. Hayes tossed out Gehrig, but a pass to Dickey came next and the stage was ready for the entrance of the villain. It was Henrich, whose fly to left eluded Radcliff for a double, Rolfe, DiMaggio and Dickey galloping home to tie the score at three apiece.

Send Kennedy Away.

Kennedy started the fifth nicely by fanning Lazzeri, but finished the inning two runs in arrears. Hadley walked and Bonura committed an unpardonable offense. He let Crosetti's soft roller hop over his hands for an error. An instant later Rolfe doubled to left, Hadley scoring and Crosetti anchoring himself on third. Walker ran back to the scoreboard to get Di Maggio's fly, a drive which would have been a homer in most parks. Crosetti scored on the out. The inning ended with Gehrig tapping to Kennedy.

The Yankee seventh didn't start in the same way as it finished. Kennedy set down the first two men and promptly wilted. He walked Crosetti, who went to third on a wild pitch, and also walked Rolfe. Di Maggio whistled a two bagger along the left field line, the two runners scooting across the plate. Gehrig punctured the right center field territory with a single and Di Maggio scored. Kennedy departed, and Cain halted the uprising when Dickey lofted to Kreevich.

The Yanks picked up a cheap run off Cain in the eighth. Henrich led off with a single to center and, with one out, stole second. He continued to third when Sewell's throw sailed into center field. Lazzeri tapped to Cain, but the latter didn't capture the ball on his first reach and had to throw to Bonura. This gave Henrich time to score.

Cain got the Kennedy fever in the ninth and the champions grabbed off another bargain run. Crosetti walked and after two were out stole second. Gehrig walked, and on a single to right by Dickey, Crosetti went home.

STOP MORNING-AFTER before it STARTS

BEFORE YOU GO TO BED

Recent tests show that morning-after may be avoided by a very simple method. Before you go to bed, take a glass of Bromo-Seltzer.

AFTER YOU WAKE UP

After waking—to counteract effects of fatigue due to an extra-late bedtime and too little sleep—take another glass of Bromo-Seltzer.

It will REFRESH you, leave you more ALERT, more ready to snap into the job!

MOST MEN know that Bromo-Seltzer STOPS morning-after FASTER. But do you know that generally you can prevent this miserable feeling? Just take Bromo-Seltzer before you go to bed!

ALKALIZES

While you sleep, it soothes overexcited nerves. It increases your alkaline reserve—protects against the extra acidity caused by overindulgence.

How wonderful to wake up WITHOUT that miserable "hungover" feeling. Then, to relieve effects of fatigue, another Bromo-Seltzer! You're keener, more alert!

Bromo-Seltzer is far more than a pain reliever. That's why it helps you PREVENT as well as STOP morning-after headaches.

61ST CAVALRY BOOSTS SHOW JUMPING LEAD

Fort Leavenworth Squad Second.

New York's dashing 61st cavalry team jumped the hurdles in almost faultless fashion last night at Soldier's field to increase its lead in the military competition at Chicago's Charter Jubilee horse show.

The judges recorded only four faults in the pair jumping event—second phase of the military competition—against the New Yorkers, bringing their total for the meet so far to only eleven. The team consists of Lt. Vernon Biddle, Lt. John Morris, and Lt. Chase Donaldson.

Fort Leavenworth's team was only a half fault behind in last night's event, but 16 faults on Wednesday night brought their total to 20½. Fort Sheridan's team score was increased to 31 by eleven faults, only three less than that of the 124th Field Artillery.

The afternoon's perfomance was brought to an exciting climax when three troopers from the 14th cavalry at Fort Sheridan crashed their horses into a flaming arch while attempting a fire leap.

The horses stumbled and hurled the riders through the flames. The riders, all of whom escaped with slight burns, were Privates Wayne Covart, Joseph Sadauskus, and Charles Waser.

TWO MATCHES ON JUNE CARD FOR PUPPY OWNERS

Scottish Terriers Go on Parade Sunday.

All leading breeds—their cost, care and training—are described in Bob Becker's "The Dog Book"—96 pages, 72 illustrations. On sale at the Tribune Public Service Offices, 1 So. Dearborn St., and Tribune Tower. Price, 25c; by postpaid mail, 30c.

BY BOB BECKER.

Two outdoor puppy matches are on the schedule for Chicagoland dog fanciers this month. Now that warm weather makes it pleasant to be out of doors, the clubs sponsoring the matches are holding their competition in the open.

The Scottish Terrier Club of Chicago will hold its ninth match next Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kennicott on Milwaukee avenue between Glenview road and Lake avenue, northwest of Chicago. Dorothy Kennedy Klein, Elmhurst, will start judging at 1:30 p. m. This match is sanctioned by the American Kennel club. It is open to the public.

Any Owner May Enter.

Any purebred Scottish terrier between the ages of two months and one year is eligible. There will be an entry fee of 50 cents per puppy, and entries will be accepted at the match. Robert Blain, 7801 Jeffery avenue, is secretary of the club.

The next all-breed puppy match will be sponsored by the Midwest Puppy Match association June 27. It will be held on the lawn of the Suburban club on Ogden avenue, Hinsdale. The judging will start at 2:30 p. m. and entries will be accepted on the grounds until 2:15.

Dr. Noel S. Young, Lake Forest, will judge terriers; Alfred Mitchell, Libertyville, working and non-sporting dogs; and R. S. Holmes Jr., Bloomington, sporting dogs and hounds. A judge for the toy breeds has not yet been selected.

There will also be children's handling clases for boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 14. In this class the children will be judged for their ability to handle their own dogs. Nancy Rosenthal, the Highland Park high school girl who has successfully handled dogs in some of the biggest shows in the country, will be the judge.

Matches Are Popular.

Puppy matches have been growing in popularity all over the country, mainly because they are interesting and informative for both exhibitor and spectator. Here in Chicago both the amateur dog owner and the professional breeders have combined to make the all breed matches interesting to everybody.

We urge puppy owners who are anxious to learn something about showing dogs and acquiring sound knowledge of different breeds to show or attend one of these matches. Visitors will meet many dog authorities who will be glad to help a beginner in the game.

PICK $2,359 DAILY DOUBLE, BUT LOSE NERVE; SELL HALF

TORONTO, Canada, June 10.—(AP)—Baby Yack, Toronto bantamweight boxer, and his brother, David, coupled King Bob and Circulet in the daily double at Long Branch today but they didn't collect when the combination won and paid $2,359.25 for $2.

After King Bob had won the first race and paid $101.60 for $2 in the mutuels, the brothers lost confidence in the second half of their double and sold their ticket to Basil Wolfe of Toronto for $60. When Circulet, a $17.40 for $2 shot, won the second racc, Wolfe went to the cashier's window and collected one of the largest daily double payoffs in Canadian turf history. Only one other person combined the two winners. His name was not learned.

WAR MINSTREL WINS BY NOSE IN FIFTH RACE

Burning Star Beaten by New Denemark Horse.

War Minstrel of the Emil Denemark stable, a 3 year old son of Royal Minstrel-War Feathers, scored a victory by a nose over the Nash Brothers' Burning Star in the best offering on yesterday's card at Washington Park. In so doing War Minstrel kept alive the tradition that horses claimed by the Denemarks improve in their succeeding efforts.

War Minstrel was claimed on June 1 from Howard Oots for $2,500, when he raced to victory in a maiden race. On the occasion of his next start he ran third to Reaping Reward in the Yacht club purse after setting most of the pace. His second start for his new owners yesterday found him co-favorite with Burning Star in a four horse race that included Sir Midas and Calculator. But the battle all the way was between War Minstrel and Burning Star.

Track Drying Out.

One of the best week day crowds of the Washington Park meeting was on hand in the bright but chilly weather to see the races run over a muddy and drying out track.

When the start came in the fifth race, War Minstrel broke on top but soon gave way to the long striding Burning Star. The pair raced far in front of the others, and when the stretch was reached War Minstrel moved up on the outside to challenge the leader.

The Shandon Farm colt wouldn't give way, however, and they battled all down the stretch, noses apart. In the final strides War Minstrel got his nose in front.

Jocky Charley Kurtsinger's powerful ride was largely responsible for War Minstrel's success. He ran the mile in 1:39 1-5 and paid $6.60.

The early events on the card all went to well backed horses which ran to form in the muddy going. The track became stiffer with each race as the sun dried out the racing strip.

Daily Double Pays $37.

The daily double, accounted for by R. A. Firestone's juvenile Lenpola and the Shandon Farm's Sun Mica, paid $37. Lenpola conquered the Princess Pat eligible from the Bomar stable, Mighty Sweet, by a length with Clematis third. Lester Balaski was astride Lenpola. Sun Mica's victory was his second at Washington Park and third in a row as Bobby Dotter put on a strong finish to win by a head.

Montgomerys, Schmidts Win Softball Games

The Montgomery V-8s upset the Hoffmans, 9 to 3, last night in a Windy City Softball league game at St. Philip stadium. In the other league game the Schmidt Motors, Windy City champions, routed the Winklers, 13 to 7. The Windy City league resumes its schedule tonight at Champagne Velvet stadium with two league games and a preliminary.

BRILLIANT ROSE, badly outrun for three-quarters, moved up fast thereafter, took command with a rush when straightened out in the stretch and won easily. PEGGYS PEGGY, away fast, opened a big lead immediately, set the pace under a steady hold readily gave way to the winner, but was much the best of the others. ALICE BYRD slow to settle in her best stride, was put to strong pressure after about seven-eighth and made up some ground, but failed to menace the leaders.

Snead, Shute Lead National Open with 69

eenth and his following No. 4 wood to the green, which dropped the ball four feet from the pin, was the hit of the day's répertoire. Shute's ten footer for his tying birdie on the same green climaxed one of the most brilliant days on the carpets that Denny ever has enjoyed. Young Bob Stupple of Chicago's Skokie club supplied a thrill by holing a No. 4 iron second shot for an eagle at the 450 yard fourteenth.

They saw genial Al Watrous, the Oakland Hills pro, whom the folks were backing, take a seven on the first hole, with no thanks to a cross-bunker, which he had not visited in seven years. They saw Ky Laffoon, one of Chicago's main hopes, come to the par 3 ninth two under par, and leave the green a few minutes later with a six. They saw the giant Morrison hit his first drive an embarrassing 25 yards and still finish with a fine 71.

Snead, the Virginia born youth who has come through the tournament circuit with such a rush that he has accumulated more than $5,000 in prize money, has never taken a golf lesson, and what is more amazing, is playing in his first open championship tournament.

Shute Justifies Reputation.

Shute, who ten days ago won his second consecutive national professional title at Pittsburgh, has more than justified his reputation as the ablest match play practitioner in golf today. Those in doubt as to his medal play talents need only hark back to his victory in the British Open of 1933 and then cast a glance at his 69 of today.

Aside from Walsh, Cooper, and Guldahl the Chicago district qualifiers for the championship were headed by Stupple, who finished with a 73. He was followed by Laffoon, 74; Horton Smith of Oak Park, 74; Johnny Bulla of Woodridge, 74; Lawson Little, 75; Johnny Revolta of Evanston, 75; Tony Penna of Itasca, 76; Ted Payseur of Kildeer, 77; Neil Christian, 77; Tommy Armour of Medinah, 78; Byron Harcke of Rockford, 78; Harry Hampton of Jackson Park, 78; Jim Foulis of Ruth Lake, 79; Bill Kostelecky of Kildeer, 80; Gunnar Nelson of Rockford, 80; Bill Heinlein, 78, and Harry Adams, 81.

Snead began his round in no fashion befitting a course record. Going to the fifth, he was two over par, finding the rough and missing his recovery at the second. He escaped with a great five at the par four fourth, where he was in the rough and then a trap, finally holing a 25 foot putt. A three footer at the fifth, a midiron to the 491 yard eighth, and a 12 foot birdie putt at the ninth left him with a 35 at the turn.

He was short at the 11th and missed a four footer, but sank a 12 foot try at the 555 yard 12th. Five pars followed and the eagle which sent him to the front.

Loses Shot to Trap.

Shute yielded a shot to a trap at the short third, but dropped a 25 footer on the seventh. He chipped close enough for a birdie on the next hole. He sliced his tee shot at the tenth, but earned a grand par at the 413 yard eleventh. He was in the rough off the tee, but a spoon recovery left him short of the green, and after chipping within 15 feet, holed out. A 30 footer fell for a birdie at the 12th, after he had sliced his spoon second, and he smacked a 7 iron two feet from the 13th for a deuce.

The cards for the leaders follow:

Par—Out	453	444	453—36
Par—In	445	344	435—36—72
Sneed—Out	463	543	442—35
Snead—In	454	344	433—34—69
Shute—Out	454	444	343—35
Shute—In	544	244	434—34—69

Swedish Club Golf Title Won by Brignall

The South Side Swedish club played its ninth annual golf tournament over No. 1 course at Olympia Fields yesterday. Seventy-five prizes were awarded for about everything that could happen on a golf course.

Claude Brignall and E. J. Skoog waged a tight battle for the club championship vacated by Ben Stevenson, Brignall winning out on the first extra hole when Skoog got into a trap. Skoog was awarded second low gross.

R. E. Olin, with 85—6—79, won members' first low net and, with it, the President's cup, while E. L. Nelson, 86—6—80, captured the Stewart cup. Among the guests T. A. Smith, 41—41—82, and Ed Jacobson, 41—42—83, won first and second gross, while Russ Christenson took low net for the visitors with 85—5—80.

About 200 members and guests of the Radio Industrial Golf Club of Chicago played in the annual golf tournament yesterday at Calumet. An innovation was a prize for every one that played the 18 holes, and 158 qualified for the prize list.

W. J. Tewksbury, with 38—37—75, led the field in low gross. R. C. Coppen, 87—22—65, had the top position in the low net class. Fred Schultz, 39—41—80; E. C. Anderson, 41—41—82; P. S. Billings, 42—40—82; L. F. Muten, 41—43—84; F. A. Aylesworth, 42—42—84; Harry Nordendale, 43—42—85, and Sam Yates, 45—40—85, were other low gross shooters. The honest man of the field was R. G. Olson, who turned in a card of 61—82—143 for the 18 holes.

Texas Track Wants to Hold 'Swan Song' Racing Session

Houston, Tex., June 10.—(AP)—Epsom Downs' officials asked the state racing commission today for permission to hold a "swan song" meeting Aug. 28 to Sept. 25, the last available dates under the 90 day stay of execution granted by the legislature in killing legalized racing in Texas.

Rabbit Replaces Horse as Source of Pneumonia Serum

With laboratories now using rabbits instead of horses to produce pneumonia serum for medicinal use, the lowly domestic rabbit has assumed a new economic importance in recent weeks, said Arthur Weygandt, president of the Chicago branch of the American Rabbit and Cavy Breeders' association, at an association meeting last night at the Sherman hotel.

The association, which met to discuss plans for its show to be held in Chicago in November, heard further details of how domestic rabbits have increased in price since the research workers have begun to use the animals for the production of serum.

"Laboratories are buying rabbits all over the United States and are establishing their own hutches since it was discovered that serum from the animals can be obtained in five or six months whereas it may take sixteen months to get the serum from horses," said Weygandt.

"Prices are now as high as 40 cents per pound for rabbits weighing over ten pounds and breeders expect further advances with new demands for serum," Weygandt declared.

Breeders point out that this upturn in the rabbit business comes at a time when the whole industry is at a comparatively low ebb. The depression and attendant low prices for rabbit meat closed many rabbitries several years ago.

MOVE TO EXPAND BRITISH CLAIMS IN RICH ANTARCTIC

May Arouse Controversy Over U. S. Explorations.

LONDON, June 10.—(AP)—Great Britain took the first step today toward expanding her claims to territories of the south pole, a step that might involve dispute with American explorers' claims to vast territories in the icy region.

The imperial conference in a surprise move adopted a polar committee report to expand British sovereignty in the antarctic, rich in raw materials, especially coal.

(Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, of Virginia, who spent four years in the antarctic on two expeditions, said in Boston there was no reason for "controversy. The principal British exploration, he said, has been west of the land "we claimed in the name of the President of the United States and on which we hoisted the American flag."

(The American explorer said enough coal to "supply the world" was found in the antarctic, "coal that no one else has ever seen, but the British have enough in territory they have covered." He said it would be a long time before the coal would be utilized—after cheaper supplies run out. He said he acknowledged British claims west of the 150th meridian, where the chief British exploratory work was carried out in 1912. Congress has not acted to claim the territory mapped by Byrd.)

The report adopted by the imperial conference included recommendations for dealing with any territorial problems of the future. It was described by British sources as a "highly important document dealing with territorial rights," although sessions of the conference are closed.

Some confusion exists over antarctic claims by both British and American explorers. At least one other country—Norway—is involved.

Norway Claims a Part.

The polar committee report was said to have dealt fully with the last voyage of the royal research ship, Discovery II., now back in England after some two years in the antartic.

The American Explorer Lincoln Ellsworth in 1935 claimed 350,000 square miles of the region for the United States. The Australian legislature in 1933 laid claims to large areas about the pole, enacting them into law.

CONSTITUTION CITED IN 23D PLEA TO FREE FORGOTTEN WOMAN

The federal constitution's provision against cruel and unusual punishments was invoked yesterday in the 23d attempt to free Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeyer, 51 years old, who is known as the forgotten woman of the county jail. She has been held there since Jan. 5, 1934, for contempt of court in refusing to disclose the whereabouts of $32,000. She is accused of withholding that sum from an estate of which she was trustee. Her latest bid for freedom was a petition filed in Circuit court by Attorney Charles S. Harvey, charging that the contempt commitment violates the eighth amendment of the constitution. Judge Joseph Burke ordered a hearing on the petition next Thursday.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

Gobblers Sad; Moulting

June 10, 1937.

THE turkey gobblers, which did so much strutting and parading several weeks ago, no longer look like the vain old veterans with a "show-off" complex that attracted so much attention earlier in the season.

When we visited the farm this week we saw the gobblers on top of the smokehouse . . sitting dejectedly in the morning sun. [There were two on the smokehouse and one in the maple tree nearby.] All of them appeared to be feeling pretty low. A few weeks ago these same gobblers were the kings of the barnyard. They spent their days strutting, gobbling, and showing off their fine feathers.

The story behind this sad appearance of the gobblers is explained by Rawlings by the one word: moulting. The turkeys are growing new plumage so they do not feel very perky. The male birds are content to sit quietly these days and while they are sitting they certainly are anything but pictures of energy.

Squill Baits Kill Rats.

The rat that invaded the sheep barn never will kill any more little chicks. Rawlings got rid of this one by means of red squill baits which were made for him with slices of bread spread with lard. The rat had found a temporary refuge under two feeding racks. The bait was placed under these racks and in one hole which the animal had made. The morning after we saw this rat and had tried to shoot it Rawlings found it under the racks . . . a victim of the red squill which it had eaten during the night.

There was evidence of a rat or two around the poultry house a few weeks ago. A supply of red squill baits placed in holes underneath the poultry houses finished the rat trouble there. Rawlings reports no further signs of them.

The friendly little barn swallows which have their nests in the sheep barn on the Wheaton farm are facing quite a battle because sparrows also are nesting there. The farm families like to have the barn swallows on the place, so they're giving them a little help in their fight against the sparrows.

Swallows, Sparrows at War.

The sparrows seem to be trying to take over the nests of the swallows, but the plucky birds are holding their own and have kept the sparrows from taking possession. When we were there the other day one of the men had to go into the barn to chase some sparrows which were molesting the swallows. Then we found one sparrow nest which we pulled down. The next step calls for the use of a sparrow trap and an airgun to reduce the sparrow population.

The pheasants which are nesting on the Wheaton farm won't have to worry about food this summer. The boys have planted several varieties of bird seed plants in the experimental plots partly for their benefit, including sunflowers, hemps, broom corn millet, poppy seed, canary seed, and rape. Considering this menu both the pheasants and quail can enjoy a six or seven course dinner any time they want to fly into the plot. Last year there was a large stand of sunflower plants in one corner of the experimental plot.

Feast About 5 P. M.

The pheasants flew in for a meal every evening around five o'clock. Some of the plants may be harvested before the game birds get at them this season but we'll wager they get their share.

It won't be long now until farm workers and possibly visitors will want to pay a visit to the berry plots and vegetable gardens. These plots will have a real appetite appeal within a short time. We noticed the other day that some of the vegetables were about ready for table use, especially the radishes and lettuce. In the berry plots the blackberry and strawberry blossoms give promise of a good yield.

A LOFTY WAY TO MAKE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS SOUGHT

Carnival Lacks Class, Esthetes Hold.

BY THORNTON SMITH.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 10.—Milwaukee is looking for a high toned idea for a summer festival that will combine all the better features of the coronation, mardi gras, Portland's rose festival, and Monroe, Wisconsin's cheese day, and yet be distinctly peculiar to Milwaukee.

They have been having festivals on the lake front annually for the last three years and drew 900,000 attendance during the week last year, but these events, in the eyes of some critics, lacks class. They depended for attendance, as well as for revenue largely, on a commercial carnival company with its rides, slides, dime shows, and doll grabs.

The festival this year is set for July 17 to 24, and there has been a sharp division between the aesthetes, who want to make the Milwaukee festival an annual event of nationwide distinction, and the practical minds with an eye on the city's share of dimes that flow into the carnival cashiers' cages.

The Artistic Minded Win.

The division reached a climax today with a victory for the advocates of the refined, the beautiful, and the artistic. The Milwaukee Mid-Summer Festival commission, a quasi municipal organization, voted to throw out the carnival feature over the protests of Otto Hauser, secretary to Mayor Hoan, an always practical socialist, who told the committee that the motorcycle races left on the program are no more cultural than the carnival.

The county board this year offered to help finance the festival by contributing $15,725, but stipulated no carnival. The festival commission considered the amount, weighed the percentage expected from the carnival, and turned down the county's proposition. The no carnival crowd then put the heat on the commission, important sponsors withdrew, and there were complaints from one source and another, including some of the clergy, until the commission today decided to pass up the carnival. They now have the tin cup back to the county for the $15,725 they once turned down. The county probably will renew its offer tomorrow.

Local Attractions Stay.

The past festivals have contained certain attractive local features besides the carnival and these are still in. They include fireworks, a marine display in the harbor, and historical pageants, including an Indian village with genuine Wisconsin Indians, and an outdoor opera.

The critics feel that these are o. k. but don't quite fill the need. They want something with national advertising appeal that will bring folks to spend their money in Milwaukee in the summer like they now go to New Orleans in the spring. Assemblyman Robert E. Tehan has offered them the basic idea of stressing Milwaukee's justly famous pretty girls. Thought also turns to the products of Milwaukee's famous breweries as being entitled to consideration, but the concrete central idea has not yet jelled and the festival is only a little more than a month away. A good, sound idea right now would be welcomed.

HEAT IS BLAMED FOR FATAL DEPOT FIRE IN GERMANY

HALLE, Saxony, Germany, June 10.—(AP)—Unprecedented summer heat exploded acids in a freight car and started the fire which killed five persons, injured four, and destroyed a freight depot, fire department officials decided tonight. The fire, which started late last night, also destroyed 165 freight cars and 360 tons of goods.

Only the heroism of railway workers prevented a worse disaster. Realizing that some of the endangered cars were filled with tanks of liquid air that would have caused terrific explosions had the fire reached them, they shoved the cars out of danger with the flames at their backs.

Fire departments from 20 villages helped fight the fire, aided by reich labor detachments, Storm Troopers, and local factory hands. Halle is one of the most important rail centers in Germany.

[ADVERTISMENT]

"ALL-BRAN SAVED ME FROM A LIFETIME OF SUFFERING"

"I had suffered from constipation for three years. My condition was becoming really serious, when I read of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

"I bought a package. Within two weeks, my bowels were regular, and I began to enjoy living again. It has saved me from a lifetime of suffering."—Mrs. Lloyd Baird, 384 S. Bannock St., Denver, Colo.

Try ALL-BRAN yourself. It corrects the common type of constipation. Within the body, it absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Three times daily in severe cases. As a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes.

Isn't it better to eat this wholesome food than to take pills and drugs that may be harmful and often lose their effect? ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HALL OPPOSES BILLS TO EXTEND POWERS OF SEC

Investment Leader Warns Congress.

In his first official comment on the recently proposed additional powers for the Securities and Exchange commission Edward B. Hall, president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, last night urged congress to consider carefully before it approves the Lea and Barkley bills. There is danger, he said, of the SEC being regarded as "investment counselors to the nation."

Edward B. Hall.

Hall was the guest of the central states group of the association at a dinner in the Blackstone hotel, and it was on this occasion that he made his remarks. He also is president of Harris, Hall & Co., Chicago.

Sees Burdensome Expenses.

The bills to which he referred would give the SEC jurisdiction over reorganizations and trust indentures.

"These two bills would add burdensome expense to financing and to the working out of reorganizations, as well as to the government," Hall continued, "and I very much hope that congress will weigh carefully the costs and disadvantages of this legislation against the possible benefits.

"I know there have been abuses connected with reorganizations, but I have seen much good work done by bankers on committees at personal sacrifice and with no other motive than to protect their customers.

"The provisions of the securities acts indicate clearly that it is not desired that any government agency should be charged with the responsibility of acting as investment counselors to the nation."

Fears Public Will Be Misled.

Unfortunately, Hall asserted, the impression that government is undertaking to perform such duties seem to be rather widespread and it seems to him that assumption of responsibilities with respect to indentures and debt arrangements, and the making of reports on the effects of reorganization plans could not fail to make it even more difficult for the public clearly to understand the point.

"It would be cold comfort to the investor," Hall continued, "to make his purchases under strictly regulated marketing arrangements, with full disclosure and with the best possible provisions for honest and efficient representation by a trustee if the value of his investment were to be destroyed ultimately by unsound currency, destructive taxation, or the failure of state and nation to protect property rights."

Urges Refunding Public Debt.

To restore confidence in the future purchasing power of the dollar Hall advocated funding of the public debt into long term bonds and distribution of these bonds to the people and their savings institutions—not commercial banks. In that way, he pointed out, the national debt would be carried by the savings of the people and not by bank credit artificially created for the purpose.

He also urged that governmental expenditures be reduced and that the budget be balanced.

"No denial is made to the assertion that a serious depreciation of the currency would be a calamity far more serious than a stock market boom," Hall went on, "and would be especially unjust to conservative investors, savings bank depositors, holders of insurance policies and annuities, and to the millions of prospective beneficiaries of the government's social security program.

Ask Sound Monetary System.

"This country has the economic means to maintain a sound monetary system and I believe it has the good sense to do so. The fact that the question about the dollar's future buying power is asked so often shows that confidence in our money is not universal."

Others attending the dinner included Albert W. Harris, chairman of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, where Hall started his La Salle street career twenty-eight years ago; Roy C. Osgood and Frank M. Gordon, both of the First National Bank of Chicago and former presidents of the association, and Alden H. Little, executive vice president.

Also attending the meeting were the following officers of the central states group: Marcus L. Baxter of Nichols, Dickinson, Inc., chairman; Jay N. Whipple of Bacon, Whipple & Co., vice chairman, and Winthrop E. Sullivan of the First Boston corporation, secretary-treasurer.

Coal Men Plan Ways to Make Heating Easier

Some 3,000 coal men from all over the country at a meeting at the Palmer house yesterday went over the strategy they will use during the coming year to meet the competition to coal from other fuel and to compare notes as to the progress made during the coming year.

Officials of the American Retail Coal association disclosed that the principal instruments will be improved stokers, new preparations for doing away with coal dust and a new sales method.

A year or two ago the coal industry was described as being in a state of stagnation before it revived itself through the introduction of improvements catching the public eye.

Start Fight for Business.

Meeting here last year, members of the American Retail Coal association announced that they proposed no longer to wail about their luck but to go out and fight for business.

"We have just about solved the stoker and ash removal problem," said George I. Methe, president of the association, yesterday. "We now have practical stokers for all types of coal and we have ash removers which work satisfactorily for anthracite and Pocahontas coal. A man can have an ash remover that will carry ashes from his furnace to the alley, if he wants to pay for it. We have not yet obtained an ash remover that will work as well with the cheaper grades of Illinois and other western coal because this type of coal forms clinkers. However, it is only a question of time until we solve this.

Plan to Sell Heat.

"Our latest effort is a new way of selling coal. Instead of just selling coal we have devised a scheme whereby retail dealers will offer to sell heat to a householder at a predetermined figure for an entire year. Under this method, we propose either to sell the householder a stoker or to install one on a rental basis. The householder will pay so much a month and that is all he will have to do about his heat other than to set the thermostat for the temperature he wants.

"When the type of coal used makes possible the removal of ashes from the burner automatically, under the plan the retail dealer will see that the ashes are picked up from containers periodically. In the case of the cheaper grades of soft coal he will remove the clinkers as often as necessary. Under this system coal will be as automatic in the heating of a home as any other fuel."

Cites Larger Use of Coal.

F. W. Earnest Jr., president of Anthracite Industries, Inc., told the convention of the strides made in the east in increasing the use of anthracite coal through the use of automatic stokers. He said efforts in this direction are now being pushed in western cities.

E. Emmett Howe, vice president Appalachian Coals, Inc., Cincinnati, O., outlined the set up of marketing agencies under the Guffey-Vinson coal bill. Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner tonight. He will discuss "Fascism or Americanism."

BENDIX AVIATION TO EXPAND PLANT IN CALIFORNIA

As part of its program of expansion in southern California, the Bendix Aviation corporation has just taken a twenty year lease on a large hangar at the Burbank airport, near Los Angeles, from United Air Lines, Vincent Bendix, president, said last night. Another hangar at the airport is already controled by Bendix Aviation through Pacific Air Motors corporation, a subsidiary.

"We are enlarging our aircraft and automotive operations in California," Bendix said. "Both plant facilities and personnel are being expanded. In addition to the new hangar we have just taken an option on a large piece of vacant property adjoining Burbank airport for possible future expansion."

S. F. Dupree Jr., president of All Metal Universal Joint company, Cleveland, O., has been engaged to take charge of the Bendix automotive division in southern California, under the direction of Palmer Nichols, general supervisor of both the automotive and aircraft divisions, Bendix said.

FTC REPORTS TRUCK RACKET TO CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Racketeering and monopolistic practices in trucking of fruit and vegetables exists in New York and Chicago, the federal trade commission charged today. In a report to congress the commission said that evidence of law violations discovered by its investigators has been turned over to the department of justice.

"Monopolistic and racketeering practices in the carting of fruits and vegetables exists in several of the larger terminal markets," the report said. "In New York and Chicago, the truckers, with the assistance of the Teamsters' union, have obtained a monopoly of the commercial hauling of fruits and vegetables from the principal terminals by excluding all trucks not members of the truckers' associations or whose drivers do not belong to the local union."

Harley Clarke Has "Bad" Day in U. S. Courts

Harley L. Clarke, founder and former president of the Utilities Power and Light corporation, met three reversals yesterday in the federal courts as three separate actions were unfavorable to him. This served to complicate further the complex litigation arising from charges and counter charges between Clarke and the company since he lost control of it last year to Atlas corporation, New York investing company.

James L. Houghteling.

First of all, Utilities Power and Light filed an amended bill of complaint against Clarke, raising the amount which it asserts he "fraudulently" obtained from the company from $3,000,000 to "more than $5,000,000." The bill was filed by Attorneys William J. Froelich and Dwight H. Green on behalf of R. R. Monroe, executive vice president of the 400 million dollar utility company and chief executive officer since Clarke's removal.

Other Unfavorable Actions.

Other actions unfavorable to Clarke yesterday were: An opinion by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals upholding Judge Holly's appointment of a special investigator, James L. Houghteling, in the case, which was contested by Clarke; and a judgment for $29,000 against Clarke, entered by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward.

The latter case is not directly connected with the Utilities Power and Light situation. The judgment was entered in favor of M. M. Martin, trustee in bankruptcy of the Power Door company, which failed in 1931.

Martin charged that Clarke was the principal stockholder and owed the company $29,000 on a stock purchase contract. Under the contract Clarke was to purchase 940 shares of the company's stock for $91,000. Martin said he paid $62,000 on the contract.

Assigned to Wilkerson.

Yesterday's suit by the company against Clarke was assigned to Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, and replaced the original $3,000,000 suit. There is still pending in the state Circuit court here a libel suit for $100,000 brought by Clarke against Green based on charges in the first suit.

The bill filed yesterday asks for recovery of more than $5,000,000, appointment of a receiver for all of the defendant's real estate and personal property, and an injunction to restrain him from any sale or transfer of his assets, including "large and expensive" homes at Lake Geneva, Wis., and Evanston, Ill. The bill alleges that funds of the company were used in the construction of both homes.

Asserts Loans are Not Paid.

This bill also charges that Clarke, through his domination of the company and its 46 subsidiaries, caused the company to lend large sums of money to various persons and firms, and that these loans were not secured and not repaid.

It is also alleged that Clarke associated in many financial enterprises with Walter S. Hammons, president of W. S. Hammons & Co., a securities investment house, and also a director of Utilities Power and Light.

"A substantial portion of the banking business transacted by the plaintif and its subsidiary companies," the bill continues, "was done with the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company of Chicago and its predecessor companies of which one William T. Bruckner was a vice president. Said William T. Bruckner was an associate and personal friend of the defendant."

It is then alleged that Clarke, Hammons, and Bruckner executed a scheme whereby the three became sole voting trustees of a majority of the class B, or voting stock, of the company from 1925 to 1935.

Because of such domination over the affairs of the company, the allegd fraudulent activities on the part of Clarke, including the causing of false entries to be made on the books of the company, could not be detected until recently, the bill says.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING FOR FISCAL YEAR TOPS 7 BILLION DOLLARS

Washington, D. C., June 10.—(AP)—The treasury reported today that government spending this fiscal year has crossed the $7,000,000,000 mark. Between last July 1 and June 8, the report said, expenditures aggregated $7,000,121.468, or $253,300,289 more than the same period a year ago.

Emergency spending has tapered downward this year, standing at $2,665,814,281 in the July-June period, compared with $3,134,520,626 in the same period last year. This reduction, however, was more than offset by an increase in spending for general government purposes. These expenditures aggregated $4,334,307,186 this year, compared with $3,612,300,553 last year.

COST OF LIVING CLIMBS ANOTHER NOTCH IN MAY

The cost of living in May was 0.6 per cent higher than in April, 6 per cent higher than in May, 1936, and 23.8 per cent higher than in the spring of 1933, low point of the depression, the National Industrial Conference board reported yesterday. Living costs in May, this year, however, were still 10.3 per cent below May, 1929.

Food and rent, with advances of 1.1 per cent each, led the climb in the cost of living, the board said. Food in May, this year, was 11.7 per cent higher than in May, 1936, and 44.7 per cent above prices in the spring of 1933, but still 15.5 per cent below May, 1929.

Rent in May, this year, was 11.7 per cent above the corresponding 1936 month, 37.3 per cent above the levels prevailing at the beginning of 1934, low point of the depression, and and only 6.5 per cent below May, 1929.

Pennsylvania Pays Dividend of 50 Cents

Directors of the Pennsylvania railroad yesterday ordered the distribution of a dividend of 50 cents a share to stockholders, the first this year. The dividend will be paid July 22 to stockholders of record June 21. The disbursement will amount to $6,583,848.

The railroad does not maintain a regular dividend rate. In 1936 it paid $2 a share, half in February and half in December. The road announced that directors again will consider the payment of dividends later this year when the results of 1937 operations are more definitely known.

The company listed four factors of which the effect on profits is not yet ascertained. They were the excess crew laws enacted in various states in which the road operates, wage and rate problems, other legislation and taxation, and general business conditions.

Profit Estimate Higher

Estimates place net income of the Pennsylvania for the first four months of 1937 near $7,425,000, equal to 56 cents a share. This compares with $5,966,751, or 45 cents a share, in the first four months last year. April net income is estimated at about $2,275,000 against $3,873,697 last year.

An interim dividend of 75 cents a share was voted yesterday by directors of the American Brake Shoe and Foundry company, payable June 30 to stockholders of record June 21. Fifty cents a share was paid March 31. The company is a leading manufacturer of railroad equipment.

Aluminum Company of America authorized a payment of $2.25 a share on the preferred stock, to apply on accumulations which will be reduced to $6.75 by the present distribution. The dividend will be distributed July 1 to stockholders of record June 15.

Other Dividends Declared.

A dividend of $1.50, payable June 22 to stock of record June 15, was authorized by the American Potash and Chemical company. The last dividend was $1.25 in December.

Thompson Products, Inc., ordered a dividend of 50 cents a share, payable July 1, compared with 40 cents paid April 1. Stockholders of record June 21 will be entitled to the disbursement authorized yesterday.

An extra dividend of $2.50 and a regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 were voted by the Singer Manufacturing company. Similar payments were made three months ago.

General Capital corporation authorized a dividend of 40 cents, payable July 10, compared with 25 cents paid last quarter.

Dovenmuehle, Inc., Chicago mortgage company, announced the resumption of dividends on the common stock, voting $2 a share, payable July 1 to stock of record June 16.

PREDICT WHEAT CROP WELL OVER 800 MILLION BU.

GovernmentExperts Issue Estimate.

The United States will harvest a wheat crop ranging between 824 and 849 million bushels this year, crop statisticians of the department of agriculture predicted yesterday. Their guess is contingent on the prevalence of normal weather between June 1 and harvest time.

In the government's first estimate of the prospective crop this season it placed the winter wheat total at 648,587,000 bushels. It issued only a condition figure on spring wheat, but said this figure—68.7 per cent of normal—would range between 175 million and 200 million bushels.

The total of 849,000,000 bushels, if realized, would be the largest harvest the United States has had in six years.

Forecast Exceeds 1936 Crop.

In 1936 this country produced 519 million bushels of winter wheat, while the average for the preceding five years was 623 million bushels. Last year's spring wheat crop amounted to only 107 millions, against the five year average of 241 million bushels.

The government's winter wheat estimate compared closely with that issued by Chicago's private statisticians a week ago—649 million bushels. The closest private guess was that of James E. Bennett & Co., which placed the total at 648 million bushels. Highest were the figures of B. W. Snow and Nat C. Murray with 672 and 671 million bushels, respectively.

The average of the private estimates on spring wheat was 229 million bushels, which was sharply higher than the government's forecast of 175 to 200 million bushels.

Condition Estimates Compared.

The private statisticians figured the condition of the crop at 75.3 per cent of normal whereas the government figure was 68.7 per cent. Private experts guessed the winter wheat condition at 69.7 per cent, against the government's 71.5 per cent. A month ago the condition of winter wheat was 77.4 per cent, 66.7 a year ago and 73.9 for the 10 year average, 1923-'32. No estimate was made on spring wheat a month ago but at this time in 1936 the figure stood at 66.9 per cent, 85.2 per cent in 1935 and 82.7, the ten year average.

The June 1 condition of other crops [in per cent of normal] compared with June 1, last year, was estimated as follows:

Durum wheat, 77.4 and 60.8; other spring wheat, 67.4 and 69.9; oats, 82.3 and 74.5; barley, 79.7 and 75.3; tame hay, 78.4 and 75.2; pasture, 75.7 and 74.5; apples, 76.6 and 46.7; peaches, 65.7 and 51.3; pears, 68.3 and 65.1.

Estimate Stocks on Farms.

The government experts estimated grain stocks on farms on June 1 as follows: barley, 21,353,000 bushels, or 14.5 per cent of the 1936 crop, compared with 64,369,000 bushels in 1936, or 22.5 per cent of the 1935 harvest; rye, 4,595,000 bushels, or 18 per cent of the 1936 crop, compared with 15,290,000 bushels, or 27.2 per cent of the 1935 crop.

BANKS' LENDING RATES RISE FIRST TIME SINCE 1933

The federal reserve board disclosed yesterday that lending rates of banks to customers increased in April for the first time since 1933.

According to the reserve bulletin, the average loan rate in April was 2.53 per cent, against 2.50 per cent in March. In eight northern and eastern cities the rate was 3.36 per cent against 3.34 per cent, while in 27 southern and western cities it was 4.21 per cent, compared with 4.15 per cent.

For the last two years increases in certain sections have been offset by declines in other areas.

Price of Gold Rises, but Fails to Allay Fears

While the price of gold made a further recovery in the London market yesterday, dispatches from foreign market centers reflected a renewal of apprehension over the international monetary situation. The source of the uneasiness was believed to be the budgetary difficulties which the French government is experiencing.

French currency again declined in the foreign exchange market and the British pound also slipped after advancing most of the week.

The price of gold was fixed at $34.71 an ounce in London, or 2 cents above the preceding day's price. At the present level, however, shipments of metal to this country are still profitable, and a total of $9,445,000 was reported engaged in London for shipment to New York. An additional $427,000 was engaged in India for shipment to the United States.

Franc and Pound Lower.

The French franc and the British pound each lost a quarter cent in terms of American money in exchange dealings. The French unit closed at 4.44⅞ and the pound at $4.93½.

Uneasiness over gold was reflected in further questioning yesterday in the British house of commons of Sir John Simon, chancellor of exchequer. Simon told his questioners that the British equalization fund was being used to check undue fluctuations in the pound, but not for maintaining a fixed sterling value for gold. His remarks were cheered in the house.

Simon stated further that the question of British war debts to the United States must be taken into account, together with many other factors, in considering the proper relationship between the pound sterling and other currencies.

Dissension in France.

Meanwhile, in Paris conservative opponents of the popular front government of Premier Blum charged that the government is attempting to break away from the tri-power monetary agreement entered into last fall with Great Britain and the United States.

The accusation was made in the chamber of deputies during debate on the bill to give the cabinet power to raise and lower tarifs by decree.

Paul Reynaud, former minister of finance, said the government was seeking the tarif power in order to raise duties as protection for French industries against the effect of social reforms. This course, he asserted, nullified the benefits to workers of the increased wages, pensions, and other recent labor gains.

Sees Rise in Living Costs.

Reynaud said that prices have risen steadily since the devaluation which accompanied the tri-power monetary pact and that higher tarifs as proposed will add still further to the cost of living. Other deputies demanded that the government give full particulars on its intentions before the bill is passed.

About $1,900,000 gold was sold in the London bullion market yesterday. This is the smallest turnover in several days. The rush of hoarders to market gold for fear of an early price reduction appears to be over. Sales are being made in smaller lots.

MOVING PLANT TO AVOID UNION RULED UNFAIR

Washington, D. C., June 10.—(AP)—The national labor relations board declared today that removal of a plant from one community to another to avoid collective bargaining is an unfair labor practice. It ruled that the S & K Knee Pants Company, Inc., had followed this procedure—closing its two Lynchburg, Va., plants and arranging to open another in Culpeper, Va.—and ordered the company to give employment to its Lynchburg employés if it opened another plant in Culpeper or anywhere else. The order directed that the company pay the transportation expenses of employés and their families from Lynchburg to the new plant.

U. S. BUYS 177 BOMBER PLANES FOR $11,651,948

Largest Single Order Since World War.

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—The largest single order for military aircraft since the world war was awarded today by Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring when he signed a contract with the Douglas Aircraft company, Santa Monica, Cal., for 177 twin-engined bombers of the type known to the service as B-16.

The total sum involved was $11,651,948, a unit cost of slightly more than $65,800, which makes the bombers, next to the giant four-engined "Flying fortresses," the most expensive aircraft ever procured by the army air corps.

Today's contract also brings the number of military aircraft now on order by the air corps to approximately 902, of which about 75 per cent will be delivered during the calendar year. Nearly all of the new airplanes will be assigned to the general headquarters air force.

Other Planes Previously Ordered.

The Douglas company already had been awarded contracts for 133 bombers of a type similar to those called for in the contract signed today, making a total of 310 which that company will supply to the air corps. Other types now on order include trainers, pursuit, attack and observation planes as well as about a dozen others that are experimental and revolutionary in character.

Secretary Woodring pointed out today that the contract, added to the one previously made, would save the government considerable money because of the quantity.

While the speed of the new bombers was officially stated "in excess of 225 miles an hour," it is known that they will fly more than thirty miles an hour faster with a full military load. This places them in a class with the giant four-engined bombers that are believed to surpass any other military aircraft in the world.

Comments on High Speed.

"While capable of carrying a substantially larger useful load than the bombardment airplanes with which the general headquarters air force is now equipped, its efficiency is not thereby diminished and it attains a high speed, in excess of 225 miles per hour," Secretary Woodring said.

The bombers will be equipped with the latest type Wright "cyclone engines, whose horse power is being increased so rapidly that even the air corps engineers do not know whether they will be "stepped up" to 1,000 or more horse power before they are delivered to the builders of the new airplanes.

One of the most important factors in connection with today's contract was the apparent indication that high ranking officers are determined to "carry on" with procurement of flexible aircraft.

Give Theories on Aircraft.

Secretary Woodring, Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staf, and his general staf, have for some months reasoned that the larger the airplane the more flexible and invulnerable it is in flight. It is the theory of these officers that "protection" in the form of escort pursuit craft is not needed, because the machine guns of the bombers are sufficient protection.

If the mission of the bomber is a long distance offensive or defensive one, it has been shown in tests, the airplanes can land short of the destination and take on bombs and ammunition; if for a shorter distance they can carry machine guns and bombs, and also enough fuel to return to the "home base" after executing the mission.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—Light offerings in the closing hours of trading today wiped out many early stock advances ranging from fractions to 2 points and the close was mostly lower. A few steels and miscellaneous issues remained firm. Rails turned soft and utilities were barely changed.

Volume again was small, tapering off steadily as the late sell-off shaved the day's best prices. The turnover was 567,750 shares.

Although the financial district was still concerned over labor news, reports of the settlement of the Michigan Power strike difficulty contributed much to the list's general resistance.

Among the straws seized by observers of the market's action is the behavior of pivotal issues, such as United States Steel. The fact that the stock has been doing well in the face of much bearish influence is taken as an indication of a return of active investment accumulation.

Although Steel common came in for some pressure today which sent the issue fractionally lower and below par, other steel shares, particularly those of the independent mills currently in the throes of strikes, including Republic, Youngstown, and Inland, worked fractionally higher.

Aviation issues attracted considerable attention on news of record plane orders awarded by the government. Douglass, which received a $11,000,000 contract, moved in heavy volume and was 2 points higher at one time, but pressure toward the close sliced off a major part of the gain. Wright Aero jumped 9 points on much smaller volume.

Oils were mixed, with minus signs in the majority. Motors steadied somewhat after yesterday's decline. After showing gains up to 2 points rails eased.

Several preferred issues made sizeable gains in thin markets, including Panhandle, up 7 points; Hercules Powder, up 2; Continental Baking, up 2.

New York Bonds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 10.—Continued apathy toward the bond market on the part of most investors left traders today free to make appraisals of certain outstanding obligations affected by special situations, with the result that the market generally held within a narrow rut in exceedingly light trading.

The market for United States government bonds continued in the doldrums, trading at times coming to a virtual standstill. Prices were irregular, closing at gains of 1-32 to 5-32 of a point and declines of 1-32 to 4-32 of a point. The five hour turnover in treasury bonds was only $300,200.

Trading in the domestic corporate section was given over almost exclusively to speculative interest in individual groups. For instance, the outstanding bonds of New York Steam were again pressed down 1¾ to 2¾ points as a result of refusal of the public service commission to sanction the acquisition of the company by the Consolidated Edison system.

Convertible industrial loans, in sympathy with the inactivity in their respective stocks, held within exceptionally narrow price ranges.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks were mostly steady to lower yesterday in dull trading. Cities Service was the most active issue and closed unchanged at 3. Hupp Motor and Central and South West both rose ⅛. Armour was unchanged. Chicago Corporation declined ⅛. Lion Oil and Lynch Glass both set new 1937 high marks.

Commodities

World commodity prices were irregular yesterday. Cotton futures climbed back above 12 cents a pound, but weakness on the London metal exchange was reflected in New York quotations for export copper and zinc futures. Copper scrap smelters lowered their intake price to 11.75 cents a pound from the previous quotation of 12.25 cents as a result of large offerings of secondary metal.

Foreign buying in cotton caused early rallies but fluctuations were irregular late in the day and final prices were only 15 to 50 cents a bale above the previous close in New York and Chicago.

Export copper eased about ¼ cent a pound to 13.60 cents with some sales near the close reported around 13.66. The electrolytic price in London was an American equivalent of 13.65 cents. Domestic copper was steady at 14 cents a pound.

A steady cash market and reports of improving consumptive demand caused egg futures to advance ¼ cent a dozen on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. The butter market also was steady on reports that production in the United States during the last week continued under a year ago at 10,358,577 pounds.

May Steel Shipments Fall; Five Months Above Last Year

New York, June 10.—[Special.]—Shipments of finished steel products by the United States Steel corporation's operating subsidiaries during May totaled 1,304,039 tons, a decline of 39,605 tons from the April total. However, the May total was the largest for the month since 1929.

For the first five months of this year shipments aggregated 6,345,724 tons, a gain of 53 per cent over the corresponding period of 1936. The April shipments of United States Steel subsidiaries totaled 1,414,399 tons, a decline of 70,755 tons.

Break Down 1929 Figures.

The corporation for the first time broke down its 1929 figures to give results by months instead of only by quarters. These figures showed that May 1929 shipments totaled 1,539,738 tons, the largest total for any month in the corporation's records going back to 1901.

Based on present results it is indicated that earnings of the steel corporation for the quarter ended June 30 will show an increase over the earnings for the first quarter of this year, some quarters estimating that the June quarter profit may be about $3 a share on the common stock. Net profit in the first quarter was equal to $2.55 a share on the common after preferred dividend requirements.

Orders Hold Up Well.

The predictions for the second quarter are based on the fact that finished steel shipments have been holding up well. While the increased wages are now in effect, it is believed that favorable operating conditions, together with higher prices obtained from steel products, will offset this sufficiently to enable a good earnings showing.

In the second quarter of 1936 the company had a net profit of $12,862,423, equal to 75 cents a share on the common stock, while for the first six months of last year net profit was $16,238,727, equal to 41 cents a share.

I. C. C. CONSIDERS COURT TEST OF RAILROAD LAW

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—A court action against the Pittsburgh Coal company, which supplies the Youngstown, O., area with coal from Pennsylvania mines, was recommended today by Frank E. Mullen, examiner for the interstate commerce commission, for the purpose of ascertaining if the company's subsidiary railroads are violating the law. The roads involved are the Montour Railroad company, the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western, and the Youngstown and Suburban Railway company.

Under the commodities clause of the interstate commerce act, the application of which the examiner seeks to test, it is declared unlawful for any railroad to transport in interstate commerce any commodity except timber and timber products or products used by the railroad itself, produced or mined by it or by a subsidiary. In this case the producer is the parent company instead of the railroad, and the examiner seeks to test the application of the law under these circumstances.

DECENTRALIZED INDUSTRY URGED BY R. E. WOOD

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—R. E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., today told the joint house and senate committee on labor that the new wage and hour bill under consideration should be revised to prevent any "freezing" of industry in its present form.

In advocating decentralization of industry, he said, "If you 'freeze' industry so it has to stay in large cities it will be bad for the country as a whole. I believe thoroughly in the objectives of the bill. I have fears, however, from my experience in the national industrial recovery administration. If the plan breaks down it will be because of the administration of the board which is set up under the bill."

He advocated geographical wage differentials to make up for differences in productivity of workers in different sections of the country, but said these should be established by the proposed labor standards board, rather than written into the bill.

SALES OF STORES IN CHICAGO AREA ABOVE YEAR AGO

Department store sales in the Chicago federal reserve district during May were 10 per cent higher than those of May, 1936, according to a preliminary report made yesterday by the federal reserve board. Sales throughout the United States averaged 8 per cent above last year.

The Atlanta district showed the greatest gain with an increase of 14 per cent, with the Dallas district second at 13 per cent. Sales in the St. Louis district increased 11 per cent, and the Chicago, Cleveland, and San Francisco districts were each 10 per cent above 1936.

Sales for the first five months of this year were 16 per cent above 1936 in the Chicago district, and were increased 11 per cent in the country as a whole. The board's seasonally adjusted index of department store sales stood at 93, unchanged from April and March, compared with an index figure of 87 for May, 1936. The index is based on the 1923-1925 average as 100.

Tenny, business manager of the market, reported yesterday. May volume was 3,679 cars, 38 per cent above turnover in May, 1936, but 13 per cent below volume in April of this year.

Bank Calls.

Just as industrial organizations are subject to periodical audits, so are banks required to furnish statistics on their financial condition at various times during the year.

Inasmuch as they are subject to public supervision, the request for financial data comes from government officials in charge of banking. Such a request is termed a "call."

The controler of the currency of the United States issues the call for condition statements from national banks, and the state supervising authority issues the state bank call.

Three national bank calls are required each year, one of which must be made as of June 30 and the other as of Dec. 31. The third is discretionary. Frequently four national calls are made each year. The most common dates for the calls are March 31, June 30, Sept. 30, and Dec. 31. State bank calls are usually issued each three months.

COURT WEIGHS REFUNDING PLAN OF ROCK ISLAND

A proposal by trustees of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad for refunding $29,716,000 of equipment trust certificates in connection with its reorganization was taken under advisement yesterday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. He indicated that he will take early action.

E. M. Durham Jr., chief executive officer of the railroad, testified that efforts of the trustees to get a 3 per cent rate on the certificates had been unavailing and indicated that the best possible rate would be 3½ per cent. He said the proposal for acceleration in retirement of the certificates was necessary to make the refunding operation attractive. A maximum of $500,000 annually would be retired under the plan.

Philip R. Benson, chairman of the committee for the equipment trust certificates, testified that 73 per cent of the outstanding equipment trust certificates were represented by his committee and favored the refunding plan.

ASKS CURRENCY ISSUE AGAINST STERILIZED GOLD

Thomas' Bill Would Pay Bonds with New Money.

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—Legislation authorizing the issuance of new currency against the treasury's "sterilized" gold today was introduced by Senator Thomas [D., Okla.], an advocate of currency expansion. The bill gives the treasury power to use the currency to redeem bonds already issued to buy gold, the senator said.

Senator Thomas.

In explaining his measure to the senate, Thomas discussed the uncertainty over the maintenance of the present treasury price of $35 an ounce for gold. Fears of a change are ill founded, he contended, as "neither President Roosevelt nor any other official has the power to reduce the price below $35 an ounce.

Reflects Dollar's Gold Content.

The existing price for gold, he said, merely reflects the decrease in the dollar's theoretical gold content resulting from the President's 1934 devaluation order. Under existing legislation, he said, the President could vary the metal content of the dollar only between the limits of 50 and 60 per cent of its former value.

In supporting his proposal to issue new currency against accumulations of gold, Senator Thomas pointed out that the treasury had in recent months ceased issuance of certificates against the metal and that there was $800,000,000 of it without any obligation against it.

The bill, if approved by congress, would substitute the issuance of currency against the gold acquisition for the present method of issuing interest bearing bonds.

The senator said the treasury's hoard of gold and silver together totaled $13,432,311,985, or twice the amount of money in circulation.

Enactment of the legislation would place gold now in sterilization on the same basis as the treasury's silver holdings, Senator Thomas contended. The treasury has issued more than $700,000,000 of silver certificates in payment for silver acquired and to that extent has increased currency in circulation, stimulated prices, and benefited the American producers, he asserted.

Norris Also Has Plan.

Senator Norris [Ind., Neb.] said he would propose to Secretary Morgenthau that currency be issued against the treasury's $1,216,000,000 of unobligated gold. This money should be used to pay current government debts and help balance the budget next year, he said.

"The treasury ought to put its unused gold to work," he said. "It is a simple matter of currency expansion."

The $1,216,000,000 of unobligated gold consists of $800,000,000 in the "sterilization" fund, and other gold held in the treasury prior to establishment of that fund and against which no certificates have been issued.

Rural Electrification Loan Total for Year 46½ Million

Washington, D. C., June 10.—[Special.]—The Rural Electrification administration today closed its allotment books for the current fiscal year after earmarking $46,499,482 for specific rural electrification projects out of a total of $50,000,000 made available for loans this year under the terms of the act of 1936. Because a number of the states have not utilized their full quotas under the provision of the act which requires half of the loan funds to be reserved for states in proportion to the number of unelectrified farms the balance of the loans could not be made.

WHEAT SWINGS BACK AND FORTH ON CROP SCARES

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices of principal July deliveries in Chicago yesterday:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$1.10⅛	$1.09¾	$ .88⅛
Corn	1.14	1.17	.61½
Oats	.39⅝	.40¼	.28
Rye	.86⅝	.87½	.58⅛

Wheat prices moved lower at the start of trading in Chicago yesterday, then rallied sharply on reports of adverse weather conditions affecting growing crops, but sold off just before the close and finished practically unchanged. The July delivery was up a small fraction of a cent.

Further rains in the southwest, which are hampering harvest operations, and additional reports of black rust, some in the northwest, helped the early rally. But with the government due to issue a crop report after the close of trading, coupled with circulation of a message to Farroll Brothers which said that Van Dusen Harrington & Co., big northwest line elevator concern, had no authenticated reports of rust in North Dakota, selling became too heavy for the market to withstand.

Samples Show No Rust.

The Farroll message said that experts had examined samples of wheat from Hatton, N. D., where damage reports originated, and found they contained no rust.

"We do not believe," the message added, "that rust has ever appeared in North Dakota so early, and so far as we know none exists at this time. The weather is unfavorable for rust development."

However, reports of the rust infestation flooded the pit at times. Advice of damage by Chicago crop experts, particularly H. C. Donovan and R. O. Cromwell, who are touring the wheat belt, attracted particular attention. The blight is not expected to affect seriously the winter wheat crop, in which most of the rust has been found, but it usually spreads to the spring area through winds carrying the pollen and often causes serious damage. This was the case in 1935, when prospects were halved by harvest time.

Millers Buy on Decline.

Millers were reported to have been heavy buyers of wheat on the early decline, both in Chicago and Minneapolis. They are apparently becoming worried over future supplies because of the delayed winter wheat harvest and threats to the spring wheat crop.

It is yet too early for development of a real rust menace in the northwest and consequently reports were conflicting, a condition typical of the grain market during the season for crop scares. As a result the action was nervous, also a normal condition at this time of year. Volume of trading was fairly heavy but the market was not broad and prices were easily influenced.

July corn dropped approximately 3 cents a bushel and other deliveries eased fractions to more than a cent. Liquidation centered chiefly in the July contract, influenced in part by the arrival of an additional 350,000 bushels of Argentine corn and 50,000 bushels of South African grain.

Oats also suffered from liquidation, while rye was subjected to selling by local speculators. Commercial interests bought oat futures on the decline.

WHEELER URGES NEW SPOKESMAN FOR BUSINESS

Creation of a new national organization which would qualify as an authentic spokesman of business interests and bring its influence to bear in government affairs was proposed last night by Harry A. Wheeler, president of the Railway Business association, in an address at the annual dinner of the school of business of the University of Chicago.

Deploring the present "babel of voices" that add confusion to the great economic issues of the day, Wheeler asserted that there is need for a new organization that would speak not for special industries or localities, but which would constitute a truly representative national economic council.

Unanimous agreement on the economic interests of the country on particular issues is impossible, but unnecessary, Wheeler asserted. There are, however, many questions on which all business interests could reach fundamental agreement, he said.

Real Estate Want Advertising Up 47%

During the first five months of this year, the Tribune printed 40% more real estate want advertising than in the same period of 1936.

Today, as for almost a quarter of a century, the Tribune prints more real estate want advertising than any other Chicago newspaper.

SAFEWAY STORES CUTS FINANCING TO 15 MILLIONS

Drops Stock Offer Plan; Will Pay Bank Loans.

Safeway Stores, Inc., has reduced its proposed offering of 4 per cent debentures from $20,000,000 to $15,000,000 and has abandoned its plan to offer 92,397 shares of 5 per cent preferred stock, according to an amendment filed yesterday with the Securities and Exchange commission.

Proceeds from the sale of the debentures are to be used to pay off bank loans aggregating $10,000,000 and for general corporate purposes. Originally the company had planned to retire its 7 per cent preferred stock in addition to paying off the bank loans.

Two Stock Issues Offered.

Offering of 25,000 shares of $1.50 dividend cumulative convertible preferred stock, $20 par value, and 40,000 shares of $1 par value common stock of the Houston Oil Field Material company, was made yesterday by Robinson, Miller & Co., Inc., and Minsch, Monell & Co., Inc., both of New York, at $25 for the preferred shares and $9.75 for the common shares.

The state of New York will open bids June 22 on an issue of $40,000,000 of serial bonds, dated July 6, 1937, and maturing 1938 to 1962.

Bridge Bonds Awarded.

Graham, Parsons & Co., headed a banking group which was awarded a block of $1,980,000 Delaware river joint commission Philadelphia-Camden bridge 4¼ per cent bonds, dated Sept. 1, 1933, on a bid of 112.037.

Stockholders of the United Stores corporation at the adjourned annual meeting yesterday approved a reduction in the authorized common shares to 1,522,200 from 2,090,200.

A plan to clear up $26 a share of unpaid accumulations on the $8 preferred stock of the National Refining company and to lower the dividend rate through a recapitalization plan was rejected in the common pleas court in Cleveland.

PRICES OF HOGS RALLY DESPITE DECLINE IN PORK

Hog prices at the stock yards rallied yesterday on light receipts, despite continued weakness in fresh cuts of pork. Available supplies were slightly below the limited requirements of the trade.

The 5 to 10 cents rise in live costs made for an unsatisfactory cut-out value for packers and further restricted buying, but despite the lack of action there was a good clearance for all stock. Prices for the day averaged 5 cents higher at $11.10, and the extreme top at $11.60 showed 10 cents gain, equaling the best price since last Thursday.

Markets for all classes of cattle were firm yesterday, some kinds selling 10 to 15 cents higher. Demand again favored the cheaper grades of steers and yearlings that called for the least initial investment. No top grades were offered, the best available selling at $13.15, with the bulk of steers at $10 to $12.40. Beef cows, hefers, canners, cutters, bulls, and calves were steady to strong.

Investors' Guide

Stock Splits.

Investors' Guide: Kindly give me your opinion about splitting stock issues. The only benefit I can see is that it gives the lower priced shares a tendency to go up in price, but as far as equity is concerned it remains the same. I believe it increases the expenses where more shares are to be transferred and in other ways.—M. C.

Answer: The principal reason why companies split their stocks is to obtain a better market for the shares. With more shares out and their price lower, the tendency is to eliminate wide spreads between bid and asked prices. Often, although not always, a slight rise in price occurs—that is, the market value of two shares received may be slightly more than that of the one share they replaced in a 2 for 1 stock split. The equity of the shareholder remains the same.

Other reasons for stock splits include a desire to avoid excessive transfer taxes. A no par stock taxed on the same basis as a $100 par stock may be split into $5 par shares. This not only reduces transfer taxes, but may provide a paid in surplus out of which some laws permit dividends to be paid.

Any expense added in commissions because of the increased number of shares usually is just about offset by the fact that commissions are on a sliding scale depending on the market price of the shares.

Indianapolis Life Insurance.

Investors' Guide: Kindly advise if Indianapolis Life Insurance company is a first rate company.—C. S.

Answer: The Indianapolis Life Insurance company, formed in 1905, is a mutual organization controled by its policy holders. It is licensed to do business principally in the middle west.

Insurance in force amounted to $100,767,000 at the end of 1936, compared with $95,756,000 a year earlier. Insurance written last year totaled $13,434,000, compared with $12,809,000 in 1935. Income has exceeded disbursements by a comfortable margin, last year's figures being $4,328,000 and $2,777,000 respectively.

Admitted assets increased during 1936 from $17,203,000 to $18,649,000, the largest total in the company's history.

Cash yield on assets as a whole was 3.8 per cent in 1935 and 3.5 per cent in 1936, reflecting low interest rates. Expenses are low and other operating figures are favorable. Results achieved are above the average, and the company has considerable margin for contingencies.

IMPORTS OF GOLD IN WEEK AMOUNT TO 97 MILLIONS

Imports of monetary gold in the week ended Wednesday amounted to 97 million dollars, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. The import total was one of the largest for any week this year.

The additional metal lifted the total monetary stocks of gold to another peak of 12 billion 118 million dollars.

The statement disclosed a resumption of the expansion in bank reserves which were 70 millions larger than at the end of the preceding week. A contraction of money in circulation as funds disbursed on the first of the month returned to the banks was largely responsible for the increase.

Commercial bank credit in New York was in heavier demand and an increase of 23 millions was reported. Loans to brokers and security dealers increased 28 millions.

Chicago banks reported virtually no change in the total volume of commercial credit outstanding. Bank holdings of government bonds here fell 26 millions as compared with an increase of 2 millions reported in New York.

MEN.

Let me set you up in a profitable business of your own, backed by a national institution with powerful resources.

During the past 3 weeks I have set a number of men up in business for themselves in Chicago and still have a few opportunities left.

If on a personal interview you can satisfy me that you are honest, reliable, and trustworthy and really have a desire to succeed, willing to study and are teachable, you may be the very man I am looking for.

Our business is very profitable. Many of our associates earn as much as $50 in a single day and after they become experienced handling our business receive a sizable monthly income not regulated by seasons, as ours is a year around business.

Selling experience not necessary as, if you are selected, you are thoroughly trained at no expense to you. Some of our most successful associates never sold anything before joining us. We stand all expenses of business, training you completely in our system, and in addition to giving you merchandise on open account, paying large commission on our electrical unit, carry all your time payment paper. You do not invest one cent with us. We finance everything. Our business is depression proof, as same has increased constantly throughout the past eight years.

With 1937 our biggest year, we have thousands of satisfied customers in this territory and are considered one of the country's outstanding organizations. There are no strings connected with this offer and if you can meet the above requirements you will be granted a personal confidential interview which will quickly determine our mutual interests. Tear Gas and Citizen Policemen Break C. I. O. Picket Line at Monroe, Mich.—Nonstrikers Return to Jobs

Hunt Missing New York Woman

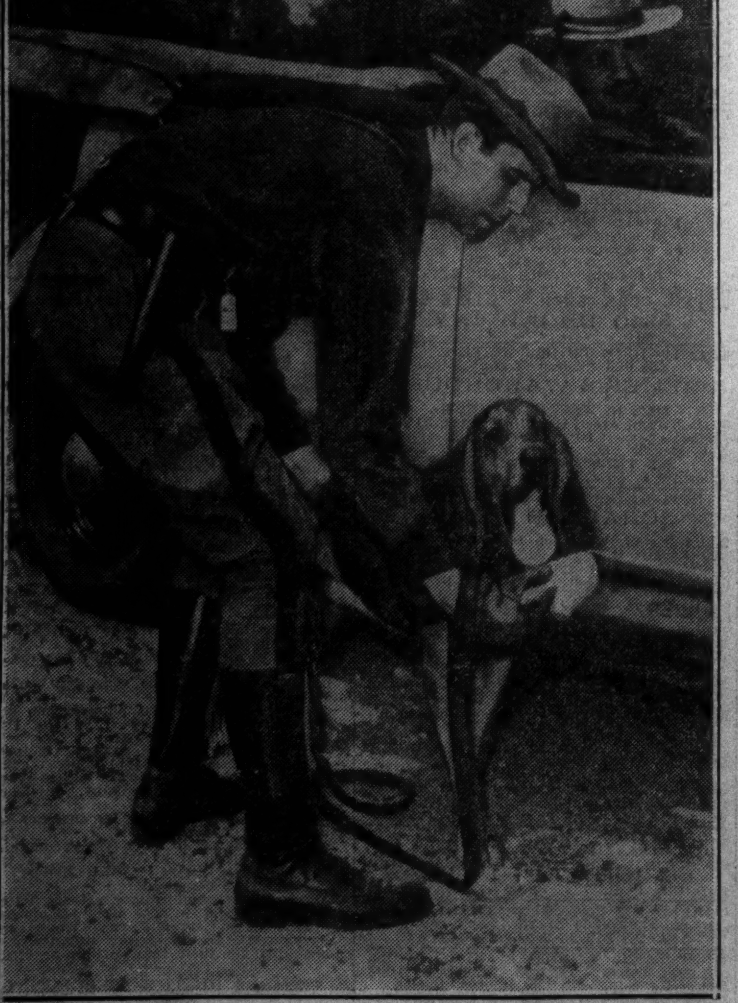
Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, who was missing yesterday from her Long Island estate. Her husband, William H. Parsons Jr., was reported ready to negotiate with the authors of a note which demanded $25,000 ransom. Mrs. Parsons left her home Wednesday with a mysterious couple in an automobile.

The Parsons estate near Stony Brook as it appeared from the air yesterday while search for missing woman was being pressed by police and government agents. At lower right are chicken houses. The nature of the ransom note led police to suspect the abductor may be someone acquainted with the family.

Mme. Anna Kupryanova, household manager and companion of Mrs. Parsons, one of the last persons to see her. She is the daughter of a Russian nobleman.

Mrs. Richardson Pratt of New York, sister-in-law of the missing woman, went to Stony Brook to join authorities seeking Mrs. Parsons.

[Associated Press Wirephotos.]



All other clews apparently failing, state police started bloodhounds on the trail of Mrs. Parsons. Trooper Raymond McCoy is using a garment of the missing woman to give the dog a scent. Authorities of many surrounding states were joining in the search last night.

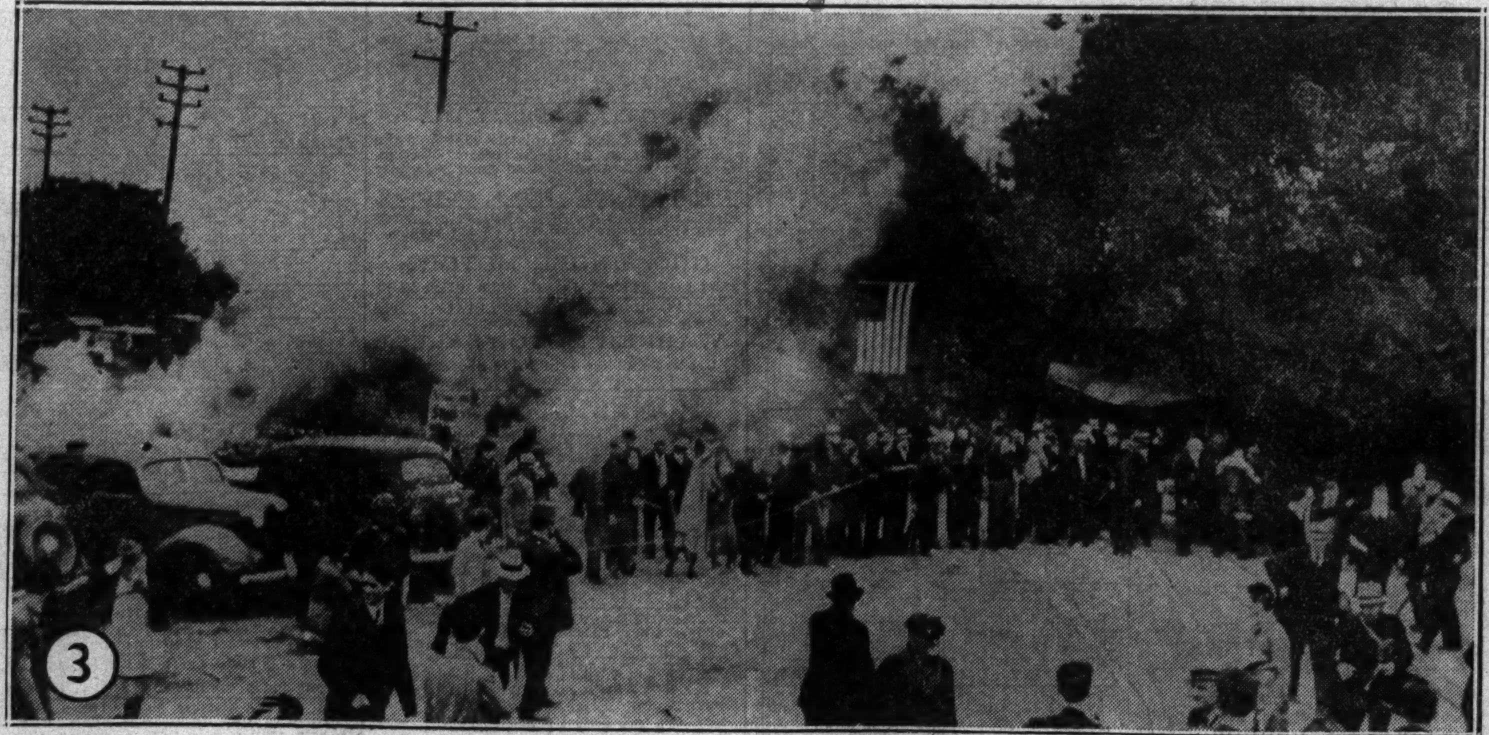
DEFIANT STRIKERS BRANDISH CLUBS AS THEY REFUSE OFFERS OF PEACE—These C. I. O. strikers on picket duty at Newton Steel company plant in Monroe, Mich., refused to allow 800 nonstriking workmen to enter the factory yesterday. As they waved their clubs in defiance, Police Chief Jesse Fisher waved his forces forward. The opposing forces were evenly matched, each numbering about 200. (Story on page 1.)

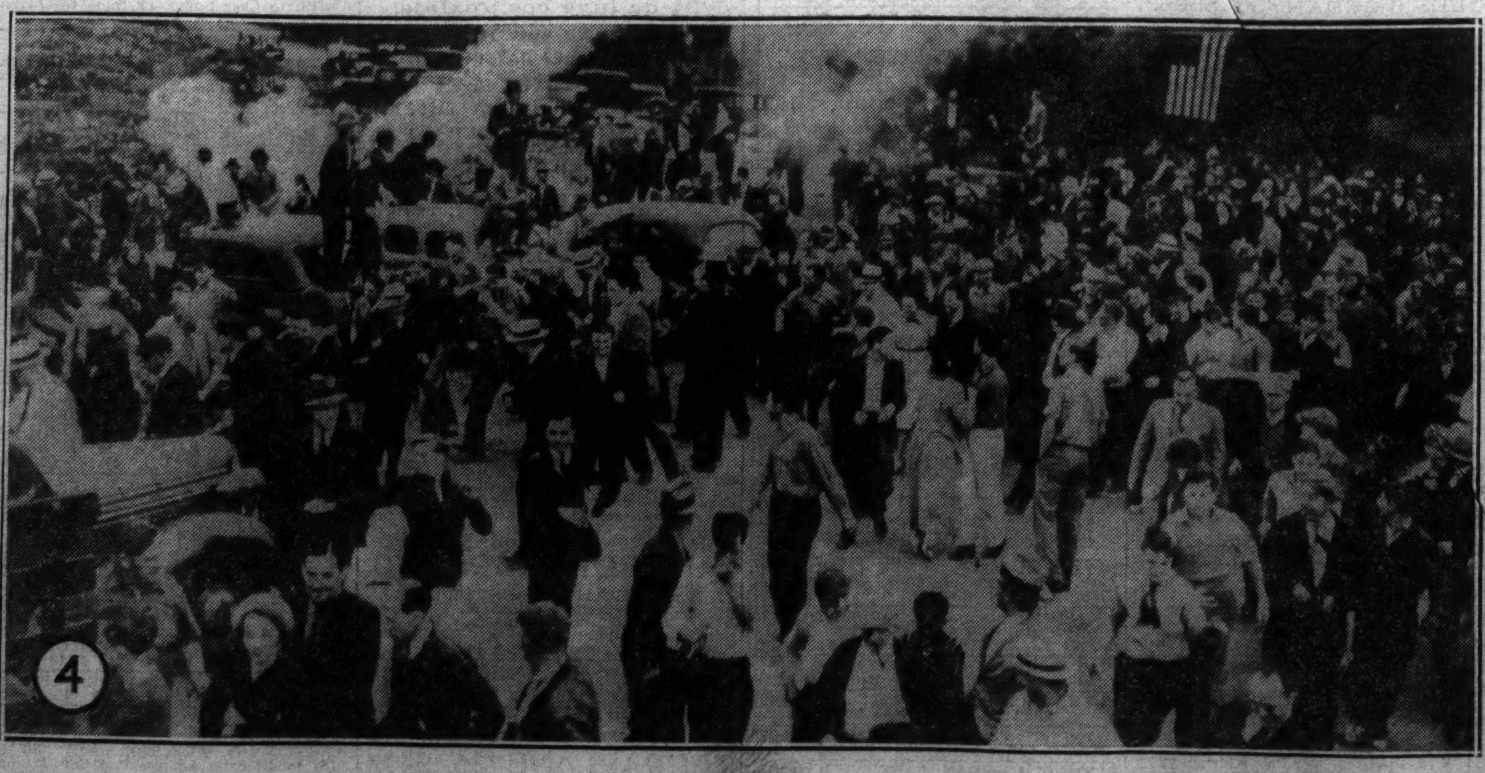
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

DEPUTIZED CITIZENS AND POLICE OPEN GAS ATTACK—Some of the 200 policemen laying down gas barrage against the C. I. O. pickets at the plant, a subsidiary of Republic Steel. A dozen vigilantes also hurled gas bombs at the strikers. More than 1,000 spectators watched the fighting. It had been announced that 782 of the plant's 1,300 workers had voted recently to return to their jobs, only 32 balloting to strike.



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

PICKET LINE WAVERS AS POLICE START SURPRISE ATTACK FROM THE REAR—Seventy-five policemen who had lain in hiding around a curve in the highway moved in on the Monroe, Mich., strikers, firing gas, which may be seen rising at the left. The strikers had kept behind the rope. Squeezed between the two forces, the pickets fought for a few moments before retreating.



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

STRIKERS RETREAT—Mixing with some of the onlookers, who also suffered from the tear gas, the C. I. O. forces hurried off. As the special police moved in, 40 strike sympathizers who had stood in the crowd, opened fire with tear gas. They were soon dispersed, however, and the 800 employes were escorted into the plant to resume work stopped by the start of the strike on May 26. (Story on page 1.)

A Bathing Demonstration in Court

Attorney Timothy Hurley as he lay on the floor in the court of Judge Lindsay yesterday "re-enacting" the bathing episode for which he was arrested in Evanston. He sought $25,000 from Attorney Lynn Williams and three policemen, but was awarded only $100 from the policemen.

Attorney Hurley as he told the jury about the humiliation he suffered. (Story on page 1.)

Attorney Williams in court. The jury decided he did not have to pay the $25,000 demanded by Hurley.

Reveals Rockefeller Heir Kidnap Hoax

The two guns which Attorney Prentice carried in his automobile. He told police he carried them for protection and that he had been bothered several times since the death of his grandfather by persons who thought he had inherited large sums of money. [TRIBUNE Photos.]
